COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1956. No. 158.

SENATE

THURSDAY, March 22, 1956.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Henry J. Propert) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. In the absence of the President of the Senate, the President pro tempore has asked me to preside.

PRAYER

Honorable FRANK W. RUTH, a Member of the Senate from Berks County, offered the following prayer:

Our Dear Heavenly Father, again we come to Thee and we pray that Thy wisdom will guide us in our service today.

As we return to our homes for this week, may Thou accompany us on the way and give us the strength and the courage to go into this new week which is going to come to us and to realize that the week of our Lord is the week that has given us the great satisfaction of knowing that when this journey is finished here and we come to the last milepost, Thou wilt be waiting to accompany us through the valley of the shadow into that promise which Thou hast made to Thy people. We ask it in Jesus' Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the Preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. MALLERY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. MILLER, due to illness.

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "Vehicle Code," prohibiting the throwing of certain material from motor vehicles.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

HONORABLE A. EVANS KEPHART WELCOMED TO SENATE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I notice in our midst a former Senator from the great City of Brotherly Love, Philadelphia. As a Republican, he was probably one of the last of the Mohicans from that city. He is also known as "Careless Love Kephart." I would like to have the Chair welcome him back to the Senate Chamber.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair certainly extends the greetings of both Republicans and Democrats alike to Senator KEPHART.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 69 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Concurrent Resolution No. 69, Printer's No. 410.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

JOINT COMMITTEE TO MAKE A STUDY OF ALL TAXES FACED BY SMALL BUSINESSES

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1955.

The opportunity which our Nation offers for a person to freely engage in a small business enterprise is one of our most important beckoning features to those on foreign shores. It is a feature of our society of which we are justly proud, for small businesses have been highly important in the establishment and development of our Nation.

Mergers, consolidations and other jointures have in recent years produced business giants, capable of doing greater volumes of business at far less expense, and as a result thereof, small businesses are badly in need of assistance. Because of the importance of small businesses to our economy and general welfare, it is our duty to insure their survival.

An equitable share of the Commonwealth's business and contracts should be allotted among our small businesses as often as possible. The establishment of a loan procedure should also be considered to encourage the establishment of new businesses and the continuance of existing small businesses. There is also a possibility that the present rates of taxation imposed upon our small businesses are too great; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House, and the Governor appoint five men from small businesses who together shall constitute a committee to make a thorough study of the taxes and other problems faced by small businesses within our Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation to this Session of the General Assembly within thirty days.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 69 ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE BILL No. 949 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Bill No. 949, Printer's No. 1401, entitled:

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE BILL No. 1863 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Bill No. 1863, Printer's No. 1449, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "Vehicle Code," further regulating lighting equipment, lights and devices, and the use thereof; and prescribing penalties.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 1863

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House to the foregoing bill.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON HOUSE BILL No. 1361

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs. STEVENSON, KOPRIVER, JR., and LANE as a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to House Bill No. 1361.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of the bill reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1057, entitled:

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

HONORABLE A. EVANS KEPHART INVITED TO ROSTRUM

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would like to take advantage of this opportunity to call to the rostrum a former Member of this Senate and one who I understand has been enjoying a very fine vacation. The Chair takes pleasure in calling to the rostrum Senator Kephart.

REMARKS BY HONORABLE A. EVANS KEPHART

Mr. Kephart. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am very happy to be back here again with you. I do not see how I was able to stay away so long. This is the first time I have been in Harrisburg for a year and a half. That is the reason why I have not been up here before.

However, I have been spreading the glories of the Pennsylvania Senate as far south as Florida, where they were permitted to hear a rendition of that famous song which was made famous in this Chamber in about 1941.

Let me tell you that the three per cent sales tax which they slap on you down in Florida is—well, we are right in line with them now. No one from Pennsylvania has anything to kick about when they go to Florida. They either pay it here or they pay it down there.

I say again that I am happy to be here with you. I am happy in a way, and sorry in another way, that I am not back here as a regular Member. I think that you probably have had a pretty hard grind during this last Session, this being the longest Session in history. For that reason, I am rather happy that I did not come back to the seat that Senator Diehm is now occupying. However, I miss the fellowship of the Members of the Senate more than anything else in not being back here. It certainly is a pleasure to be with you again today. Thank you.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair thanks Senator Kephart.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, March 26, 1956, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:27 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, March 26, 1956, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 26, 1956. No. 159.

SENATE

MONDAY, March 26, 1956.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Honorable FRANK W. RUTH, a Member of the Senate from Berks County, offered the following prayer:

Our Dear Heavenly Father, as we open this Holy Week, we pray that Thy Spirit will be with us, that we may really understand the great sacrifice which Thou hast made so that we might enjoy all the blessings that come to followers of Thine here in this world and have the assurance that when we leave here, we will meet Thee face to face and meet those of our loved ones who have gone ahead.

Bless us in our work today. Give us the wisdom and the understanding to do the things so that it may work out for the best for all. We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WADE and Mr. McCREESH, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE FOUNTAIN HILL HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM, ITS COACH AND THE FACULTY AND STUDENT BODY OF THE SCHOOL ON THE TEAM ATTAINING THE P.I.A.A. CLASS B BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Mr. WADE, on behalf of Mr. VAN SANT, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 26, 1956.

On March 23, Fountain Hill High School won the P.I.A.A. Class B Basketball Championship over East Pittsburgh High School, by the score of 63-53.

After losing the first game of the season last November 29, the Fountain Hill High School Basketball Team compiled the enviable record of winning thirty straight games. The attainment of the championship for the first time in the school's history after its splendid season record, is a tribute to the ability and long hours of practice in which the team engaged under its capable coach, Mr. Charles Dubbs.

The Fountain Hill team was the Lehigh-Northampton District 11, Cass B Champion this year. Its subsequent winning of the State Championship in its cass, when representing its district is an accompishment which will long be remembered by the faculty, student body, alumni, and friends of the school; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania congratulates the Fountain Hill High School Basketball Team, its coach and the faculty and student body of the school on the team attaining the P.I.A.A. Class B Basketball Championship when it defeated a fine team from East Pittsburgh High School; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Fountain Hill High School.

Before any operator shall hereafter engage in open pit mining of bituminous coal within the Commonwealth he shall [register] first apply for registration with the Department of Mines of this Commonwealth by filing [a certificate] by registered mail or by delivery in person on a form to be provided by the department and giving information sufficient to identify the operator and an estimate of the number of acres of land in each mine inspection district that the operator will affect by open pit mining during [one] the registration year [immediately following the date of filing]. As a part of the application for registration the operator shall furnish in duplicate a map or plan on a scale of not less than four hundred feet to the inch in a manner satisfactory to the Secretary of Mines showing the location of the tract or tracts of land to be affected by the operation or operations contemplated. If afer a registration certificate issues to an operator the operator desires to affect a tract or tracts of land not included in the certificate the operator shall by registered mail or in person so notify the Secretary of Mines at least two weeks prior to the commencement of operations the Secretary of Mines shall promptly acknowledge by registered mail receipt of the application for registration. When the requirements of this act are met and no claims are outstanding under this act against the operator or in the case of any corporation against any officer or director a registration certificate shall issue forthwith. Contemporaneously with and as a part of said registration application the operator shall file with the Department of Mines a bond on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the department payable to the Commonwealth and conditioned that the operator shall faithfully perform all of the requirements of this act. The bond shall be in the amount of three hundred dollars ($300.00) per acre based upon the number of acres of land in each mine inspection district which the operator estimates [that] will be affected by open pit mining during [one] the registration year [immediately thereafter] Provided That no bond shall be filed for less than three thousand dollars ($3,000.00). Liability under such bond shall be for the duration of open pit mining at each operation and for a period of five years thereafter unless released prior thereto as hereinafter provided. Such bond shall be executed by the operator and a corporate surety licensed to do business in the Commonwealth Provided however That the operator may elect to deposit cash or negotiable bonds of the United States Government or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission the General State Authority the State Public School Building Authority or any municipality within the Commonwealth with the department in lieu of a corporate surety. The cash deposit or market value of such securities shall be equal to the sum of the bond. The Secretary of Mines shall upon receipt of any such deposit of cash or securities immediately place the same with the State Treasurer whose duty it shall be to receive and hold the same in the name of the Commonwealth in trust for the purposes for which such deposit is made. The State Treasurer shall at all times be responsible for the custody and safekeeping of such deposits. The operator making the deposit shall be entitled from time to time to demand and receive from the State Treasurer on the written order of the Secretary of Mines the whole or any portion of any securities so deposited upon depositing with him in lieu thereof other negotiable securities of the classes herein specified having a market value at least equal to the sum of the bond and also to demand receive and recover the interest and income from said securities as the same becomes due and payable Provided however That where securities deposited as aforesaid mature or are called the State Treasurer at the request of the operator shall convert such securities into such other negotiable securities of the classes herein specified as may be designated by the operator. Contemporaneous with the filing of said registration certificate application and any renewal thereof the operator shall pay to the department a filing fee of one hundred dollars ($100.00). Should the area of land affected in any mine inspection district by open pit mining within the registration year exceed the estimate made in the registration certificate application the operator shall within thirty (30) days thereafter file an [amended registration certificate and] additional bond upon receipt of such bond the Secretary of Mines shall promptly issue an amended certificate covering the additional acreage covered by such bond but no filing fee shall be required in connection with the filing of such [amendment] additional bond if the Secretary of Mines does not approve the application for registration he shall promptly notify the operator by registreded mail setting forth his reasons therefore the operator may then take such steps as are required to remove the objections any operator who shall be aggrieved by any action of the Secretary of Mines under this section may proceed under the provisions of section 14 of this act if any operator who has filed an application for registration has not received a registration certificate or a notice from the Secretary of Mines as to why such application has not been approved within thirty days after the receipt of such application he may engage in open-pit mining of bituminous coal and be deemed in compliance with all provisions of this act the registration provisions of this section shall not apply to an operator registered under the provisions of the act of May 31, 1945 (P. L. 1198) as amended until the anniversary date of the operator's registration.

Section 2. The act is amended by adding after section 4 four new sections to read

Section 4.1. On or before the third day of each month every operator of a coal stripping operation shall furnish the mine inspector in whose district the operation is located on a form provided by the Department of Mines an accurate monthly report of coal produced number of employes and days worked and also a report of all fatal and nonfatal accidents for the previous month. An annual report shall be furnished to the mine inspector in whose district the operation is located on a form provided for that purpose not later than the twenty-fifth day of January each year for the preceding year.

Section 4.2. All coal stripping operations coming within the provisions of this act shall be under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Department of Mines and shall be conducted in compliance with such reasonable rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Mines for the health and safety of those persons engaged in the work. The Secretary of Mines through the mine inspectors shall have the authority and power to enforce the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder by him.

Section 4.3. Any mine inspector directed by the Department of Mines shall have the right to enter upon and inspect all stripping operations for the purpose of determining conditions of safety and for compliance with the terms of the registration certificate. A mine inspector shall have the authority to order the halting of mine operations in any case where safety regulations are being violated. Should an operator fail to comply with the requirements of the act the mine inspector shall report the matter to the Secretary who shall immediately notify the operator by registered mail of such failure unless the operator complies with the act within thirty (30) days from the receipt of such notice the Secretary may after hearing and final determination issue a cease and desist order requiring the operator to immediately cease mining at the operation in the mine inspection district where the violation was reported.

Section 4.4. If an operator continues to operate beyond one year the mine inspector shall be furnished with a new map at the end of each year of operation on which is outlined the area affected and restored during the preceding year.

Section 3 Section 5 of the act amended August 19, 1953 (P. L. 1175) is amended to read

Section 5 Operation Report and Backfilling Within thirty (30) days after starting the removal of overburden at each operation for the removal of coal by open pit mining the operator shall file an operation report with the Department of Mines on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the secretary giving the following information (a) Name or number of the operation (b) Location of the operation as to county and township and with reference to the nearest public road (c) A description of the tract or tracts [by metes and bounds] and (d) The name and address of the landowner or his duly authorized representative as part of the operations report the operator shall file a map or plan on a scale of not less than four hundred (400) feet to the inch in a manner satisfactory to the Secretary of Mines showing the location of the new tract or tracts of land to be affected by the operation or operations and not covered by the original registration application or reregistration application

The operator shall backfill the operation made by the open pit mining operation to a distance of [fifteen (15)] seventy-five feet beyond the boundary line of the right of way of any public highway and to a distance of two hundred feet from any occupied dwelling house unless released by owner thereof public building school church and community or institutional building The backfilling under this section shall be done in such a manner as to insure lateral support [of a public highway] and to provide a slope having an angle not exceeding forty (40) degrees The Department of Mines may specify the time within which it shall be completed in order to protect the public safety [and may require such backfilling to be done in part before the completion of the open pit mining operation]

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prohibit the relocation of any public road in the manner provided by law

Section 4 Sections 8 9 and 10 of the act amended May 23, 1949 (P. L. 1730) are amended to read

Section 8 Upon receipt of said completion report or annual report the Secretary of Mines shall charge the land affected in each mine inspection district by open pit mining against the bond filed by the operator at the time of registration at the rate of three hundred dollars ($300.00) per acre Should the land actually affected in any mine inspection district by open pit mining within the year exceed the estimate made at the time of registration the operator shall within thirty (30) days thereafter file an [amended certificate and] additional bond upon receipt of such bond the Secretary of Mines shall promptly issue an amended certificate covering the additional acreage covered by such bond If the land actually affected in any mine inspection district by open pit mining during the registration year is less than the estimate made by the operator in the registration certificate application the secretary shall at the end of the registration year release the surplus of the bond and collateral upon which liability has not been charged as aforesaid Provided That no bond or collateral shall be released below three thousand dollars ($3000.00) in the absence of complete compliance with the requirements of this act and should there be a failure of complete compliance with the requirements of this act Not less than the minimum bond in the amount of three thousand dollars ($3000.00) shall be forfeited

Section 9 If the operator continues to engage in open pit mining of bituminous coal beyond the period for which a certificate has been [filed] issued the operator shall reregister with the Department of Mines as hereinbefore provided in the case of the original registration Provided however That the operator may [with the consent of the Secretary of Mines and the surety if any] apply [the] any amount of surplus [of the] bond filed for the preceding year upon bond requirement for the year for which he is reregistering in lieu of a release of the surplus [as provided in section eight (8)]

Section 10 Within one year after the operation is completed the operator shall place sufficient overburden or earth not containing reject coal or combustible material in the open cut to cover the exposed face of the unmined coal which shall begin at least three feet above the top of the coal and shall extend to the bottom of the pit at an angle not to exceed forty-five (45) degrees except where open pit mining cuts into active worked out or abandoned deep mine workings the angle shall not exceed forty-five (45) degrees from the top of the high wall to the bottom thereof and the peaks and ridges of spoilbanks shall be leveled and rounded off to such an extent as will permit the planting of trees grasses or shrubs for the purpose of this section only and for no other provisions of this act highwall mechanical mining shall be considered as open-pit mining Provided however That if the operator or other person desires to conduct drift mining upon the premises or use the openings for haulageways or other lawful purposes the operator may designate [drift] locations to be used for such purposes at which places it will not be necessary to so place overburden over the face of the coal until such drift mining or other use is completed during which time that portion of the bond on file at the rate of three hundred dollars ($300.00) per acre or fraction thereof applicable to the area designated shall not be released Such [drift] locations shall be described in the completion report and designated on the map attached thereto [Provided also That if the operator desires to use the open cut as a haulageway for the removal of coal from other operations the Secretary of Mines may postpone the covering of the exposed face of the unmined coal for the duration of such use]

Section 5 Section 16 of the act is amended to read

Section 16 [Any] Except as provided in section 4 of this act any operator who proceeds to mine bituminous coal by the open pit mining method without having [registered] received a registration certificate as herein provided or who proceeds to mine bituminous coal by the open pit mining method without securing an amended registration certificate or who fails to reregister and secure a new registration certificate as herein provided or who proceeds to mine bituminous coal by the open pit mining method without having furnished the proper bond as herein provided or who has intentionally filed false information in the application for a registration certificate shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5000.00) [The fine shall be payable to the county in which the violation occurs] The fines shall be paid into and held by the State Treasurer in the "Bituminous Coal Open Pit Mining Reclamation Fund" provided for in section 18 of this act and shall be used by the Secretary of Mines for the sole purpose of foresting or reclaiming land affected by open pit mining of bituminous coal upon lands situated in the county in which the violation occurred

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 916, as follows:

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to make a study of appropriate ways and methods for developing and promoting the historical interest of Philadelphia and vicinity and specifically for developing a "colonial compound" in Germantown

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission is hereby authorized and empowered to make a study of appropriate ways and methods by which the historical interest of the City of Philadelphia and of its vicinity may best be promoted and by which historic homes and buildings still remaining in that area may be developed and presented as a basis for a fuller understanding and appreciation of the great contribution of colonial Philadelphia to the formation of American ideas and institutions

Section 2 Great attention has been given to such historical developments in other states at Williamsburg the colonial capital of Virginia from 1699 to 1779 the Capitol The Governor's Palace taverns homes and even the colonial jail have been restored in minute and authentic detail and Colonial Williamsburg has become a major attraction for tourists At Old Sturbridge Village in Massachusetts a typical eighteenth century New England village has been created by collecting and moving in old buildings from all over New England A similar and equally interesting project is the development of Cooperstown New York under the auspices of the New York State Historical Association Such unified restorations or developments give visitors the impression of the actual environment of colonial days and thus give life and reality to the times when the ideals and institutions of our State and Nation were in the making

Section 3 Philadelphia was the capitol of Pennsylvania from 1683 to 1799 the seat of the Continental Congress during several years of the American Revolution and the capitol of the United States from 1790 to 1800 Here the Declaration of Independence was adopted and the Constitution of the United States drafted In the eighteenth century Philadelphia became the chief city of the American colonies and the major center of culture and trade Here the General Assembly of Pennsylvania made great strides toward free popular representative government before and during the Revolution and the experience and practice of Pennsylvania could serve as guide and model for other states

Section 4 Philadelphia is now a great modern city but there still remain within it many areas where groups of historic buildings survive virtually intact from the past notably Germantown where it would be possible to recreate the environment of the past in a convincing and impressive manner one fine example of an area with historic buildings which are adjacent and well suited to form a distinctive "colonial compound" contains the following buildings

(1) Cliveden otherwise known as the Chew House and one of the famous mansions of the colonial period It was built in 1763-1764 by Benjamin Chew who was Attorney General of the Province of Pennsylvania from 1755 to 1769 Chief Justice from 1774 to the Revolution and President Judge of the High Court of Errors and Appeals from 1791 to 1808 Cliveden was a focal point of the Battle of Germantown on October 3 1777 and suffered damage from gunfire This Georgian Colonial House designed for a man of culture and wealth is an example of the best taste of the day both in its exterior and interior

(2) The Bardsley House at 6500 Germantown Avenue is a picturesque example of early smaller houses It dates from colonial times but is named for John Bardsley who occupied it in the 1870's Sometimes it is called Sparrow Jack's House because Bardsley is said to have imported English sparrows to Germantown

(3) The Daniel Billmeyer House also known as the Mathieu House at 6504 Germantown Avenue exemplifies domestic architecture of the Federal period The rear wing of the building dates from colonial times

(4) The Michael Billmeyer House at 6505-6507 Germantown Avenue is of the Colonial period and is really two houses under one roof According to tradition the attack on the Chew House during the Battle of Germantown was directed from the front steps of this building It was acquired by Hans George Bensell in 1727 and sold to the printer Michael Billmeyer in 1789 Here the "Germantauner Zeitung" was published With its gables and pent eaves its comfortable rooms and ample proportions it is typical of colonial Germantown

(5) The Christopher Mason House or Elkinton House at 6514 Germantown Avenue shows the transition between Colonial and Federal architecture the rear wing being much earlier than the Federal front It stands on land acquired by Mason in 1797 and the main part was probably built in 1798 the date inscribed on the chimney

Section 5 In making this study the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission shall cooperate with the Philadelphia Historic Buildings Committee the Germantown Historical Society The Historical Society of Pennsylvania the Philadelphia City Planning Commission the National Park Service the National Trust for Historic Preservation and any other organizations and agencies which may be concerned in the development of historic Philadelphia

Section 6 The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission shall report to the General Assembly at its next regular session the results of this study giving primary consideration and discussing possibilities with regard to

(1) The development in Germantown of a "colonial compound" including some or all of the historic buildings now remaining in that part of the City of Philadelphia

(2) Publicizing and calling attention to the significance of historic Philadelphia in the history of the United States

(3) The establishment of a joint committee or board representing the interest of the Commonwealth the Federal Government the City of Philadelphia and historical organizations in the development and presentation of historic Philadelphia

Section 7 To aid in carrying out the provisions of this act the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission is hereby empowered to create and appoint committees and to appoint historical consultants who shall serve without cost to the Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 957 Printer's No. 516 and

Senate Bill No. 987, Printer's No. 545
were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1020, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 26 1949 (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiudciaries" further prescribing the eligibility for authorized investments of the obligations of municipality authorities

Section 1 Clause (3) of section 5 act of May 26 1949 (P. L. 1828) known as the "Fiduciaries Investment Act of 1949" amended August 19 1953 (P. L. 1154) is amended to read

Section 5 Obligations of Pennsylvania Governmental Organizations Obligations of the following Pennsylvania governmental organizations shall be authorized investments

(3) Municipality Authorities Obligations of any municipality authority issued pursuant to the laws of the Commonwealth relating to the creation or operation of municipality authorities if the obligations are not in default and if the project for which the obligations were issued is under lease to a municipality or municipalities or subject to a service contract with a municipality or municipalities pursuant to which the authority will receive lease rentals or service charges available for fixed charges on the obligations of not less than one and one-fifth times the annual fixed charges of such obligations over the life thereof or if the obligations are not in default and if the period of five fiscal years next preceding the date of acquisition the income of such authority available for fixed charges has averaged not less than one and one-fifth times its average annual fixed charges of such obligations over the life of such obligations As used in this clause the term "income available for fixed charges" shall mean income after deducting operating and maintenance expenses and unless the obligations are payable in serial annual maturities or are supported by annual sinking fund payments depreciation but excluding extraordinary nonrecurring items of income or expenses and the term "fixed charges" shall include principal both maturity and sinking fund and interest on bonded debt In computing such income available for fixed charges for the purposes of this section the income so available of any corporation acquired by any municipality authority may be included such income to be calculated as though such corporation had been operated by a municipality authority and an equivalent amount of bonded debt were outstanding

The eligibility for investment purposes of obligations of each project of a municipality authority shall be separately considered hereunder and if the project of a municipality authority is a public school building no earning record shall be required as a condition of eligibility for investment by fiduciaries

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

RESOLUTION

RESOLUTION No. 27

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 27 on page 16 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 22, 1955.

Thousands of motorists each year travel one of the finest highways ever engineered the Pennsylvania Turnpike conceived and constructed not only as a convenience but as a safety measure to motorists in their trans-state auto trips

One of the safety measures conceived for the preservation of motorists' lives was the construction of tunnels with the purpose in mind of avoiding the steep inclines the railroad crossings and the dangerous intersections with their cross roads found to be the grim reaper of many motorists

Despite the foresight and ingenuity in incorporating the tunnels as safety precautions into the turnpike system their very purpose is being nullified by the use of inadequate lighting as evidenced by an increasing number of fatalities and which makes it mandatory that remedial action be taken at once therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission maintain the tunnel system in a safe and proper manner by the installation of a lighting system of sufficient candlepower to eliminate any blind-vision areas while traveling through the tunnels

Resolved That the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission make a report to this Session of the General Assembly as soon as possible after the improved lighting system is installed

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 131

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 131 on page 17 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 1, 1955.

The State Board of Medical Education and Licensure of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania issued a ruling on December 13, 1951 to accept for internship and licensure in Pennsylvania only graduates from foreign medical schools that are recommended for approval by a recognized accrediting agency such as the American Medical Association The credentials of each applicant however must be evaluated and approved by the board even though the medical school has been recommended for approval by the American Medical Association

Since the end of World War II Pennsylvania has not recognized the medical doctor diplomas of the Italian medical schools although the neighboring states of New York Connecticut New Jersey and the states of Illinois and California do recognize such diplomas

Italian universities admit to medical schools American students who have passed a very careful screening

The ruling of the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure imposes financial burdens hardships and many inconveniences on future doctors who have obtained medical education in Italy therefore be it

Resolved That the House of Representatives protests the regulation and ruling of the State Board of Medical Education and Licensure as being unreasonable and discriminatory and be it further

Resolved That a committee of five members of the House of Representatives be appointed by the Speaker of the House to investigate the policies methods and practice of the State Board of Medical Education and Licensure with respect to acceptance for internship and licensure of graduates of foreign medical schools and be it further

Resolved That said committee make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly as soon as possible

RESOLUTION

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 164 on page 17 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 20, 1956.

Whereas Bills have been introduced in the current and earlier sessions of the General Assembly for the purpose of authorizing and regulating the sale by mutual savings banks of life insurance in limited amounts without the employment of agents or solicitors and for the establishment and operation of life insurance departments by mutual savings banks and the information of a savings bank life insurance company and

Whereas It is represented that such savings bank life insurance would be advantageous to the people of this Commonwealth because of certain advantages including lower cost therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study and investigate the subject of savings bank life insurance and report to the next session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

COMMEMORATING BIRTHDAY OF JOHN TRIMBLE ROTHROCK

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 16 of today's calendar the resolution commemorating the birthday of John Trimble Rothrock.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 21, 1956.

April 9, 1956, is the 117th anniversary of the birthday of Dr. John Trimble Rothrock, native of McVeytown, Mifflin County, who has been called the "father of the State Forest idea in Pennsylvania." Dr. Rothrock was a well-known conservationist, a pioneer in development of forest fire control, reforestation, and scientific forestry.

Among the accomplishments of Dr. Rothrock, who for some time engaged in the active practice of medicine, was his research and teaching of botany. Much of his botanical research was done on expeditions into unknown and uncharted territory.

Dr. Rothrock's success was the result of a combination of his knowledge of medical science and his love of and knowledge of the forests. He looked upon forests as a great natural resource which if properly conserved and nurtured, could and would add to the health an well being of humanity. In 1902 he brought to Mont Alto some tubercular patients and established a camp for them on top of the mountain. Out of this experiment grew the Mont Alto Sanatorium for tubercular patients, and all of the other sanatoria of the State.

Dr. Rothrock's lectures on botany, forest geography, forest influences and forest management were of not only Statewide but of nationwide import in the conservation of forest resources. The lectures were the basis for the Pennsylvania policy with respect to forests.

In 1895 Dr. Rothrock was appointed the first Commissioner of Forestry within this State, and in 1901 was appointed the first head of the Department of Forests, with the status of a member of the Governor's cabinet.

Dr. Rothrock's achievements will long have a beneficial effect on the health and well being of the inhabitants of this State, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby commemorates and honors the memory of Dr. Rothrock on April 9, the anniversary of his birth, and looks with renewed awareness and appreciation on this day which has previously been established as Arbor Day and commends Mifflin County for its plans to pay special honor to the memory of Dr. Rothrock during 1956.

RESOLUTION

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 129

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up Senate Resolution Serial No. 129 on page 18 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 129

In the Senate, April 26, 1955.

General George Washington entrusted the organization of his cavalry to an experienced Hungarian, Michael Kovats, who was recommended to General Washington by Benjamin Franklin. Colonel-Commandant Michael Kovats was second-in-command of the Pulaski Legion and while serving in this capacity gave his life for the United States of America when, on May 11, 1779, he fell mortally wounded in the defense of Charleston, South Carolina.

American Hungarians respectfully ask for appropriate recognition for Colonel-Commandant Kovats. Americans of Polish descent have their revolutionary hero honored in the form of Pulaski Week. Washington's Cavalry, known as the Pulaski Legion, was whipped into an efficient fighting force by Colonel-Commandant Kovats, and this historical fact is recognized by official documents, records of the Society of the Cincinnati and other official sources; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, on behalf of all American Hungarians memorializes the President of the United States to proclaim a Colonel-Commandant Michael Kovats Day in honor of this outstanding hero of the Revolutionary War; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 165

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up Senate Resolution Serial No. 165 on page 18 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 165

In the Senate, January 16, 1956.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Subcommittee on Decedents' Estate Laws of the Joint State Government Commission be continued until the end of the legislative session of 1957 for the purpose of considering necessary and desirable changes in the decedents' estate laws and related statutes developed by the Subcommitte, and to make recommendations to the commission with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MORAN. On Senate Resolution Serial No. 165 to continue the Committee until 1957, I was just wondering if there are any House Members on that Committee?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will assure the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, that there are House Members on that Committee.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, if there are House Members on the Committee, their term of office will expire November 30th. Are they eligible to serve from November 30th into 1957?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has been informed that the Members' terms on the Committee will expire with the expiration of their terms.

Mr. MORAN. Then they cannot serve from November 30th to January whenever they are sworn in?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is right.

Mr. MORAN. Then this Resolution is a little bit out of order, isn't it?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would suggest that the gentleman confer with the Rules Committee or with the Majority Leader.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I might suggest that the Subcommittee which has been studying decedents' estate laws under the Joint State Government Commission has many, many persons on it who are not Members of the General Assembly, judges, lawyers and other parties who are interested in that particular subject. The greater part of that Subcommittee is made up of non-members of the House or Senate.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I am not objecting to who serves on the Committee. What I am asking is a question of information relative to the status of the House Members. If their term of office expires on November 30th, whether or not they will be eligible to serve on this subcommittee because they were House Members?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know the exact answer to the gentleman's question, but I believe the Joint State Government Commission's authority is such that it could appoint any Member of this House whose term had expired to continue to serve on it, if it so desires them.

Mr. MORAN. You mean they would have to be reappointed right after November 30th to continue to serve until 1957?

Mr. READINGER. That I cannot answer at the moment, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. I still have it as clear as mud.

Mr. READINGER. Will the gentleman consult with the Minority Floor Leader at his leisure? Perhaps he can get the answer from him.

Mr. MORAN. I have no objection to the Resolution. I am simply asking that it be clarified in such a way that we will know what we are doing.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will request the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Royer, the Chairman of the Commission, to confer with the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran.

RESOLUTION

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 166

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up Senate Resolution Serial No. 166 on page 18 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the Senate, January 30, 1956.

Whereas, The increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability; and

Whereas, The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous price- cutting, which in turn would result either in financial losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment; and

Whereas, Our National obligations have reached such extreme proportions that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedented high level, or close thereto, lest we become involvent; and

Whereas, Unemployment caused by the imports of residual oil, which increased 300% from an average of 45 million barrels in 1946, to more than 136 million barrels in 1954, or the yearly equivalent of 33 million tons of coal; and unemployment caused by imports of crude oil; various types of glass, steel, aluminum, brass and zinc products; pottery and chinaware; granite, tiles, cement, hardboard, plywood, hardware, plumbing, flat glass and other building supplies, lace, carpets and all kinds of woolen, cotton and synthetic fibre manufactured goods; leather and fabric gloves; bicycles; hydraulic turbines; machine tools and other machinery; heavy electrical equipment and other electrical industry products and electronics; watches, clocks and parts; optical industry products; cutlery; scientific apparatus; pencils and pens; pins, clips and fasteners; soft fibre; insulation board and manufactured cork products; chemicals; toys; mushrooms; farm, dairy and dried milk products, wallpaper, hats and millinery, printing industry products; ladies hand bags and leather goods; nails, wire, screws, bolts and nuts and many other commodities; will render the upholding of the economy at its highest levels most uncertain and difficult, unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom thus eliminated; and

Whereas, Agricultural products such as wheat, wheat flour, cotton, butter, cheese and peanuts enjoy the protection of import quotas; and

Whereas, A maximum of satisfactory trade results from a prosperous domestic economy freed from the threat of a breakdown resulting from unfair import competition; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation, including import quotas, against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standard of our workmen, and the stability of our economy by unfair import competition and that the existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. BONNER. RESOLUTION (Not printed)

In the House of Representatives, March 26, 1956.

The little community of Palmerton in Carbon County, a borough of 6600 people, has produced a champion that bettered its greater and more powerful neighbors in the Eastern part of the State. On Wednesday, March 21st, of this year, the Palmerton High School basketball team, after a series of 18 victories, beat Radnor High School and became the Eastern Regional Class A PIAA Champion.

It was a great victory, after a great season, for a truly great team. The people of this community, though small in number, gave largely of themselves to produce a winner, and as a consequence, in matters of civic activity became a real winner; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend our most earnest congratulations to the people of Palmerton, to the student body and school officials of Palmerton High School and to the Palmerton High School basketball team and its coach and commend all of them for their spirit and determination; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the principal of Palmerton High School.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mrs. MARKLEY and Mr. STECKEL. RESOLUTION (Not printed)

In the House of Representatives, March 26, 1956.

On March 23, Fountain Hill High School won the P.I.A.A. Class B Basketball Championship over East Pittsburgh High School, by the score of 63-53.

After losing the first game of the season last November 29, the Fountain Hill High School Basketball Team compiled the enviable record of winning thirty straight games. The attainment of the championship for the first time in the school's history after its splendid season record, is a tribute to the ability and long hours of practice in which the team engaged under its capable coach, Mr. Charles Dubbs.

The Fountain Hill team was the Lehigh-Northampton District 11, Class B Champion this year. Its subsequent winning of the State Championship in its class, when representing its district is an accomplishment which will long be remembered by the faculty, student body, alumni, and friends of the school; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives congratulates the Fountain Hill High School Basketball Team, its coach and the faculty and student body of the school on the team attaining the P.I.A.A. Class B Basketball Championship when it defeated a fine team from East Pittsburgh High School; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Fountain Hill High School.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1755.

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1947 (P. L. 1095) entitled as amended "An act providing for the regulation of mining of anthracite coal by the open pit or strip mining method and for the conservation and improvement of lands affected directly or indirectly by such mining requiring operators to register pay a license fee and secure a permit to engage in strip mining and file a bond conditioned for compliance with this act requiring backfilling of stripping pits and leveling and planting lands affected to prevent erosion and the pollution of waters and to protect public health safety and welfare conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Mines providing for appeals and imposing penalties and making appropriations" further regulating strip mining operations making changes with respect to backfilling and permits and providing for filing of maps

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, line 5, by striking out after the word "backfilling" the following: "restoration accumulation of water permits bonds penalties and fees" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "and permits";

Amend Section 1, page 4, line 4, by striking out after the word "removed" the following: "and that occupied by spoil banks"; line 15, by striking out the bracket before the word "twenty" and striking out the bracket after the figures "$25.00" and striking out the following: "fifty dollars ($50)"; line 17, by striking out the bracket before the word "one" and by striking out the bracket after the figures "$100.00" and striking out the following: "two hundred dollars ($200)"; Page 5, line 12, by striking out after the word "inspector" the following:

Any person firm or corporation violating the provisions of this subsection shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) and costs of prosecution nor more than one hundred dollars ($100) and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for ten days

Page 6, line 1, by striking out the bracket before the word "and"; line 2, by inserting after the word "operations" the following: "in each mine inspection district"; line 4, by striking out the bracket after the word "year"; line 7, by striking out after the word "permit" the following:

Section 2 Section 6 of the act amended May 18, 1949 (P. L. 1471) is amended to read

Section 6 The operator shall file with the Department of Mines a bond on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the department payable to the Commonwealth and conditioned that the operator shall faithfully perform all the requirements of this act The bond shall be in the amount of [three hundred dollars ($300)] six hundred dollars ($600) per acre based upon the number of acres of land which the operator estimates will be the area of land affected by strip mining during one (1) year immediately following the date of the permit issued by the department Provided That no bond shall be for an amount less than [three thousand dollars ($3000)] six thousand dollars ($6000) Liability under the bond shall be for the duration of strip mining at each operation and for a period of five years thereafter unless released prior thereto in the manner hereinafter provided by this act

Such bond shall be signed by the operator and a corporate surety licensed to do business in the Commonwealth Provided however That in lieu of a surety bond the operator may file a collateral bond secured by cash in the form of a certified or cashier's check or United States Government securities The cash deposited or the par value of such United States Government securities shall be equal to the amount of the required bond and shall be held upon the same terms and conditions

The Secretary of Mines shall upon receipt of any such deposit of cash or securities immediately deposit the same with the State Treasurer whose duty it shall be to receive and hold the same in the name of the Commonwealth for the purpose for which such deposit is made The State Treasurer shall at all times be responsible for the safe keeping of such deposits

Any operator making such deposit shall be entitled to receive from the State Treasurer on written order of the Secretary of Mines the whole or any portion of any securities so deposited upon depositing with the department in lieu thereof a surety bond or other United States Government securities of a par value at least equal to the sum required for a bond as aforesaid

The operator shall also be entitled upon request to receive from the State Treasurer the interest or income from said securities deposited as aforesaid as the same become due and payable Provided however That where securities deposited as aforesaid mature or are called the State Treasurer at the request of the operator shall convert such securities into other acceptable securities designated by the operator

Section 7 [Upon application by the operator the permit may be renewed from year to year so as to cover the number of acres embraced in the original permit which have not been stripped and additional permit may be issued at any time to the operator to cover acres which are not included in a previous permit and which the operator estimates will be the area of land affected during the following year No license fee shall be charged for a renewal permit and the] The fee for [an additional] a renewal permit shall be calculated at the rate of [twenty-five dollars ($25)] fifty dollars ($50) per acre for the number of new acres which the operator estimates will be the area of land affected during the following year All such moneys received by the department shall be deposited in a special fund with the State Treasurer and shall be expended by the Department of Mines in payment of the cost of administering the provisions of this act Each application for a permit shall be accompanied by a bond as herein provided

Section 4 Sections 8 and 9 of the act amended May 18 1949 (P. L. 1471) are amended to read

Section 8 Within thirty (30) days after the close of the year for which the permit was issued and likewise after the close of each subsequent year the operator if he continues to engage in strip mining [shall file with the Department of Mines a new bond covering such new acres as he may estimate will be affected during the following year The bond shall be at the rate of three hundred dollars ($300) per acre The bond shall not be less than three thousand dollars ($3,000)] of anthracite coal shall re-register with the Department of Mines as hereinbefore provided in the case of the original permit Each renewal will require a permit form in triplicate and bond either collateral or surety in the minimum sum of six thousand dollars ($6000) and shall be accompanied by an annual report upon a form furnished by the Department setting forth the number of acres of land affected during the preceding year and the number of acres of land that will be affected during the ensuing year at each operation [Providing however That any portion of a bond covering an operation which may remain unencumbered at the end of an operational year may be applied to acres of land which the operator anticipates will be affected during the following year]

Section 9 Upon receipt of such annual report the Secretary of Mines shall make an investigation of the operation and shall charge the area of land actually affected by strip mining during the year for which said report is filed against the bond or deposit filed by the operator at the rate of [three hundred dollars ($300)] six hundred dollars ($600) per acre of the area of land affected but in no case shall the bond or deposit retained by the Secretary of Mines be less than [three thousand dollars ($3,000)] six thousand dollars ($6,000) Should the area of land actually affected exceed the estimate made by the operator at the time of the application for the permit the operator shall file an additional bond at the rate of [three hundred dollars ($300)] six hundred dollars ($600) per acre of the area affected over and above his estimate [Provided That an additional bond need not be filed where the number of acres of land actually affected multiplied by three hundred dollars ($300) does not exceed the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000)] If the work contemplated by the permit and bond be not completed but the area of land actually affected by strip mining during the year is less than the estimate the Secretary shall issue a release of the excess of the bond or deposit upon which liability has not been charged as aforesaid Provided That in no case shall any bond or deposit be released or reduced to an amount less than [three thousand dollars ($3,000)] six thousand dollars ($6000)

Page 13, line 1, by striking out the bracket before the word "completion"; line 4, by inserting a bracket before the word "nothing"; line 8, by striking out after the word "act" the following:

The operator shall be required within one year after a strip mine operation is completed to backfill all stripping pits not more than one hundred fifty (150) feet in depth to the extent that the overburden removed during strip mining shall be replaced and leveled to provide for the conservation of lands If a strip mine operation is to be in excess of one hundred fifty (150) feet in depth the operator and mine inspector shall agree in writing upon the backfilling requirements prior to the start of the strip mine operation

Section 7 Section 13 of the act is amended to read

Section 13 In any case where a strip mining excavation in excess of one hundred fifty (150) feet in depth after the same is abandoned is likely to result in an accumulation of water which [in the opinion of] [the department] may constitute a hazard to present or future deep mining or otherwise is likely to break out of the excavation and cause a flood [the Department shall order] the operator before abandoning the operation [to] shall provide proper drainage for the excavation [if the excavation can be drained reasonably by gravity flow]

Where the water may furnish means of recreation or a supply of water for domestic uses it may be permitted to remain If a letter is filed with the Department of Mines by the property owner stating that the water is to be used for a specific purpose and describing the purpose thereon and that the area will be restored in the manner specified by the mine inspector of the district in which the area is located

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require the draining of a strip mining excavation where the accumulation of water therein will not in the opinion of the department constitute a hazard or where such water may furnish means of recreation or a supply of water for domestic or industrial uses

Section 8 Section 14 of the act amended July 2 1953 (P L 338) and August 19 1953 (P L 1112) is amended to read

Section 14 [In all cases in which the Secretary of Mines shall find as a fact that the planting of such areas is reasonable practicable and likely to succeed the peaks and ridges of such spoil banks shall be leveled and rounded off to such an extent as will permit the planting of trees grasses or shrubs] Within one (1) year after the strip mining operation on the premises is terminated the operator shall plant trees shrubs or grasses upon the [surface of the spoil banks and the surface of backfills] affected area which includes the backfill or covering over an exposed coal seam Any operator however may at his option pay to the Department of Mines the sum of sixty dollars ($60.00) per acre for each acre of [such surface of spoil banks and backfillings] the area of land affected and thereby shall be released from any duty to plant as herein provided The moneys so paid from time to time shall be placed in a special fund in the hands of the Treasury Department of the Commonwealth and shall be used by the Department of Mines to pay the cost of planting such trees grasses or shrubs and the supervision of such work and all other expenses necessary for or connected with such planting and are hereby appropriated to the Department of Mines for such purposes Any moneys remaining unused after such planting may be used for restoring and planting any other lands affected by strip mining of anthracite coal All planting required by this act to be done by the operator shall be done subject to the supervision and approval of the Secretary of Mines If upon inspection the Secretary of Mines does not approve the planting he shall notify the operator in writing setting forth the objections and after a hearing shall order the planting to be completed in accordance with his final decision by either the operator or by the Department of Forests and Waters

Page 16, line 6 by striking out after the word "Section" the figure "9" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "4"; line 7, by striking out the bracket before the word "backfilling"; line 8, by striking out after the word "have" the following: ") restoration work has";

proposed plans in connection therewith

Section 10 Section 16 of the act amended July 2 1953 (P L 338) and August 19 1953 (P L 1112) is amended to read

Section 16 If and when the Secretary of Mines shall find that the operator has completed the [backfilling and other acts as required by this act] restoration work he shall issue a release of the bond or of the cash securities deposited Upon the presentation of such release the State Treasurer shall immediately return to the operator the amount of cash or securities specified in its release

Section 11 Sections 18 and 21 of the act are amended to read

Section 18 In the event that an operator or owner desires to conduct deep mining upon the premises affected by strip mining the said operator or owner may make this fact known to the secretary with the request that the backfilling of pits and the planting as may be necessary to permit deep mining be deferred during the period of such deep mining In such case the secretary may defer the backfilling and planting If such request is made by the owner he shall secure by bond the [backfilling] restoring of such pit and the planting after the deep mining operation has been completed if the request is made by the operator the bond filed under Section 6 of this act shall stand as security for such [backfilling and planting] restoration work

Section 21 Any operator who proceeds to mine coal commonly known as "anthratice" by the strip mining method without having registered and having received a permit as herein provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay for each day of operation which shall constitute a separate offense a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or to undergo imprisonment for not more than one year or both The fine shall be payable to the Commonwealth

On the question,

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 1792, entitled:

An Act relating to comic books magazines and other publications prohibiting and regulating the sale thereof in certain instancess and imposing penalties.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the Senate and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1792

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference on the part of the House, Mrs. VARALLO, Mrs. REIBMAN and Mrs. MARKLEY.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. GIBSON and STRAUSSER.

HOUSE BILL No. 2101

An Act to amend the act, approved the sixth day of March, one thousand nine hundred fifty-six (Pamphlet Laws) (Act No. 381), entitled "An act to provide revenue for Commonwealth purposes by imposing a tax on the purchase use storage or other consumption of certain tangible personal property and utility services herein defined as tangible personal property providing for licenses reports payment and collection of tax interest and penalties assessments collections liens reviews and appeals conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue public officers manufacturers wholesalers retailers corporations partnerships associations and individuals and making an appropriation," by redefining certain words, terms and procedural provisions in the act.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER. asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the bill which was just referred to the Rules Committee is the bill which embodies some of the correction amendments to the Sales Tax Law passed on March 6th.

On that date the Majority Leader made a commitment that this side of the House would furnish votes to pass correctional amendments which might be necessary to the Sales Tax Law.

I think the record should clearly show at this time that this bill does not contain all the amendments which eventually will be passed to correct certain deficiencies, or defects, in the Sales Tax Law.

The bill was introduced today so that it might be moved into position for final action next Tuesday, when the entire membership of the House will be here. Both sides are conferring on the matter of what the amendments should be. We hope by next Tuesday there will be a final determination so that the complete amendments might be submitted to and considered by the House at that time.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Tuesday, March 27, 1956 at 11:00 a. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:26 p. m.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1956. No. 160.

SENATE

TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1956.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Honorable FRANK W. RUTH, a Member of the Senate from Berks County, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and most merciful God, we thank Thee for this new day and its many opportunities to serve Thee.

We pray Thy blessing this week upon Thy people here on earth who are trekking to their churches in humility and in deep appreciation of Thy love and sacrifice. Bring into our hearts a new life, even as new life is thrusting forth all around us in nature, so that we may live closer to Thee.

Bless us in our work today, that it may redound to Thy honor and glory. We ask it in Jesus' name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WADE and Mr. McCREESH, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

In the Senate, April 26, 1955.

General George Washington entrusted the organization of his cavalry to an experienced Hungarian, Michael Kovats, who was recommended to General Washington by Benjamin Franklin. Colonel-Commandant Michael Kovats was second-in-command of the Pulaski Legion and while serving in this capacity gave his life for the United States of America when, on May 11, 1779, he fell mortally wounded in the defense of Charleston, South Carolina.

American Hungarians respectfully ask for appropriate recognition for Colonel-Commandant Kovats. Americans of Polish descent have their revolutionary hero honored in the form of Pulaski Week. Washington's Cavalry known as the Pulaski Legion, was whipped into an efficient fighting force by Colonel-Commandant Kovats, and this historical fact is recognized by official documents, records of the Society of the Cincinnati and other official sources; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, on behalf of all American Hungarians memorializes the President of the United States to proclaim a Colonel-Commandant Michael Kovats day in honor of this outstanding hero of the Revolutionary War; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 165

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

DIRECTING THE CONTINUANCE OF THE SUBCOMMITTEE ON DECEDENTS' ESTATE LAWS OF THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

In the Senate, January 16, 1956.

RESOLVED (The House of Representatives concurring), That the Subcommittee on Decedents' Estate Laws of the Joint State Government Commission be continued until the end of the legislative session of 1957 for the purpose of considering necessary and desirable changes in the decedents' estate laws and related statutes developed by the Subcommittee, and to make recommendations to the commission with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 166

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE SAFEGUARDS INCLUDING IMPORT QUOTAS IN TARIFF AND TRADE LEGISLATION

In the Senate, January 30, 1956.

Whereas, The increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability; and

Whereas, The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous price-cutting, which in turn would result either in financail losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment; and

Whereas, Our National obligations have reached such extreme proportions that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedented high level, or close thereto, lest we become involvent; and

Whereas, Unemployment caused by the imports of residual oil, which increased 300% from an average of 45 million barrels in 1946, to more than 136 million barrels in 1954, or the yearly equivalent of 33 million tons of coal; and unemployment caused by imports of crude oil; various types of glass, steel, aluminum, brass and zinc products; pottery and chinaware; granite, tiles, cement, hardboard, plywood, hardware, plumbing, flat glass and other building supplies, lace, carpets and all kinds of woolen, cotton and synthetic fibre manufactured goods; leather and fabric gloves; bicycles; hydraulic turbines; machine tools and other machinery; heavy electrical equipment and other electrical industry products and electronics; watches, clocks and parts; optical industry products; cutlery; scientific apparatus; pencils and pens; pins, clips and fasteners; soft fibre; insulation board and manufactured cork products; chemicals; toys; mushrooms; farm, dairy and dried milk products, wallpaper, hats and millinery, printing industry products; ladies hand bags and leather goods; nails, wire, screws, bolts and nuts and many other commodities; will render the upholding of the economy at its highest levels most uncertain and difficult, unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom thus elminated; and

Whereas, Agricultural products such as wheat, wheat flour, cotton, butter, cheese and peanuts enjoy the protection of import quotas; and

Whereas, A maximum of satisfactory trade results from a prosperous domestic economy freed from the threat of a breakdown resulting from unfair import competition; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation, including import quotas, against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standard of our workmen, and the stability of our economy by unfair import competition and that the existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 39 FROM THE GOVERNOR

In the Senate, March 26, 1956.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 39, Printer's No. 537, entitled "An act amending the act of July eleven one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 758) entitled 'An act for the protection of the public health by regulating the possession control dealing in giving away delivery dispensing administering prescribing and use of certain drugs and keeping records thereof by regulating the use of drugs in the treatment of the drug habit by providing for the revocation and suspension of licenses of physicians dentists veterinarians pharmacists druggists and registered nurses for certain causes and by providing for the enforcement of this act and penalties' further defining drugs coming within the scope of said act and changing the penalties for the illegal sale dispensing or giving away of drugs," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 27 REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Highways:

PENNSYLVANIA TURNPIKE COMMISSION TO INSTALL ADEQUATE LIGHTING SYSTEM IN TUNNELS

In the House of Representatives, February 28, 1955.

Thousands of motorists each year travel over one of the finest highways ever engineered, the Pennsylvania Turnpike, conceived and constructed not only as a convenience but as a safety measure to motorists in their trans-state auto trips.

One of the safety measures conceived for the preservation of motorists' lives was the construction of tunnels with the purpose in mind of avoiding the steep inclines, the railroad crossings, and the dangerous intersections with their cross roads found to be the grim reaper for many motorists.

Despite the foresight and ingneuity in incorporating the tunnels as safety precautions into the turnpike system, their very purpose is being nullified by the use of inadequate lighting, as evidenced by an increasing number of fatalities and which makes it mandatory that remedial action be taken at once; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission maintain the tunnel system in a safe and proper manner by the installation of a lighting system of sufficient candlepower to eliminate any blind-vision areas while traveling through the tunnels.

Resolved, That the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission make a report to this Session of the General Assembly as soon as possible after the improved lighting system is installed.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 164 REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Insurance:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY SUBJECT OF SAVINGS BANK LIFE INSURANCE

In the House of Representatives, March 21, 1956.

Whereas, bills have been introduced in the current and earlier sessions of the General Assembly for the purpose of authorizing and regulating the sale by mutual savings banks of life insurance in limited amounts without the employment of agents or solicitors and for the establishment and operation of life insurance departments by mutual savings banks and the information of a savings bank life insurance company; and

Whereas, it is represented that such savings bank life insurance would be advantageous to the people of this Commonwealth because of certain advantages, including lower cost, therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study and investigate the subject of savings bank life insurance and report to the next session of the General Assembly, its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RETURNED WITH AMENDMENT

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Concurrent

Resolution, entitled "Time of Next Meeting," with the information that the House has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

In the Senate, March 26, 1956.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene Tuesday, April 3, 1956, at a time to be fixed by the Senate, unless sooner recalled by the President pro tempore of the Senate; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene Monday, April 2, 1956, at a time to be fixed by the House of Representatives, unless sooner recalled by the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENT MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendment made by the House to the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 836, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 12, 1919 (P. L. 941), entitled "An act providing for the preparation, contents, style, printing and binding of the Legislative Journal and its delivery and distribution; . . .," eliminating requirements for printing bills, joint resolutions and reports of conference committees in full in the Legislative Journal.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I read something in the newspaper last night which has to do with the movie censor bill which is on our Calendar today.

I believe that the Members of the Senate would like to hear what I read last night in one of the local papers. The title is, "Film 'Brutality' Viewed as Spur To Delinquency," from Washington, D. C., and it is written by a Washington, D. C., reporter who states:

"The Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee said today it had found increasing emphasis on 'sadism, brutality and violence' in the movies.

"In a report on 'Motion Pictures and Juvenile Delinquency,' the subcommittee said the movies along with comic books and television 'have a tremendous influence on the young child in his early development.'

" 'While once again, as with the comic books and television, no wealth of scientific data can be given as a casual relationship between delinquent behavior and the mass media,' the report said, 'it is quite clear that professional people generally view the presentation of brutality and violence in these media as definiteliy deleterious to the personality development of normal, predelinquent and delinquent children.'

"The subcommittee said it was advised that motion pictures 'could provide the many so-called "trigger mechanisms" that may initiate and provide the content for antisocial behavior on the part of emotionally disturbed children.'

"Senator Kefauver, the subcommittee chairman, said in a statement the report 'culminates a year of intensive study' by the group.

"The report said, 'It is honestly believed that the majority of the people in the film-making business, the great majority, are sincere in their efforts to make good products.'

"Nevertheless, it went on, the production of Western and crime movies 'has remained constant or increased slightly' while 'the production of noncrime movies has decreased greatly.' "

Therefore, Mr. President, I feel that the Members of the Senate should seriously consider House Bill No. 675. I hope the bill is amended properly and will comply with the Attorney General's Office as far as its decisions are concerned. This legislation should be acted upon, because a number of religious groups throughout the State of Pennsylvania are awaiting the action of this Senate in regard to the movie censor bill, House Bill No. 675.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1849

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 1849, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 31, 1945 (P. L. 1198) entitled "Bituminous Coal Open Pit Mining Conservation Act" further regulating mining operations requiring the filing of maps changing provisions with respect to registration bonds backfill overburden enforcement of the act appeals and penalties and providing for the payment of fines into a special fund.

passed finally on March 26, 19156.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Highways, reported as amended, House Bill No. 983, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code" including within the definition of "Commercial Motor Vehicle" and excluding from the definition of "Motor Omnibus" buses transporting pupils of private and parochial schools and Sunday school children and by regulating the use of commercial motor vehicles.

He also, from the Committee on Highways, reported as amended Senate Bill No. 1040, entitled:

An Act to facilitate vehicular traffic across the Commonwealth by providing for the construction, operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point at or near the City of Chester, Delaware County, thence in a general northely direction to connect with the Pennsylvania Turnpike System, at such point as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission may decide is most feasible and practicable, and conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission: * * *.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 517, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 31, 1949 (P. L. 372), entitled "The General State Authority Act of 1949" empowering the Authority to construct additions and improvements to universities receiving State aid; authorizing contracts to lease and leases by Department of Public Instruction or school districts from the Authority of any school building or additions or improvements to universities receiving State aid and the furnishings and equipment thereof when used or occupied, and authorizing subleases of such projects.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, last week the Senate passed a part of the Administration's program in regard to industrial development. The Senate passed legislation providing for a State Industrial Development Authority.

I want the membership to know that the people of western Pennsylvania, particularly, are extremely gratified by the passage of this legislation by the Senate. I feel that this is a step in the right direction and that we are entering a new field as far as industrial redevelopment is concerned.

I feel, too, Mr. President, that we should not take a one-sided approach to this particular problem. Quite some months ago, I sponsored legislation here which would also create an Industrial Development Corporation. The Industrial Development Corporation is copied after legislation which passed in the State of New York some time ago. In fact, this bill is practically an exact copy of New York's legislation.

There were quite a number of sponsors of this legislation from both sides of the Senate. This legislation also passed the Senate and is over in the House of Representatives. I feel that if we have an Industrial Development Authority which provides for the expenditure of $5,000,000 to help out our local industrial organizations, it certainly will help out as far as diversity of industry is concerned. I feel, too, that we should pass legislation calling for an Industrial Development Corporation. By doing so, we can attract private capital and they, too, could work along this particular line.

In western Pennsylvania, Mr. President, we do not have a diversity of industry. All we need to do to stabilize our economy is to have the necessary funds to bring new industry into western Pennsylvania. I believe that can be done if both of these pieces of legislation are passed.

Last week, Mr. President, The Monongahela Valley Industrial Development Organizations had a meeting, at which they expressed their opinion with regard to this legislation and they felt that we were doing the right thing. I think that Pennsylvania, as a whole, is to be congratulated on its foresight in establishing an Industrial Development Authority. In a depressed area, it is sort of silly or ridiculous to expect to collect enough money to bring new industry into Pennsylvania or to finance any great portion of it. This legislation is simple and, at the same time, it is sound because it provides that the local authorities cannot go out on wild ventures. They must have a tenant, with a proper contract, who has a certain percentage of the capital to do the job.

I feel sure that the bill, providing for an Industrial Development Authority, is going to be passed in the House and placed on the statute books. If we have a Corporation on Industrial Development on our statute books, I believe it will go a long way in alleviating the unemployment which now exists in a portion of our industrial areas. When I speak of western Pennsylvania, I mean to include the hard coal regions of the State which are confronted with the same problem. These coal regions are doing everything they can to bring in new industry and they want, and appreciate, the help of this Commonwealth.

I might say also, Mr. President, that there are very little politics played with our industrial development organizations. There are both Republicans and Democrats on these boards, and most of them are businessmen who are trying to do a job for their community.

I am happy to report, Mr. President, that in my own County of Washington, outside the limits of the city of Washington, we are going to have a new industry by virtue of the work and effort which has been put forth by the Washington County Industrial Development Organization. We are going to have a paper box company move in there, which is going to employ 360 persons to start. Of course, the county has participated in contributing funds and the local businessmen themselves are trying to raise $150,000 as their contribution to this industry because it is going to stabilize, to a great extent, the economy surrounding the city of Washington.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like for the House to consider not only our Industrial Development Authority bill, but also our Industrial Development Corporation bill and pass both of them. If we work at it from both ends, I think we will be doing a good job for the citizens of Pennsylvania and rehabilitate the unemployed and then they will have the dignity of going out and finding a job, and I know they will do a good job as far as rearing and taking care of their families is concerned. Most of the unemployed in Pennsylvania do not want handouts. They want the right to earn a decent living an I think, as representatives in government, we should do everything we can to put those men back where they can earn their own livelihood, because that is all they want. They do not want handouts.

SELECT COMMITTEE OF SENATE TO BE APPOINTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I had some conferences this morning with the President pro tempore of the Senate, and in order to expedite the business of the Senate in the last two weeks of this Session—we hope they are the last two weeks—we are going to follow a procedure which we have had for many years.

Therefore, at this time, Mr. President, I would like to make a motion that the President pro tempore of the Senate be empowered to name a special committee to handle all the bills and resolutions submitted, or coming from the House, during the next two weeks. That should include all bills except those dealing with appropriations which, naturally, must go to the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. WADE. I would like to second that motion, Mr. President, and request that the Senator from Westmoreland state a number on the committee. Perhaps he avoided doing so intentionally.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I avoided doing so intentionally so that the President pro tempore would be able to use his own good judgment in that matter.

The PRESIDENT. It has been moved by the Senator from Westmoreland, and seconded by the Senator from Cumberland, that the President pro tempore of the Senate be empowered to name a special committee for the consideration of all bills with the exception of those bills dealing with appropriations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, under remarks on the motion, I wish to state that I think it is a very good motion. However, I do feel that the committee should not be lopsided. I feel that this Senate has been in Session a long, long time and I know all of us are interested in highly constructive legislation. I feel that the committee should be equal; that is, if there are going to be three Democrats, there should be three Republicans. In that way, all this legislation will be given fair consideration.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. CAMIEL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 517, entitled:

L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code" including within the definition of "Commercial Motor Vehicle" and excluding from the definition of "Motor Omnibus" buses transporting pupils of private and parochial schools and Sunday school children and by regulating the use of commercial motor vehicles.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1040, entitled:

An Act to facilitate vehicular traffic across the Commonwealth by providing for the construction, operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point at or near the City of Chester, Delaware County, thence in a general northerly direction to connect with the Pennsylvania Turnpike System, at such point as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission may decide is most feasible and practicable, and conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission; * * *.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

RECESS

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 1:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

COMMUNICATION

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication which was read by the Clerk as follows:

March 17, 1956.

House of Representatives of Pennsylvania,
Office of the Speaker,
Capitol Building,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Fellow Members:

I want to express my deep appreciation for the individual and collective expressions of good wishes of the Members of the House during my period of incapacitation and confinement in the York Hospital.

Unfortunately, at the present writing I am still so confined and there is no definite indication as to when I will be discharged.

I regret very much missing the activities and associations of these last weeks of what has been a very long but interesting session.

Most sincerely,

CLARENCE M. LAWYER, JR.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 165.

In the House of Representatives, April 2, 1956.

Whereas, the increasing complexity of government makes it more important than ever that the people be given opportunities to understand and judge from first hand information, and

Whereas WTPA-TV, through its weekly program entitled Capitol Correspondents, in which experienced and trained newspapermen interview legislative and governmental officials of widely varying political beliefs, gives such an opportunity, and

Whereas, it is essential that such media of public opinion be encouraged and strengthened in the best interests of the people,

Therefore be it Resolved, that the House of Representatives (with the Senate concurring) commend Station WTPA-TV of Harrisburg its management and employes, for the great public service they are providing by the continued presentation of the Capitol Correspondents program and its free interchange of ideas during the current session of the General Assembly.

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

SUGGESTING THAT ANY STATE-AIDED COLLEGE OR UNIVERSITY IN THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA SHOULD NOT PARTICIPATE IN ANY ATHLETIC PROGRAM WITH ANY OTHER COLLEGE OR UNIVERSITY IN THE UNITED STATES WHICH PRACTICES SEGREGATION

Mr. DONOLOW offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, April 3, 1956.

It is reported that certain universities and colleges in the south are practicing segregation in their athletic programs.

These southern colleges and universities have ruled that their athletic teams should not participate with any university or college having negro players. Many of Pennsylvania-supported colleges and universities participate in sports with such colleges and universities operating under these restrictions; therefore be it

Resolved That the Senate go on record as strongly suggesting that any college or university in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which receives State aid should not participate in any athletic program with any other college or university in the United States which practices segregation or prohibits their teams from participating with colleges or universities which have Negro members; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to all the State-aided colleges and universities in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

BILL OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 223, Printer's No. 624, on third reading, go over in its order, temporarily.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

Senate Bill No. 232, Printer's No. 572;

Senate Bill No. 672, Printer's No. 280;

Senate Bill No. 673, Printer's No. 270; and

House Bill No. 675, Printer's no. 1655.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 996, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949," authorizing and limiting the imposition of a tax for school purposes on certain residents of school districts of the first class A; prescribing the duties of public officials; requiring the filing of returns and the giving of information by employers and those subject to the tax; imposing on employers the duty of collecting the tax at source; providing for the lien and collection of the tax; and imposing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 996, Printer's No. 592, is a bill that would place a wage tax upon the citizens of the city of Pittsburgh in order to maintain our school system.

For the information of the Senate, as you all know, the school board in the city of Pittsburgh is an appointive school board. Its power to levy and assess taxes is limited to that power which is expressly granted to it by the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We, in Pittsburgh, find ourselves in a financial dilemma. I will not say that we are bankrupt because that would be untrue. However, we do find ourselves at a point where the ability to assess further taxes has been saturated. As you gentlemen realize, earlier in this Session we did allow the school board in the city of Pittsburgh the right to increase the millage on real estate one and one-half mills. That has been exercised by the school board and, even with that allowance, we still lack approximately $1,500,000 in order to give the necessary services that a city of the type of which Pittsburgh is should give to its citizens.

Mr. President, the people of Pittsburgh feel that they are entitled to parity with the city of Philadelphia in the receipt of aid from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As you understand, under the present formula, everything is based upon tax assessments and tax valuations on real estate. However, there are other very important elements in the ability of a community to raise its own funds in order to sustain a school system. Among those things is the individual wealth and the income of the people who reside within that community. The city of Pittsburgh has felt all along that upon that basis they are entitled to receive reimbursement from the State on the same basis as is the city of Philadelphia, which is a school district of the first class, with Pittsburgh being a school district of the first class A.

Therefore, Mr. President, we have asked that the State give us that reimbursement. The answer to our plea has been Senate Bill No. 996. In other words, if you in Pittsburgh need these funds, you go ahead and assess an additional tax in the nature of a wage tax. We, in Pittsburgh, do not want that. I know that all of the members of the Allegheny County delegation, on both sides of this Senate, will vote in opposition to this bill. We just cannot have it. We are asking all of you here in the Senate to go along with us and vote down this bill. However, if it is voted down, we are in a dilemma, as I told you. We need House Bill No. 917, which is a bill that would give us for this coming year parity with the city of Philadelphia in so far as reimbursement is concerned.

We have to forestall, so to speak, many things in so far as the operation of our schools in Pittsburgh is concerned. The people of Pittsburgh are quite concerned about the situation. We have a situation now, concerning our teachers, on salaries. Every additional penny that we have received in Pittsburgh, by reason of the one and one-half per mill raise in millage on real estate, has been used to increase the salaries of our teachers. Still, we find ourselves in the position where our teachers are leaving the Pittsburgh school system and going into the suburbs where there is no restriction on the school boards and where they are able to raise sufficient moneys to pay those schoolteachers.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask the Members, in a spirit of fair play toward the school district of the city of Pittsburgh, to defeat this bill and that there be reported from the Committee on Appropriations, House Bill No. 917 which would give us, at least for this year, parity in so far as reimbursement is concerned with the city of Philadelphia.

We have asked this to be made permanent; that was our idea. It was taken then amended to make it only for the biennium. Finally, it was again amended to make it applicable only for this year. I know there are those of you in this Senate who feel that the resources of the school district of the city of Pittsburgh are such that Pittsburgh should not have to ask for parity. However, I say to you people that there is a limit to what the residents of the city of Pittsburgh can contribute toward the upkeep of the general government of this Commonwealth in the amount of taxes that we are paying. We are receiving in return, from the moneys that we pay into the General Fund of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approximately $1.00 on every $40.00 that comes to the State. I think that is an unfair distribution or return. I am asking the Members of this Senate to listen to the plea of those of us from Pittsburgh to defeat this bill and help us to get out of Committee, House Bill no. 917.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Schmidt, I believe, started off his discussion of this bill with an erroneous statement. He said that this bill would place a wage tax on the people of Pittsburgh. I do not believe that it will. If Senator Schmidt would look at the bill as amended, Printer's No. 592, he would see that it permits the imposition of a wage tax or income tax on residents of school districts of the first class by the appointed school board. As I see it, the only reason that the people of this school district now do not have imposed upon them a wage tax is because this school board is appointed.

Therefore, they cannot impose a wage tax upon the people there. Otherwise, they would have the same powers as other school boards have throughout the Commonwealth, under the provisions of Act No. 481 of the 1947 Session of the Legislature.

For instance, many of the people in my District pay a wage tax for the support of the schools. The people of Sharon, the people of Meadville, among others in my District pay such a wage tax which was levied upon them by the school boards under the provisions of Act No. 481. Personally, I cannot see why the school board of the city of Pittsburgh should be appointed. If I had my way about it and had a chance to vote on it, I would vote to have the school board elected the same as all the other school boards in the State of Pennsylvania are elected. However, inasmuch as they are appointed under the present law, we have to give them certain powers. All this bill does, therefore, is give them the same powers that other school boards have throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We are not imposing a wage tax upon the people of Pittsburgh. We are making this home rule, as far as the school board is concerned. If they feel that they want to impose a wage tax, then, under the provisions of home rule government, they have a right to do so.

I also want to assure Senator Schmidt that I am very much in favor of giving the people of Pittsburgh all the money that the other school districts get in the same proportion. I think we should try to be fair with the school district in Pittsburgh. I do not believe that there is a Senator here who wants to shortchange the school district of the city of Pittsburgh. If they can show that they are being shortchanged in any way under the present formula, I think Senator Schmidt will have a lot of friends here to try to put them up where they should be in comparison with the other school districts throughout the Commonwealth. However, that particular is certainly not material as far as this bill is concerned.

This bill is entirely based upon whether or not the Members of this Senate want to give home rule government to this appointive board, so that they may impose the same type of wage tax on the people in that district as other school boards have. I might say that it does not go quite as far as the power that the other school districts have. Other school districts, under Act No. 481, have the power to impose wage taxes on non-residents of the school districts, as I understand it. This would only allow them to impose taxes on residents of the school district. I am not sure of that last statement. I believe we did amend Act No. 481 to provide that school districts could not place such a tax on nonresidents. I am not quite sure of that. However, in any event, Mr. President, all this bill does is to allow this school board to have the same rights and privileges as other school boards have throughout the Commonwealth.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, from Senator Mahany's talk I could not quite determine whether he was for the bill or against the bill. He talked about home rule, and home rule to me is where we have elected officials who are allowed to legislate and impose taxes, rates, et cetera, and who are responsible to the people. This bill is a "may" bill, but these appointed members of the school board have no one to answer to. We, in these legislative halls, must answer to the public when our names appear on the ballot on election day.

I can assure Senator Mahany that if a bill such as this would pass, overnight there would be another wage tax on the people in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, we ask those from Allegheny County to vote against this wage tax involving the city of Pittsburgh's school district. I just want to remind the Members of the Senate that I am opposed to this wage tax or any kind of a wage tax, whether it be for Philadelphia, Pittsburgh or any political subdivision in the Commonwealth. I cannot be opposed to a wage tax in any form, such as we had here last year by the Administration, and then vote for a wage tax such as they are trying to pass today. As I said before, I am opposed to a wage tax of any kind because that is one area of taxation that the Federal Government should have reserved for itself in the form of an income tax.

Mr. President, I am not going to champion the school board in the city of Pittsburgh. Those Members who voted for the wage tax or income tax in 1955, to saddle the entire Commonwealth with a wage tax or an income tax, that was all right. However, to me, it was not. I do not want anybody in this Senate to think that because I am from Allegheny county, I am opposed to a wage tax because it is involved in the city of Pittsburgh. I am opposed to a wage tax, in any form, for any political subdivision in the entire Commonwealth.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, the Majority Leader was correct in stating that this bill does not impose a wage tax on the residents of the city of Pittsburgh. Practically, however, that is what it does. The only way that our school board in the city of Pittsburgh will be able to get any further funds will be through an act that is passed here. If we give them an act such as this and this act provides for a method of levying a wage tax, and if the school board of the city of Pittsburgh, in its wisdom, determines that it is necessary to have additional funds, it will mean a wage tax for the residents of the city of Pittsburgh and nothing else but.

At the present time, Mr. President, we do have a head tax in the city of Pittsburgh. We do levy and asses a head tax in our city and on our people for schools. Our people are paying that tax. Now then, we propose, in addition to the head tax, by this bill, to say to the school board of the city of Pittsburgh, "Ladies and gentleman of the school board of the city of Pittsburgh, we feel bad because of your financial plight. You do have a problem. You have very underpaid schoolteachers and we know that the surrounding communities whose school boards have the right to levy taxes as they see fit, are able to take your schoolteachers away from you. To those schoolteachers who want to remain with the school board of the city of Pittsburgh, the only way that we are going to permit additional funds to be raised in Pittsburgh is by the levying of a wage tax, a one-half of one per cent wage tax."

I do not have to tell you gentlemen of the Senate about the clamor that arose in the city of Pittsburgh when the Mayor and the City Council found it necessary to add a one per cent wage tax, in order to carry out the governmental functions of the city. Of course, that fell not only on the residents of the city of Pittsburgh, but also upon those who found it necessary to come into our city to earn a livelihood. We have now reduced that to one-half of one per cent. However, we do have one-half of one per cent.

It is true, Mr. President, that this tax will not be visited upon residents outside the city of Pittsburgh who earn their livelihood in the city. Yet, that makes the burden that much more difficult upon our residents in Pittsburgh. I think our residents in Pittsburgh rightfully believe that in a way they are being abused by the way the present formula for the reimbursement of school districts operates in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In my book, it is an archaic method because it is all based upon land values. Those who own land in Pittsburgh must carry the burden of our schools. Yes, you will say to me that those who own commercial properties, rental properties, pass it off in the form of rents. However, the average citizen who owns a home in Pittsburgh, outside of the head tax that each and every citizen pays of $5.00, must carry the burden of taxation for our schools in Pittsburgh.

Therefore, we say to you gentlemen, in fairness to a great metropolitan city like the city of Pittsburgh, that you allow us parity with the only school district of the first class in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the school district of Philadelphia, and bring out House Bill No. 917 and then we will not need Senate Bill No. 996. I want to say to you that House Bill No. 917 will mean approximately $800,000 a year in reimbursement to the school district of the city of Pittsburgh. There is not a single gentleman sitting here today, I feel quite certain, who does not feel that justly the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does owe it to the city of Pittsburgh to allow us $800,000 a year in order that our schoolteachers may be better paid and that we may have a healthy school district for our children in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, on a previous occasion, I tried to make my position abundantly clear. My position is that I like to see help given as it is necessary any place in Pennsylvania where school children's interests are concerned and involved. What I have resented, on a previous occasion, was Pittsburgh's position that somehow or other they have been cheated over the years and unless they get as many dollars in Pittsburgh as they get dollars in Philadelphia, the formula is out of whack, the system of school reimbursements is archaic and we are discriminatory and unfair.

In defending the integrity of the Department of Public Instruction and the Legislature of Pennsylvania, it must be said, no matter what they do for Pittsburgh, that that implication is unfair and not well founded. The most recent figures that I have been able to have established for me deal with the year of 1954. In the year of 1954, the market value per teaching unit in Pittsburgh was $770,000, as compared with only $694,000 of taxable property in Philadelphia. However, the ratio of assessment to market value was fifty-three per cent in Pittsburgh and it was sixty-one per cent in Philadelphia. This shows that with less property value back of each unit of pupils, Philadelphia was assessing for school tax purposes eight per cent higher than was Pittsburgh.

If you took the taxes in 1954, you will find that Pittsburgh received $71.63 in that year in the form of all sort of taxes per pupil. Philadelphia received $48.23. The total State appropriations or subsidies to Pittsburgh in 1954 were $65.73 per pupil, whereas they were $62.67 per pupil in Philadelphia. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1954, Mr. President, paid to Pittsburgh $3.06 more per pupil than it paid to Philadelphia. If you want the same amount of money per pupil as Philadelphia receives, you are going to be short. If you want the over-all amount that Philadelphia receives for a larger budget, then you are asking for something that is completely outside of the formula.

Mr. President, I do not want to say a word against Pittsburgh, but I do not like to be abused because I am trying to do what Senator Schmidt and Senator Barr say they want to do, and that is to give the school district of Pittsburgh a chance to do a better job for its teachers and, through its teachers, for its children. You say you want to have better schools and you want more money available for them, but you do not want any tax. I think the last time this issue was up, Senator Barr said that he intended to go back to Pittsburgh and tell the people about this plot; that it was the implication on the part of the Republican Senate to give them a wage tax in Pittsburgh. If it was calculated to be like the ride of Paul Revere, which was made in April,I do not think Senator Barr needs to ride up and down the streets of Pittsburgh and say that the Republicans are coming with their wage tax, because the Democrats have been there.

The question that seems to worry the Democratic Members is whether all the wage tax must be preserved for city council and city government, or whether some of the people's wage tax might be used for their own children in the public schools.

Mr. President, I do not want to get involved in a controversy. I want to say once more that—and I want to say it loudly enough so that those who hear it, if they do not agree with it, will come up with an explanation instead of a theory or a prejudice—the formula of reimbursement for the school districts of Pennsylvania is equitable and fair. If it is not, let us change it. However, let us find out what is wrong with it and not change it just because somebody wants as much money as some larger place is getting. I think we can help Pittsburgh. I have no objection to House Bill No. 917, which gives Pittsburgh $800,000. However, I want to suggest to Senator Schmidt that we have every reason to believe that if we give them House Bill No. 917, they will be $800,000 short next year and the same predicament will face the Legislature as we are in at the present time. I would like to help Pittsburgh from here, if it has to be bailed out, and give Pittsburgh a chance to find its own level so far as school standards are concerned and help to care for them before we meet here again.

Personally, Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill. I have a feeling that any genuine friend of the boys and girls in Pittsburgh, and the school system of Pittsburgh, will not only be in favor of House Bill No. 917, but they will vote for Senate Bill No. 996 as a measure of fairness and opportunity in the days ahead.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, like Senator Wagner, I do not live in Pittsburgh and I did not intend to get into this discussion. However, he brought up a subject that may be discussed a little on this floor.

The Tax Equalization Board, he said, and the method of reimbursing school districts, is fair. There is a difference of opinion on that score and particularly on the part of the people of the city of Pittsburgh. It may interest the Members of this Senate to know that Pittsburgh has the highest real estate valuation on individual properties of any of the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth. Basically, that changes the reimbursable fraction of Pittsburgh. It also may be interesting to note that this Legislature, this year, passed to the school board in Pittsburgh the right to increase millage one and a half mills, which they have already done.

Mr. President, now there must be something basically wrong with a situation that compels a school board, as it were, to pass one and a half mills increased millage for school purposes now, plus an additional opening up of a wage tax proposition for the same school board.

Senator Mahany said that if he had an opportunity, he would vote to make the school board of Pittsburgh an elected body. I believe, too, that would be a partial answer to the problem, in that they then would have the taxing authority which they ought to have. It is difficult for us sitting here in Harrisburg, with just a few Members out of the city of Pittsburgh who have to carry the entire burden, to determine what is best and what is bad for the city of Pittsburgh in regard to school legislation. In every other instance, the Membership of this body, when it votes on legislation affecting education, votes on a State-wide basis. However, in this instance, we are taking the opportunity to say to the Pittsburgh legislators, to the Pittsburgh Senators: "We do not want you to represent your District; we are going to represent it for you."

Now if this were as badly needed as the gentlemen on the other side are saying it is needed, and if it is as worth-while as they say it is, does any one Member of this Senate doubt but what the membership of the Allegheny delegation would vote for it? I think they know the limitations to which their people ought to be taxed in regard to the rest of the State and in relationship to the amount paid by the individual taxpayer for schools. Is there anyone in this room who can say that a taxpayer in the city of Pittsburgh does not pay as much per pupil hour, out of his income, as a taxpayer in Westmoreland or Philadelphia or Schuylkill County? For instance, I know that Schuylkill County has received in nine years $1,609,000 out of the common treasury of the Commonwealth for distressed school districts. Evidently, that money was needed and no one is complaining about it. However, we did not come up with the solution that those still able to pay taxes in Schuylkill County ought to be assessed to a greater degree in order to pay that additional $1,609,000 that the rest of us contributed toward. We have the distressed school district system because of the fact that we recognize that certain areas do become distressed in our economy.

Therefore, Mr. President, the city of Pittsburgh, in trying to work out its problems, should not have to ask its taxpayers to pay a one and a half increased millage upon their real estate, as well as another one-half per cent out of their payroll. I heard more terrible screaming and wailing and gnashing of teeth over the fact that we were going to pass an income tax last year and what it would have done to the little people. To stand here and say that we not only want to tax the little people with a wage tax now, when we have already passed a one and a half increased millage tax upon your home and your real estate, does not seem fair to me.

I do believe it is the obligation of the State to pay this money at this time. I do also believe that the Tax Equalization Board ought to get into the picure a little more thoroughly and come, perhaps, to the realization that Allegheny County, and Pittsburgh especially, has been Democratic for better than a generation and there might be something in that which has predetermined how much shall be paid by the people of Pittsburgh toward their schools as compared to other communities.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I had hoped to answer Senator Mahany immediately following his talk, but those very fine words of Senator Dent are very much appreciated by those of us who are from the city of Pittsburgh.

Senator Mahany, we in Allegheny County and Pittsburgh do not look upon this matter of schools as a partisan matter. Those of us from the County see eye-to-eye on this matter regardless of politics. The schools are no place for politics and those of us who are interested in the schools do not care to make it a political issue. This is neither Democratic thinking nor Republican thinking. We are thinking only of the children who are entitled to a good education in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. President, whatever I have said, and hope to say, is along that line. I am interested in schools, and schools do not teach politics. Schools are for the youngsters regardless of the political beliefs of their parents or of themselves.

Whether or not the present system of an appointive school board is the best thing for Pittsburgh, I have my ideas on that. Personally, I do not like the present appointive system which we have. We do have a high type citizen on our school board. I might say, from a political standpoint, that the majority of the members of our school board out there might be classified as members of the Republican Party. They are most vociferous in their requests to this Legislature that Pittsburgh be given House Bill No. 917 and that we forget the wage tax.

Mr. President, relative to the valuations which have been referred to by Senator Wagner, may I say that all of us have the highest regard for Senator Wagner and his committee and we know that he is not in any way trying to be prejudiced in this matter and there is no intention to reflect any prejudice upon him. He has a committee which is most important. The reimbursement of school districts, as we all know, has been guided by this formula. However, referring back to his figures on the city of Pittsburgh, those figures represent wealth in the city of Pittsburgh which is paying considerable sums of money not only to the city of Pittsburgh, but also into the coffers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Millions and millions of dollars from our corporations in Allegheny County and the city of Pittsburgh come to Harrisburg. That is the way we feel about this matter. After all, we are educating the children of the employees of those corporations. We are doing it and we are happy to do it, but the general over-all load on the owners of real estate is just a little too much for us to bear.

Mr. President, we are not asking for you to give us the same number of dollars and cents on the over-all picture that you give to the school district of the city of Philadelphia, but we are asking you to give us per teaching unit reimbursement on the same basis that you are giving it to the city of Philadelphia. I could go into the inequities of the present system of reimbursement. All you have to do is to take and look at some of the reimbursements that have been made throughout the Commonwealth and those of you who would be impartial would say, "Well, there could be more local effort in this place or in that place." However, under the formula which you now have, because of the amounts of money that the State is mandated to pay back in reimbursement, you are destroying the incentive for local effort in a lot of those communities.

I do not want to embarrass a lot of the Senators sitting here by giving you some of the figures for some of the localities in their Districts that are receiving reimbursements of as high as sixty and seventy per cent of the entire cost of the operation of the school systems in those Districts. Yes, there are some districts that need reimbursement, but there are a lot of them that under our system of reimbursement, based only upon assessments and market valuations, are coming back to the local communities. I do not blame those localities in holding back their local effort in raising additional taxes.

Therefore, Mr. President, we say, give us House Bill No. 917 and defeat this bill, and give Pittsburgh the $800,000 which we feel we are not begging for. We do not come to you as beggars and we do not come to you and tell you that we are distressed school districts, as we know there are distressed school districts. We say to you, instead, that under present conditions, the tax load on the individual property owner in the city of Pittsburgh is too big a load and we ask you to help us out.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I just want the record to be straight. I do not desire to continue a cross-fire which would make this a battle. We are all after the same end result. However, I understand the Senator from Allegheny to say that the school management in Pittsburgh protested against this bill and wanted House Bill No. 917 to pass. I would like to suggest to the gentleman that when the Committee on Education evolved the process of bringing out House Bill No. 917 and also the authorization for a local tax in Pittsburgh, time out was taken from the committee meeting to contact the Pittsburgh School Board and the word from them was that they would be very happy if this opportunity were given them in order to have available more money for school purposes.

I do not want anybody in Pittsburgh to get the idea that this is being foisted upon them by some yokels out in the rural areas, Senator Schmidt, because this was a welcome proposal to those who know the school situation best as it exists in Pittsburgh.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—13

Berger,	Kessler,	Mallery,	Scott,
Diehm,	Madigan,	Peelor,	Stevenson,

Section 7 Examination and Diagnosis of Persons Suspected of Being Infected with Venereal Disease Tuberculosis or any other Communicable Disease or of Being a Carrier

Whenever the Secretary or a local qualified medical health officer has reasonable grounds to suspect any person of being infected with a venereal disease tuberculosis or any other communicable disease or of being a carrier he shall require the person to undergo a medical examination and any other approved diagnostic procedure to determine whether or not he is infected with a venereal disease tuberculosis or any other communicable disease or is a carrier In the event that the person refuses to submit to the examination the Secretary or the local qualified medical health officer may (1) cause the person to be quarantined until it is determined that he is not infected with a venereal disease tuberculosis or any other communicable disease or of being a carrier or (2) file a bill in equity in the court of common pleas of the county in which the person is present to compel him to submit to the examination The court immediately shall order the person to undergo an examination which may be performed by a physician of his own choice at his own expense The examination shall include physical and laboratory tests performed in a laboratory approved by the Secretary and shall be conducted in accordance with accepted professional practices and the results thereof shall be reported to the local health board or health department on forms furnished by the Department of Health Any person refusing to undergo an examination as herein provided may be committed by the court to an institution in this Commonwealth determined by the Secretary of Health to be suitable for the care of such cases

Section 8 Venereal Disease

(a) Any person taken into custody and charged with any crime involving lewd conduct or a sex offense or any person to whom the jurisdiction of a juvenile court attaches may be examined for a venereal disease by a qualified physician appointed by the Department or by the local board or department of health

(b) Any person convicted of a crime or pending trial who is confined in or committed to any State or local penal institution reformatory or any other house of correction or detention may be examined for venereal disease by a qualified physician appointed by the Department or by the local board or department of health

(c) Any such persons noted in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section found upon such examination to be infected with any venereal disease shall be given appropriate treatment by duly constituted health authorities or their deputies or by the attending physician of the institution if any

Section 9 Diagnosis and Treatment of Venereal Disease

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section the Department shall provide or designate adequate facilities for the free diagnosis including blood and other tests of venereal disease and for the free treatment of persons infected with venereal disease when necessary for the preservation of the public health

(b) Upon approval of the Department any local board or department of health may undertake to share the expense of furnishing free diagnosis and free treatment of venereal disease or the local board or department of health may take over entirely or in part the furnishing of free diagnosis and free treatment of venereal disease with or without financial assistance from the Department

Section 10 Sale of Drugs for Venereal Diseases The sale of drugs or other remedies for the treatment of venereal disease is prohibited except under prescription of physicians licensed to practice in this Commonwealth

Section 11 Persons Refusing to Submit to Treatment for Venereal Diseases

(a) If the Secretary or any local health officer finds that any person who is infected with a venereal disease in a communicable stage refuses to submit to treatment approved by the Department or by a local board or department of health the Secretary or the local health officer may file a bill in equity in the court of common pleas of the county in which the person is present to commit such person to an appropriate institution designated by the Department or by the local board or department of health for safekeeping and treatment until the disease has been rendered non-communicable

(b) Any county jail or other appropriate institution may receive persons who are isolated or quarantined by the Department or by a local board or department of health by reason of a venereal disease for the purpose of safekeeping and treatment The Department or the local board or department of health shall reimburse any institution which accepts such persons at the rate of maintenance that prevails in such institution and shall furnish the necessary medical treatment to the persons committed to such institution

Section 12 Premarital examination for syphilis

(a) No license to marry shall be issued until there shall be in the possession of the clerk of the orphans' court a statement or statements signed by a duly licensed physician of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of any other State or Territory or any commissioned medical officer in the United States Army Navy or Air Force or any physician of the Public Health Service of the Federal Government that the applicant within thirty days of the issuance of the marriage license has submitted to an examination to determine the existence or nonexistence of syphilis which examination has included a standard serological test or tests for syphilis and that in the opinion of the examining physician the applicant is not infected with syphilis or if so infected is not in a stage of the disease which is likely to become communicable The physician's statement shall be accompanied by a statement from the person in charge of the laboratory making the test or from some other person authorized to make such statement setting forth the name of the test the date it was made the name and address of the physician to whom a report was sent and the exact name and address of the person whose blood was tested but not setting forth the result of the test

(b) Any applicant for a marriage license who has been denied a physician's statement as required by this section shall have the right of appeal to the Department for a review of the case and the Department shall after appropriate investigation issue or refuse to issue a statement in lieu of the physician's statement required by subsection (a) of this section

(c) The statements required of the physician who examined the applicant and of the person in charge of the laboratory which made the serological or other test shall be uniform throughout the State and shall be upon forms

provided by the Department or upon any comparable forms provided by other states These forms shall be filed by the clerk of the orphans' court separately from the applications for marriage licenses and shall be regarded as confidential by any and every person whose duty it may be to obtain make transmit or receive such information or report

(d) It shall be unlawful for any applicant for a marriage license physician or representative of a laboratory to misrepresent any of the facts prescribed by this act or for any licensing officer failing to receive the statements prescribed by this act of having reason to believe that any of the facts therein have been misrepresented nevertheless to issue a marriage license or for any person to disrgard the confidential character of the information or reports required by this act or for any other person otherwise to fail to comply with the provisions of this section

(e) Any judge of an orphans' court within the county in which the license is to be issued is authorized and empowered on joint application by both applicants for a marriage license to waive the requirements as to medical examination laboratory tests and certificates and to authorize the clerk of the orphans' court to issue the license if all other requirements of the marriage laws have been complied with and the judge is satisfied by affidavit or other proof that the examination or tests are contrary to the tenets or practices of the religious creed of which the applicant is an adherent and that the public health and welfare will not be injuriously affected thereby

Section 13 Prenatal Examination for Syphilis

(a) Every physician who attends treats or examines any pregnant woman for conditions relating to pregnancy during the period of gestation or at delivery shall take or cause to be taken unless the woman dissents a sample of blood of such woman at the time of first examination or within fifteen days thereof and shall submit the sample to an approved laboratory for an approved serological tesst for syphilis All other persons permitted by law to attend pregnant women but not permitted by law to take blood samples shall unless the woman dissents likewise cause a sample of the blood of every such pregnant woman attended by them to be taktn by a physician licensed to practice in this Commonwealth and submit it to an approved laboratory for an approved serological test In the event of dissent it shall be the duty of the physician to explain to the pregnant woman the desirability of such a test The serological test required by this section shall be made without charge by the Department upon the request of the physician submitting the sample if he submits a certificate that the patient is unable to pay

(b) In reporting every birth and fetal death physicians and others required to make such reports shall state upon the certificate whether or not the blood test required by this section was made If the test was made the date of the test shall be given if the test was not made it shall be stated whether it was not made because in the opinion of the physician the test was not advisable or because the woman dissented

Section 14 Diagnostic Tests for Venereal Diseases For the purpose of this act a standard or approved test procedure for each of the venereal diseases shall be a test approved by the Department and if a laboratory test is part of the approved procedure it shall be made in a laboratory approved to make such tests by the Department

Section 15 Confidentiality of Reports and Records State and local health authorities may not disclose reports of diseases any records maintained as a result of any action taken in consequence of such reports or any other records maintained pursuant to this act or any regulations to any person who is not a member of the Department or of a local board or department of health except where necessary to carry out the purposes of this act State and local health authorities may permit the use of data contained in disease reports and other records maintained pursuant to this act or any regulation for research purposes subject to strict supervision by the health authorities to insure that the use of the reports and records is limited to the specific research purposes

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. DONOLOW, DENT, MAHANY and WATKINS read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1062, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the thirty-first day of August, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five (Pamphlet Laws) (Act No. 131) entitled "An act permitting and regulating wrestling and boxing contests and exhibitions; . . . "by making certain technical changes and by adding provisions concerning safety regulations and matchmakers.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. DENT and MAHANY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1063, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 4, 1945 (P. L. 1388) entitled "Administrative Agency Law" changing provisions relating to regulation of administrative agencies of this Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Messrs. DENT, YOSKO and SCOTT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1064, entitled:

An Act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth; creating a body corporate and politic to be known as the Commonwealth Mental Health Research Foundation for the purpose of supporting, encouraging and financing research in the field of mental health; providing for the administration and operation of the Foundation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, this resolution which I am about to introduce constitutes a new assignment to the Joint State Government Commission. It deals with the sales and the brands of liquors in our Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board monopoly.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A THOROUGH AND COMPREHENSIVE SURVEY OF THE PURCHASING METHODS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. IS there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 3, 1956.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, an independent administrative agency, regulates the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, inportation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages; and

Whereas, It has the right to determine the nature, form, and capacity of all packages and original containers used for liquor, alcohol, and malt or brewed beverages; and

Whereas, Not only private citizens, but clubs, hotels, and restaurants with licenses to sell liquor by the drink are obliged to purchase their supplies at the State Stores; and

Whereas, The Board is said to be the largest buyer of liquor in the world, with total cash receipts for the biennium ended May 31, 1955 of $470,000,000—$424,000,000 of which was derived from the sale of liquor; and

Whereas, Modern and efficient purchasing methods are essential if the interests of clubs, hotels, restaurants, and the public at large be adequately served; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough and comprehensive survey of the purchasing methods of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and of similar boards in other states; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, inasmuch as this resolution would authorize the Joint State Government Commission to make a study of the purchasing methods of the Liquor Control Board, and since I understand that if the bill of Senator Dent's and mine is enacted into law, all the Members of the Legislature will be Members of the Joint State Government Commission and also that the standing committees of the House and Senate will function in the interim, I believe this would be a job that could be very well done by one of these committees.

Therefore, Mr. President, I will not object to its immediate consideration.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 172, ADOPTED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion for the adoption of this resolution, and I ask my colleagues to vote for it.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. STEVENSON, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1055, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 7, 1901 (P. L. 491) entitled "An act authorizing municipalities to define and fix the terms for the use of public parks, or grounds of any kind, for railroad purposes," extending such authority.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, recently we passed Senate Bill No. 215 which, in my opinion, was a very constructive piece of school legislation. As you know, in the provisions of this bill, it permits the State to participate in the financing of school buildings constructed by the method of using the sinking fund of a district, as well as by the use of an authority. There is, however, one defect in this bill, I believe, which needs remedy. Although the time is late in this Session, I think this is a bill which well deserves our attention.

Second class school districts in the Commonwealth, Mr. President, are not members of county boards. They have no representation on county boards and, therefore, have no share in drawing up county plans. According to the provisions of Senate Bill No. 215, which was passed, it is necessary for a second class school district, in order to avail itself of the assistance offered in this bill, to conform to county plans. That means they would have to conform to a plan in which they had no share in the making of it. Second class school districts are not represented on county boards.

The purpose of the bill that I am offering, Mr. President, is to correct that situation, to make the second class school districts conform in every detail to the same standards set up for any school district except that they would not need to have the approval of the county board of which they are not a part. I believe this is an important bill and I hope, in spite of the lateness of the Session, it will receive consideration from the committee.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SEYLER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1065, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949" changing standards for approval by the Department of Public Instruction of leases and sinking fund charges entered into or incurred by school districts of the second class.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 324, Printer's No. 546, on second reading, go over in its order, temporarily.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SENATE BILL No. 1021 CALLED UP

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I call up from page 1 of today's Final Passage Calendar, Senate Bill No. 1021, Printer's No. 587, which went over in its order temporarily.

FINAL PASSAGE CALENDAR

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

Tthe Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1021, as follows:

An Act authorizing the recovery of damages from parents of children destroying property

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The Commonwealth its political subdivisions and any person whose property is wilfully or maliciously destroyed by a child under the age of eighteen years may recover from his parents actual damages to the property in an amount not to exceed one hundred fifty dollars ($150) in an action in assumpsit if he is living with his parents at the time the property is destroyed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I hope that the Senate will be patient with me. I had not thought that Senate Bill No. 1021 would come up today. Had I known it, probably I would not have spoken so long on the Allegheny County bill. However, as you gentlemen know, when Senate Bill No. 1021 was on the Calendar a couple of weeks ago, I stood in opposition to this bill.

Mr. President, we have in Pennsylvania a system of Juvenile Courts. We have set it up and we have given that system a method by which it should operate. Once you start to peck away at the right of the Juvenile Court and once you start to impose certain exceptions to the law and start to set up new remedies, then you begin to break down the system of the Juvenile Court. So that I may be perfectly understood, I am just as much interested in punishment of vandalism by juveniles as is the sponsor of this bill. I might also say that I feel that the sponsor of the bill is very sincere in his sponsorship of this type of legislation. I believe that he thinks that this is the answer to a problem. I, just as sincerely, feel that this is not the answer to the problem. I feel that we are interfering with the functioning of the Juvenile Court system.

This is a novel piece of legislation in so far as Pennsylvania jurisprudence is concerned. Up until this bill came on the Calendar, Pennsylvania, as a common law State, recognized that you cannot hold parents of minors to be responsible for the wrongs of those minors. In espousing this type of legislation, you are absolutely attempting to change a system that has long been a part of the jurisprudence of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. You are also changing it in another way. You are taking an action that is known as a tort, a wrongful doing in Pennsylvania, and you are making the method of recovery which is a method that is known as a method in contract, an action in assumpsit, based upon some sort of an oral or written agreement to do or pay something. You are saying to the parents of the youths in Pennsylvania that if their children, through their misbehavior,—and God, alone, knows that none of us can predict the behavior of not only juveniles, but of adults themselves—should commit a willful and a deliberate depredation upon property of the people of Pennsylvania, then you, the parents, will be liable in an action of assumpsit to the extent of $150.

First of all, you and I know that most of these depredations, which the good Senator is trying to stop, result in damage amounting to thousands of dollars. School houses, public buildings or anything that has to do with public property have been damaged by vandalism by adults as well as juveniles to the extent of thousands of dollars. By this legislation, you propose to stop it in the future by saying to the parents of the children of this Commonwealth that if you do not watch your child twenty-four hours a day, be with him in every place that he goes, be in his company wherever he goes, and if your child should go berserk and damage public property, then you, the parent, by reason of the fact that you brought into this world a child, will be responsible to the extent of $150. You may be sued in that squire's office in the neighborhood or you may be taken to some squire in some neighboring neighborhood, and he is to determine whether or not your child, who may be among several children who committed this depredation, was the one who did it; that he did it willfully and maliciously and yet you are responsible for the payment of those damages.

We, in Pittsburgh, pride ourselves on a Juvenile Court that we feel has answered a much needed purpose in our community. Our authorities in that Juvenile Court have been pretty well able to handle this juvenile problem. They not only have authority over the juvenile himself, but where they feel that the parent is responsible by reason of willful neglect, then that parent can be punished. Many of you do not realize that that parent can be punished to the extent of being sent to jail by that Juvenile Court.

That Juvenile Court, in its infinite wisdom, also has the right to say to a parent, "You are responsible for the behavior of this child and we expect you to pay the damages." It may amount to perhaps more than $150. If the parent does not pay it, the court can say, "We are going to take this child of yours away from you. You have not shown ability to control your child and you are going to share the responsibility of paying the damage that that child committed." They can tell the parent, if he does not do it, that the court feels that the child should be committed to an institution where the State will supply a parent to direct the activities of that child.

By doing this, you are going to set up a system of Juvenile Courts in the offices of your justices of the peace in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Before long, after you have done this, somebody else is going to get a brain child and some other piece of legislation that they think will be deterrent to juvenile delinquency will be presented. Maybe this Legislature will see fit to pass it and before long, you will have tied the hands of the authorities of the Juvenile Court.

So I say to you gentlemen of this Senate, think well before you vote on this bill. Think of the consequences that will happen to our system of juvenile jurisprudence as well as to our general system of jurisprudence dealing with the question of damages, of negligence, of torts and the fact that you are going to set up an action known as assumpsit, which is actually an action in trespass. I think, too, that the courts might have some say if this act passes, and is signed by the Governor, as to whether or not this type of legislation is constitutional.

As I said, I know that the sponsor is sincere in his thought that this may be a deterrent. I have been told that this legislation is also the brain child of a well known veterans organization, which organization I respect. However, I say rather than try to correct this by this type of legislation, we should increase the laws giving further authority to Juvenile Courts and let the Juvenile Courts handle this matter in line with the entire problem of juvenile delinquency. If you do that, you will be giving greater consideration to the interest of the children and the parents of this Commonwealth than if you pass this type of legislation.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this debate—my illustrious leader here says "don't"—but I am going to. Senator Dent says I am going to lose a vote. However, this is one time when a dentist is going to try and clear up some things for a lawyer about some legal language contained in Senate Bill No. 1021.

As I understand it, Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 1021 does not take away any of the rights which now exist under our common law. People can recover damages up to $1,000 under common law. We had the example of the killing of a very famous and very expensive steer, and under the common law that damage could be recovered.

The reason I introduced Senate Bill No. 1021 was because I was encouraged by reading and learning that in Michigan, where this law has been in effect for just two years, juvenile delinquency has been redeuced as much as fifty and sixty per cent. If this bill will do that, then I consider it a worth-while measure.

Mr. President, I do not care what Senator Schmidt says about Juvenile Courts. If this law can reduce juvenile delinquency in Michigan, it can do it in Pennsylvania.

I want to say, as I said the other day, Mr. President, that if people can recover damages done by animals, such as damages done by a cat or a dog in gardens, then I say people should be responsible for the damages that their children willfully make. I think the effect this will have on a child, when he realizes that the parent is responsible to the extent of $150 and the parent may take away the child's weekly allowance because of damage done to other people's property, is that it will make that child think twice before he gangs up with a group of other children and goes into school houses and upsets desks, tears books and maybe breaks windows or any of the damages that children are doing now. The children think that this destruction is only a prank because nobody is penalized. They get a little tongue lashing from some judge or some social worker and that is the end of it. Then they turn around the next week and do the same thing over again.

Incidentally, Mr. President, the bill as originally written provided for the recovery of damages to the extent of $300, but the committee saw fit to reduce this amount to $150 and I agreed to it.

That is about all I have to say regarding this bill. However, there is one more thing I want to say, Mr. President, and that is we have seen in the papers, and heard on the radio, that a lot of this juvenile delinquency is caused by the delinquency of the parents themselves.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, Mr. Schmidt may have been right on his Allegheny legislation, but I do feel that he is wrong in his arguments against this bill.

I am not going to speak long, Mr. President, because we discussed this bill at length some two weeks ago. I do know, however, that vandalism and juvenile delinquency are serious problems in Philadelphia. I do know that our board of education and a great majority of the city of Philadelphia, feels that legislation of this type will help to reduce vandalism and juvenile delinquency.

Senator Schmidt said that this legislation will not cure juvenile delinquency. There is not one single piece of legislation which can be a cure-all. All we expect this legislation to do is to help the situation.

Therefore, Mr. President, I feel we ought to pass this legislation. It is good sound legislation and it will not interfere with the duties of our Juvenile Courts at all.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, when this bill was up before, I made a short talk on its provisions and if you will recollect, I voted against it.

On Saturday morning of this past week, a respected citizen of my community, C. Ward Eicher, eighty years of age and First Assistant District Attorney of Westmoreland County for many years, who devoted the major part of a lifetime of public work to the question of juveniles and the problems of youth, called me and asked me to reconsider my vote on this legislation. He gave me some strong, logical arguments based upon years and years of experience. I promised him that before I voted, I would call him and let him know what my final decision was.

Within an hour after he talked to me, C. Ward Eicher, had a fatal heart attack and died. I feel, in a matter of conscience here today, that I am going to reverse my position on this legislation and out of the memory of his request, and the many years he devoted to the study of this problem, I intend to vote "aye."

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—38

Barr,	Haluska,	Peelor,	Van Sant,
Berger,	Hays,	Propert,	Wade,
Blass,	Harney,	Ruth,	Wagner,
Camiel,	Kessler,	Scott,	Watkins

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes, for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Highways.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanmous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LANE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1066, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor and the Board of Trustees of California State Teacher College, to acquire tracts of land for the use of California State Teachers College, and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WAGNER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1067, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" clarifying provisions relating to school directors, county superintendents, assistant county superintendents, supervisors of special education, district superintendents and payment of certain salaries.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

RULES COMMITTEE OF SENATE TO CONSIDER ALL BILLS, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF APPROPRIATION BILLS

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members, last week it was the thought of the leadership on both sides that a special committee ought to take charge of all the bills coming from the House and being introduced at this time, with the exception of appropriation bills, in order to expedite the adjournment sine die. However, after considerable discussion and reverting back to the historical procedure in this Senate, I would like to now make a motion which will supersede the motion made last week, to wit:

Mr. President, I now move that all bills introduced in the Senate and returned from the House for any action required by the Senate, with the exception of appropriation bills, be referred to the Committee on Rules in the Senate.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. It has been moved by Senator Dent, and second by Senator Taylor, that all bills introduced at this time or coming from the House, with the exception of appropriation bills, be referred to the Committee on Rules.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. Dent asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members, I am going to present a bill at this time, on which I would like to have immediate consideration. The bill was prepared at the direction of the Budget Secretary of the Commonwealth and authorizes the borrowing of $75,000,000, or any part thereof, from the Motor License Fund and the transfer of such money to the General Fund.

The borrowed money is to be used for the payment of ordinary and usual expenses of State government and is to be returned to the Motor License Fund in accordance with the provisions of Article IX, Section 18, of the Constitution. The bill would become effective the first day of June, 1956.

Mr. President, the borrowing of this money will enable the government to postpone as long as possible, and if not avoid, the issuance of tax anticipation notes. As you all know, the rate of interest has increased rapidly on the tax anticipation notes. We have discovered that under Aritcle IX Section 18, of the Constitution, we can take unexpended funds from the Motor License Fund, but the constitutional amendment provides for the manner in which the money must be returned.

I am going to ask that this bill be given very serious and early consideration in order that we can forestall the issuance of tax anticipation notes, thereby costing the State government a great deal more money.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT. read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1068, entitled:

An Act authorizing a loan and transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the borrowed money.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WHALLEY, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1010, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code," authorizing erection of warning or protective devices during work on highways.

Mr. JOHNSON IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has requested the present occupant of the Chair to preside temporarily.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

O Christ, Thou Who art the King of the kingdom that hath no end, we invoke Thy blessing of strength and life and redeeming grace to rest upon these Representatives and all the employes of this free Assembly.

O Lord, Thou Who art life and immortality, we thank Thee for the shining fact of Thy resurrection, for the radiant reality of the assurance of a living Christ and that even as He rose from the dead, we also shall rise.

God grant that we may so live with that unconquerable spirit in our souls that we shall do that which is pleasing in Thy sight.

Praise be to Thee, our matchless King through all eternity. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, April 2, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise for the purpose of requesting a recess in order to hold a Democratic Caucus immediately. I would suggest that the recess extend until 1:00 p. m.

I would request the Members to report to the Democratic Caucus Room immediately upon the calling of the recess.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, there will also be a Republican Caucus at the same time. May I ask the Majority Leader what time he said it will be?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I suggested we have the caucus immediately, but that we recess until 1:00 o'clock in order that the Members might be given sometime to eat before they return.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would ask then, Mr. Speaker, that the minority Members immediately go to caucus.

I think it might be advisable too, in view of the fact that it is raining outside and the cafeteria will be rather jammed before 12:00 to suggest that around 1:00 o'clock would be a better time to go down to the cafeteria. If we caucus immediately, we can eat lunch immediately afterward.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 1:00 p. m. for the purpose of holding a Democratic and a Republican Caucus. The chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. POLEN. HOUSE BILL No. 2102.

An Act making an appropriation to the State Treasurer for the purpose of paying salaries and wages of State officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses in the interim between the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and such time as the funds provided by the General Appropriation Act and other appropriation acts become available and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Br. Messrs. A. PATRICK BRENNAN and THOMAS H. W. JONES HOUSE BILL No. 2103.

An Act amending the act of May 15, 1933 (P. L. 624), entitled, as amended, "An act relating to the business of banking, and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations; providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers, and of banking corporations, with or without fiduciary powers, including the conversion of National banks into State banks, and for the licensing of private bankers and employes' mutual banking associations; defining the rights, powers, duties, liabilities, and immunities of such corporations, of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business, with or without fiduciary powers, of private bankers and employes' mutual banking associations, and of the officers, directors, trustees, shareholders, attorneys, and other employes of all such corporations, employes' mutual banking associations or private bankers, or of affiliated corporations, associations, or persons, restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation, association, or person, and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts, prothonotaries, recorders of deeds, and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts," limiting the establishment and maintenance of branch banks.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Johnson for Mr. LEISEY for the week because of illness.

Mr. Breisch for Mr. KEHLER for today's session because of illness.

Mr. Wilt for Mr. GIBB for today's session.

Mr. Lippincott for Mr. CONNELLY because of illness.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mrs. VARALLO asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend her remarks in the record with reference to House Resolution No. 131 as follows:

I. ANALYSIS OF RELEVANT LEGAL ISSUES.

The basic procedure for state regulations, examination, qualification and licensing of physicians in Pennsylvania is set forth in the Medical Practice Act of 1911 which establishes a Board of Medical Education and Licensure within the Department of Public Instruction. The powers and duties of this administrative tribunal and the manner in which it is to exercise these delegated functions are contained within its several provisions; the Medical Practice Act establishes the size and composition of the Board, formulates working rules relating to quorums, and describes the various functions to be carried out by the members thereof. The Act provides that "the Department of Public Instruction shall have the power, and its duty shall be . . . to determine, value, standardize, and regulate the preliminary education, both secondary and collegiate, of those to be hereafter admitted to the practice of medicine, dentistry, and pharmacy in this Commonwealth." As one of fifteen administrative bodies with the Department of Public Instruction, the Board of Medical Education and Licensure is charged with the duty of determining the professional status of the various medical schools whose graduates seek licenses to engage in the practice of medicine within the Commonwealth.

"It shall be the duty of the Board (of Medical Education and Licensure) in its discretion, periodically to ascertain the character of the instruction and the facilities possessed by each of the various medical educational institutions and hospitals desiring interns, either chartered under the laws of this Commonwealth or operating therein, for the teaching of the various departments of medicine in accordance with the requirements of this act. It shall further be the duty of the board (of Medical Education and Licensure) by inspection and otherwsie, to ascertain the facilities and qualifications of medical institutions, colleges, or hospitals outside this Commonwealth, whose graduates or internes desire to obtain medical licensure in this state. (Italics supplied.) Purdon's Pennsylvania Statutes, Title 63, S. 402.

The Medical Practice Act of 1911 is not a sweeping delegation of power to an administrative tribunal nor are its mandates vague directives violative of constitutional requirements. The responsibilities of the Board and the manner in which they are to be discharged are clearly charted in unequivocal language. With respect to passing judgment upon the character and quality of foreign medical schools, the Board of Medical Education and Licensure is charged by law to utilize customary rational techniques of evaluation of which inspection is one.

It is submitted that the present Board has, for almost a decade, flagrantly violated the Medical Practice Act of 1911, and has carried out its rule-making function in an arbitrary discriminatory, and unauthorized manner.

Prior to 1941, in the normal exercise of its duties and powers, the Board of Medical Education and Licensure routinely approved as qualified candidates for examination graduates of Italian medical faculties. After the outbreak of World War II with the ensuing disruption of diplomatic relations between the United States and the Axis powers, these graduates matricuating after 1941 became ineligible for licensure. As part of the programme and orientation of a nation at war this action had coherence and meaning. The resumption of normal diplomatic and commercial relations with these nations did not, however, appear to the Board a pertinent change of circumstance requiring a re-evaluation of this position. As late as 1954, in reply to an inquiry to a Pennsylvania citizen who was a graduate of the medical school of the University of Rome concerning licensure, the Chairman of the Board of Medical Education and Licensure stated flatly:

". . . No graduates of the University of Rome Medical School who matriculated after 1941 have the right to be serving as internship in any Pennsylvania hospital. Such a graduate is not eligible for Pennsylvania examinations."

At no time since the cessation of hostilities between Italy and the United States has the Board of Medical Education and Licensure published an official opinion setting forth the grounds for its continuing prohibition against these schools. Nor has it discharged its statutory responsibility of ascertaining the character and quality of these schools. Other state boards of medical licensure, operating under statutes akin to the Act of 1911, have not displayed so cavalier a disdain. For example, in 1949, after a tour of direct inspection by the corresponding New York Board of Medical Licensure, graduates of Italian medical schools were admitted as candidates in good standing to examination in that state.

The adamance of the Board in its position upon this question is clearly illustrated by two of its recent decisions, each of which display an intense disregard of both the law and lawmaking bodies of the Commonwealth.

In 1952 a joint resolution of both chambers of the Assembly and bearing the imprimatur of the Governor authorized the Board to extend official recognition to Italian medical schools. This resolution was rejected in toto by the Board, as evidenced by the statements of its chairman to applying graduates of these schools. (Vide communication, Supra.) Furthermore in an unparalleleled exercise of administrative rule-making, the Board denies customary reciprocal recognition to these graduates who are duly licensed in other jurisdictions. In no other instance of reciprocal recognition does the Board peer behind the determination of fitness made by the sister state. Thus, an American citizen and resident of this Commonwealth who has been admitted to medical practice in the neighboring states of New Jersey, or New York, for example, may not at any time in his life, practice his profession in this Commonwealth without incurring prosecution under the Medical Practice Act.

The continuing rejection by the Board of these graduates would appear to be directly violative of the provisions of the Medical Practice Act, and under general principles of the constitutionality of the acts of administrative agencies results in a serious deprivation of due process. The initial policy and all the techniques by which it has been perpetuated and implemented constitute illegal, arbitrary, and capricious acts exceeding the scope of express and implied power under the parent statute.

Furthermore, by denying reciprocal recognition to Pennsylvania citizens licensed in other jurisdictions but who are graduates of Italian medical schools, the Board does violence to the fundamental guarantees of due process and equal protection of the laws contained in both the Constitutions of the United States and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

II. Relevant Consideration of Public Policy.

The enunciation by the Board of its unqualified rejection of these schools reveals not only a flouting of legal responsibility, but displays an appalling insensitivity on its part to recent regional, national, and international developments.

In the period 1950-1954 the number of foreign-trained physicians admitted to practice in the various states steadily increased; in this short span 2,784 joined the ranks of practising physicians. In view of the extreme shortage of trained personnel in hospitals nad clinics these physicians represented at least a partial solution to the crisis in national health services.

As early as February, 1950, in anticipation of this problem on a national scale, the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association and the Executive Council of the Association of American Medical Colleges published a list of foreign medical schools whose graduates were thereby recommended for consideration on the same basis as schools hitherto approved by this joint body. Accompanying the dissemination of this list was the following proviso:

". . . This is offered as an advisory list for the use of any agency or organization that finds it helpful . . . The position of the Council with respect to schools not named in this list is that they neither approved nor disapproved of them. The credentials of graduates of schools not listed must be evaluated by those other agencies, organizations or institutions to whom graduates of the institutions apply for recognition.

(Journal of the American Medical Association, v. 158, No. 4, May 28, 1955.)

Italy was not included in this list. However, 24 of the 36 states accepted by the American Association heeded the official admonition not to be bound by the list. In two-thirds of the states accepted, therefore, other counties, including Italy, have been added to the list. These states, representing the most influential and densely populated areas of the nation are: Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia and West Virginia.

The Board's stand with respect to this list is shrouded in the same penumbra of confusion generally characterizing its pronuciamentos. While ostensibly following the list by rejecting Italian medical graduates the Board, at the same time, declared that all Chinese and Japanese medical schools were acceptable, despite the fact that the list omitted Japan entirely, and named only the graduates of the last class (1943) of the Peiping Union Medical College as the Chinese representatives.

In this era of international interdependence and cooperation to preserve the fruits of Western civilization, Italy, has emerged as a vital cultural force. Her artistic and scientific renaissance has been hailed as a striking indication of the vitality and genius of the European tradition. Through the devoted efforts of diplomats and official representatives in both nations the channels of intercourse and communication between Italy and the United States are widening. In the face of the present aura of mutual admiration and respect between the two nations, the degrading and unfounded concept adopted by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania toward Italian medical schools creates tension and bitterness across the Atlantic. In retaliation against this stand, for example, the Italian government recently declared its intention not to issue further licenses to American-trained physicians. The diplomatic representative of the Republic of Italy to this Commonwealth has indicated on many occasions his profound concern for the impact of this situation upon Italo-American relationships generally.

Important community values are at stake if the Board is permitted to continue in its present illegal course; the preservation of an open society whose members are free to compete and to pursue careers under the full and equal protectection of the law; the alleviation of an acute crisis in the supply of medical personnell; the preservation of an international milieu of friendship and mutual respect; the strengthening of intercultural exchanges between free nations. It is ironic and tragic that the Board of Medical Education and Licensure regulating a profession whose entire dedication is to humanity engages in so irresponsible and unconscionable social behavior. But as a government of laws rather than men—even men in white—we can substitute order for confusion, justice for whimsy, reason for caprice.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. We have present in the Hall of the House today a former Member, the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Wilson L. Yeakel, who was a Member of this House from 1923 to 1953, the second in seniority.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1984 as follows:

An Act requiring bonds issued by Authorities to be offered for sale at open and competitive bidding and specifying the procedure therefor

Section 1 Whenever any housing authority municipality authority parking authority public auditorium authority or any other authority desires to borrow money and issue bonds therefor it shall sell such bonds to the highest responsible bidder or bidders In the case of authorities which are not State-wide the sale shall take place after public notice by advertisement in at least one and not more than two newspapers of general circulation in the municipality in which the Authority has its principal office and in the legal journal if any designated by the rules of court for the publication of legal notices and advertisements When the notice is inserted in a daily newspaper it shall be inserted three times at intervals of not less than three days and when inserted in weekly newspapers and legal journals it shall be inserted only twice once a week for two successive weeks The first advertisement shall be inserted not less than fifteen days before the day fixed for the opening of bids

In the case of State-wide authorities the sale shall take place after public notice by advertisement once a week for three weeks in not less than six or more than twelve newspapers of large general circulation in different parts of the Commonwealth the first advertisement to be inserted not less than fifteen days before the day fixed for the opening of bids Bonds of State-wide authorities may be sold to the State Employes' Retirement Board School Employes' Retirement Board or to any other custodial board or fund or to the State Employes' Retirement Fund without advertisement or competitive bidding

The bonds may be advertised for sale in accordance with this section and may be conditionally sold before or after the resolution authorizing the issue of the bonds has been adopted but if advertised for sale prior to the adoption of the resolution the advertisement shall first be authorized by a proper resolution of the Authority as the case may be

Section 2 The notice shall contain (1) a general description of the bonds to be sold (2) the manner place and time of the sale or the time limit for the receipt of proposals (3) the name of the officer to whom bids or proposals shall be delivered and (4) a statement that bidders must accompany their bids or proposals with a certified check cashier's check or treasurer's check drawn to the order of the Authority or its treasurer or a sum of money equal to not less than two percent of the face amount of the bonds offered for sale to secure the Authority against any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid or proposal

Section 3 Every bid or proposal shall be in writing and shall be placed in a sealed envelope sufficiently labeled to indicate that it is a bid or proposal for bonds by the bidder before being delivered to the officer designated to receive it

Section 4 At the time and place fixed in the notice the bids or proposals shall be publicly opened by an officer or agent of the authority

Section 5 The highest responsible bidder shall be the one who having complied with the conditions of sale offers to take the whole amount of bonds offered for sale at the lowest net interest cost to the Authority which shall be determined by ascertaining the total amount of interest computed from the date of the bonds to the maturities thereof at the rates named in the proposal plus the amount of any discount from the principal amount of the bonds or less the amount of any premium in excess of the principal amount of the bonds named in the proposal

The Authority shall have the right to repect all bids or proposals and advertise the sale anew by the publication of a notice in manner and form as provided in this section

Section 6 The deposit required of each bidder shall be returned to each unsuccessful bidder immediately upon the award of the bonds or the rejection of all bids In the case of the successful bidder the deposit shall be held by the treasurer and be applied on the purchase price when the bonds are actually delivered and paid for

Section 7 Where bonds are advertised for sale and no legal bid is received it shall be lawful for the Authority to sell them at private sale at any time within six months from the date of sale in accordance with the terms originally advertised and at a rate of interest not exceeding the maximum rate originally advertised

Section 8 The following acts are repealed in so far as they provide for the private sale of bonds

(1) The act of May 28, 1937 .(P. L. 955) known as the "Housing Authorities Law"

(2) The act of May 2, 1945 (P. L. 382) known as the "Municipality Authorities Act of 1945"

(3) The act of June 5, 1947 (P. L. 458) known as the "Parking Authority Law"

(4) The act of July 29, 1953 (P. L. 1034) known as the "Public Auditorium Authorities Law"

Section 9 All other acts and parts of acts general local and special are repealed in so far as they are inconsistent herewith

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 1379, Printer's No. 1196, on page 3 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1430, as follows:

An Act amending the act of April 21, 1915 (P. L. 159) entitled "An act relating to the competency of witnesses and to the rules of evidence in proceedings arising from the exercise of the right of eminent domain" providing for the admission of certain evidence and the effect thereof

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The act of April 21, 1915 (P. L. 159) entitled "An act realting to the competency of witnesses and to the rules of evidence in proceedings arising from the exercise of the right of eminent domain" is amended by adding after section 2 a new section to read

Section 3 In all proceedings arising from exercise of the right of eminent domain evidence shall be admissible bearing upon the unsanitary unsafe or sub-standard condition of the premises or the illegal use thereof or the enhancement of income from such illegal use and such evidence may be considered in fixing the compensation to be paid notwithstanding that no steps to remedy or abate such conditions have been taken by the department or officers having jurisdiction If a violation order is on file against the premises in any such department it shall constitute prima facie evidence of the existence of the condition specified therein

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1544, Printer's No. 1533

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson to preside temporarily.

Mr. JOHNSON IN THE CHAIR

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1774, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 20, 1915 (P. L. 566), entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities, and all county or other public employes, if any, paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof, and out of the treasury of said cities; and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions," extending the time for claiming credit for service with a school district of the first class.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, last line of title, by inserting after "class" and increasing the time of service which may be claimed.

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 11), page 2, line 20, by inserting a bracket before "twenty" and after "of" where it appears the second time.

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 11), page 3, line 3, by striking out "six months" and inserting in lieu "one year."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question?

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1855 as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 533) entitled "An act relating to mental health including mental illness mental defect epilepsy and inebriety and amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by changing existing law for the commitment of persons who become insame after the death penalty is fixed or death sentence imposed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a slow roll call and that only those be recorded who are in the House. There may be a verification of the roll requested.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether he has any objections to the amendments proposed in this bill, and, if so, what they are?

Mr. AUKER. I object to the bill, Mr. Speaker. I am voting "no" on the bill. I just want to be sure we get a correct vote on the bill. I did not know there were any amendments offered to it.

Mr. READINGER. For the information of the gentleman, may I state that the bill itself amends the law. I am wondering what his objections are to the admendments that are in the bill, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, if I understand it, then the gentleman is asking me what my objections are to the bill?

Mr. READINGER. That is right, Mr. Speaker. The bill itself amend the law.

Mr. AUKER. I could stand here all day. I think it is a ripper bill and gives too much authority to the Governor, Mr. Speaker. I think we are getting along all right under the present law. I have not heard of any trouble about it and I do not know why it should be changed.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman who now appoints the comptrollers, Mr. Speaker, on the General State Authority, the State Public School Building and the State Highway and Bridge Authority?

Mr. AUKER. I do not know, Mr. Speaker. I will be frank enough to say from the information we received on it in caucus the bill is a bad bill and, therefore, we are against it.

If the Majority Leader wants any further information as to why Members on this side of the House are going to vote against the bill, I yield to my Floor Leader. Maybe he can explain the reason against the bill better than I can.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I will be happy to accept the substitution.

May I interrogate the Minority Floor Leader?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Minority Floor Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to ask the gentleman what objection he or his party Members might have to the Governor of the Commonwealth appointing comptrollers to the General State Authority, the State Public School Building Authority and the State Highway and Bridge Authority, because under the present law he appoints the comptrollers for every department of the state, boards, commissions, and so forth. Since these Authorities are arms of the state, or corporations set up to perfrom some of the state's functions, I am wondering what the objection would be to having the Governor appoint comptrollers?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I think, Mr. Speaker, there is not any actual objection on that point, but I do not believe it is quite necessary to have the Governor go so far as to appoint each stenographer. I think that is what this bill does.

I think in the past, if I am correct, the board itself, the General State Authority, the Highway and Bridge Authority and the Public School Building Authority, have theoretically appointed their own comptrollers. I am quite sure of the fact that we do appoint our own auditors, as we did this morning in the Highway and Bridge Authority.

I think we then elect in the Authority the personnel Committee, which has been a bipartisan committee and which in the past has either approved or disapproved any appointments of stenographers, and so on down the line.

I think that should be within the power of these authorities, and I do not believe it should be put in the Governor's hands. They are working completely different from government. The Governor himself serves as the Chairman of all these authorities and certainly has the right to say in a meeting whether he disapproves or approves the appointment of an auditor, for example. He also listens to reports of the Personnel committee and would have the right to either approve or disapprove. I just do not believe that should be taken away from the authorities.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Kornick, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Kornick, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. KORNICK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that under the provisions of this bill the State Commissioner of Police can appoint an unlimited number of deputy commissioners?

Mr. KORNICK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Is it not true under this bill, Mr. Speaker, that the Commissioner could appoint as high as 100 deputies, if he so desired?

Mr. KORNICK. If the necessity arises, he can.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Is it not true under the provisions of this bill that the salary provisions are unlimited as long as they are fixed by the Commissioner of the State Police?

Mr. KORNICK. No sir, Mr. Speaker, they must be approved by the Governor.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Is is not true, Mr. Speaker, that if they are approved by the Governor the salary provisions can be whatever the Governor and the State Commissioner desire?

Mr. KORNICK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. As Mr. Kornick has so clearly stated, this bill provides for the Governor, together with the head of the State Police, to name any number of deputy commissioners with no limitation on salary. I believe this is giving too much power to any appointed official in the state of Pennsylvania. There certainly should be some limitation. Under this bill the deputy commissioner could get $20,000 and the Commissioner himself $15,000.

If the limitation is desirable for the Commissioner, why should there not be a limitation for the deputies?

We feel this is unsound legislation.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I too want to oppose this particular bill. However, I want to point out that the number of appointments as well as the salary, in my opinion, would require the approval of the Governor.

Aside from that, I believe the present law provides for the appointment of one deputy commissioner. If it is found desirable by this Legislature to have more than one deputy commissioner, I believe the law, the Administrative Code, should be amended to provide for a definite number of deputy commissioners. If we feel three are advisable, we should state the figure three; if we figure five, we should state five.

So far as the salary part of it is concerned, I am not too much alarmed about that because I am quite certain if the Commissioner himself is getting only $15,000 neither he nor the Governor would approve anything more than $15,000 for his deputy. So I think that would be at least a partial ceiling.

It is my opinion that both the number of deputy commissioners as well as the salary should be fixed definitely by law and this bill should not be passed.

Mr. McCORMACK. May I interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Kornick, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KORNICK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. I was wondering whether the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Speaker, would agree to an amendment which would possibly limit the number, or the salary, or both, rather than have the bill defeated?

Mr. KORNICK. Mr. Speaker, I would gladly accept that offer.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield to the Majority Leader, Mr. Readinger?

Mr. KORNICK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 2098, Printer's No. 1620 and

House Bill No. 2101, Printer's No. 1658

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request the Chair to return to page 1 of today's calendar, bills on second reading, Senate Bill No. 246.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 246, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the creation of an additional debt by the Commonwealth for the payment of compensation to certain veterans

The first section was read.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, last week I announced I would offer amendments to Senate Bill 246, which seeks to authorize a constitutional amendment vote by the people on a bond issue of $150 million for the payment of a bonus to Korean War Veterans. These amendments which I hold in my hand, would tie in, at the same time a vote on the matter of using a graduated income tax, now forbidden by our Constitution, to pay this bonus and to raise revenue for general purposes.

The administration desired these amendments inserted in the bill for three obvious and good reasons:

First, because the Democratic Party has for years advocated taxation based on the principle of ability to pay, which can be accomplished by a reasonable income tax with proper exemptions;

Second, because the state Senate has pickled in committee since September 27 of last year the House-passed resolution to allow a vote on removing the uniformity clause of the Constitution and thus allow the citizens of Pennsylvania an opportunity to vote on the question;

Third, because this administration has been critical, and rightly so, of the political weakness of the Duff administration in allowing the passage of such a resolution for the borrowing of $450 million to pay the World War II bonus, without in any way providing for the payment of the bonds issued except to leave the matter generally in the lap of future legislatures.

If ex-Governor Duff had not been suffering from a third degree burn of United States "Senate-itis" at the time, he might have had the political fortitude to insist, as this administration is trying to do, that the people of Pennsylvania in voting on the bonus also direct the Legislature to impose taxes adequate to pay back the money borrowed for the purpose before the bonds were issued.

Since last week I have thought long and hard concerning these amendments and whether they are fair to the veterans who might some day get this bonus. Being an ardent advocate of a graduted income tax to finance the Commonwealth, instead of a sales tax or some other form of broad base tax, my first impression was that the amendments were desirable and right. On quiet reflection and searching analysis, I have changed my mind, not as the result of any pressure from the veterans involved or interested, for, in truth, I received very few letters and telegrams from them concerning the matter.

The suggested amendments are herewith discarded, and the new plan embodied in the amendments I am about to offer will cause the voters who might vote in favor of the bonus to direct the Legislature to enact some tax or tax measures sufficient to pay it at the same time the payment is authorized by legislation. Obviously some people will want to vote for the bonus, but against the use of a graduated income tax. They should have a right to do so, and these amendments will make it possible. But, by the same token, those who vote for the bonus should also recognize the fact that only through taxation can this money be raised and paid. There is no fourth dimension, or nebulous storage of wealth and money, from which it can be paid, except taxation. What we give, we must collect. Always and forever—there is no other way.

Today I am asking the support of every Member of these amendments. Only in this way can we face up to our responsibilities and have the citizens of Pennsylvania do likewise.

Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendments:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. READINGER offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 23), page 2, line 17, by inserting after "parents" The law authorizing the creation of the debt and the issuance of the bonds shall not take effect until revenue-raising measures are enacted which the Senate and House of Representatives by concurrent resolution decleare and deem sufficient to amortize the amount to be borrowed and paid.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I was a little surprised to hear the Majority Leader talk as he did. I know he did not write the speech because he does a much better job than that believe me.

I would also like to remimd him and most of the members who are now on the majority side that they thought at the time Governor Duff was doing a pretty nice thing when he put the bonus through because I do not remember many negative votes on that side.

If any of the Members are here in the Hall of the House at this time and who voted "no" and I am wrong, I would like them to stand up so we can count them. Just let's see how many gentlemen on the other side voted "no." It is amazing, Mr. Speaker, how a few years makes a little difference.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia yield to the gentleman from Allegheny?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I will be glad to yield to the gentleman.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman should tell the Members of this House—some of them were here back in 1949—when Mr. Duff was asked, "How are you going to pay the bill," he said, "Don't worry about it. We have all kinds of money here. The taxes that are on the books at the present time will take care of it. It is unnecessary."

On the strength of that statement a lot of the Members went along and voted for the bill, including me.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I think, Mr. Speaker, if I could ask the gentleman to produce that quote he would be surprised. I would appreciate it if sometime before the session ends he would produce that quote from an authentic source.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, the quote was made in the Governor's office. We do not have it on record, but there were other Members there. I do not remember who they were, but I think I can dig them up.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. He is going to need those guys, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. A lot of other statements were made in the past. Mr. Duff, "the Bluff," made the statement.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, that is beside the point, I do believe.

I believe most of the Members of our side will support this amendment, but I think in all fairness the Majority Leader should go a little further. If he does not mind, I will try to go a little further by explaining, and if I am wrong he can contradict me.

It seems that the present administration might be trying to make itself look a little good by passing this amendment, but let me just say this for your thinking, and to see if you are too much different from what we were two years ago.

You are passing an amendment now which has to be passed by two successive sessions of the Legislature. Am I right on that?

Mr. READINGER. Yes.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I believe I am. It would be passed in 1956, it would again be passed in 1957. That would put it on the ballot in November 1957. There is a possibility we would not be in session at that time, which would not result in the collection of a tax to pay for this in Governor Leader's administration. No matter how you figure it, you are doing the same thing. You are putting it off to whoever the poor individual is who comes into the office in 1959, whether he be a Republican or a Democrat. Let's not try to kid the public. Governor Leader will never have to sign a tax bill to foot this bill he cannot, it is a physical impossibility. So don't let us crow too loudly about the great things you are doing, because you are putting it off yourself to 1959, to the next administration.

Whether it is good or bad, I do not know. I do not think there is anything else we can do about it, I will admit that, but let us not take advantage of the time element by trying to make somebody look bad and somebody look good. The person who is trying to be made look good is not even going to sign a tax measure to foot this bill.

Some of you Members will be back and be asked to vote for a tax, whether it is a Republican Governor or a Democratic Governor, but it will not go into effect until 1959. The Members on this side of the House can do as they please. I, personally, am going to vote for the amendment, I am going to vote for the bill with the amendment in it, there is nothing else we can do.

I do not believe, as I said, that the Majority Leader wrote the speech, because I know he would do better, and I know he would not be trapped into the fact that this Governor cannot sign the bill until 1959, as it is an impossibility for him to do it.

So he is doing nothing else except what Senator Duff might be accused of doing, putting it off into the future for somebody else to worry about. Everyone on this side and the other side is putting it off for somebody else to worry about, instead of ourselves.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia does a great injustice to the Governor and to me.

In the first place, the Governor of the Commonwealth has had nothing at all to do with this proposed amendment. As I stated before, the administration did request me to offer amendments which would have tied in the graduated income tax with this bonus. I have not even had an opportunity to discuss with the Governor the amendment I am proposing today.

The fact of who is going to sign the legislation eventually which will bring about the payment of a bonus is a well understood fact. I do not think anybody is trying to crawl, it is simply a matter of law. We cannot enact legislation to pay the bonus before the constitutional amendment is authorized by the people, and that cannot be done until November of 1957 no matter what we want to do about it.

Of course, it is true that the next Governor, if this legislation is passed, would be signing the bill which would actually authorize the payment.

When I say the gentleman does an injustice to me, I say it because I really wrote that speech myself. Maybe I am slipping, but it is my own product.

The point I have been trying to make is that if Governor Duff back in 1949 had been strong and had said, "Now look, we want to give this bonus to the boys, but we also want the people who vote for it to tell us they want a tax passed to pay the money back."

I say if we do not agree to this amendment we are going to make the same mistake we made before. We perhaps are going to bring about the issuance of the bonds and perhaps be in a worse financial dilemma when the time comes to start paying them than we are in now. I at least want the people of Pennsylvania to say to us, "This you shall do."

I think anybody in good conscience can vote for this amendment. I do not believe even the veterans would oppose it because they too know we can only pay this money back by some form of taxation.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, this amendment we are now asked to vote upon, in my mind, is one of those "let's be fair" amendments.

I remember voting for a soldiers bonus for the World War II veterans. I hear a lot of talk about administrations.

I often wonder just who administrations are. I hear all this talk about Senator Duff—Governor Duff at that time. I was in sympathy with Dr. Duff's idea at that time and I think many of the other men were too. Who the "administrations" were at that time who opposed it, I do not know.

I do know this, your World War I veterans received a bonus and in the amendment to the Constitution to give them the right to have that bonus there was no tax in any way mentioned—World War II veterans likewise.

Now I say, "let's be fair." Between the men who fought for our country in World War I, the men who fought for our country in World War II, and the men we now ask a bonus for who fought in the Korean War, in my mind there is no difference and we should not make a difference here today.

You say to me the people should voice their opinion on a tax of some kind. I say, no. The people of Pennsylvania know when they vote on a constitutional amendment to pay a soldiers bonus that some form of tax must be enacted by the Legislature to pay that bonus. You say, "Well, we will remind them that there must be a tax." Then you are either doing one thing or the other, you are trying to defeat a bonus for the Korean War veterans or, else you do not need this amendment.

My friends I hate to differ with my leader on this side of the House, and I want to say to the Minority Leader on the other side of the House when he says he has no recourse, oh, yes, he has. He can vote against this amendment, he can vote for the bill as it stands today without the amendment.

I agree I am going to vote against this amendment. If you are going to put this amendment in, I will vote for the resolution as amended, but I say to you that you are unfair to the Korean War veterans when you do that.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the previous speaker a moment ago stated that you are doing an injustice to the veterans of the Korean armed conflict. I believe I have been as close to veterans organizations and worked with them as closely as is possible for a veteran of World War II.

A few moments ago in this House I had occasion to speak to a representative of the Veterans of Foreign Wars regarding this proposed amendment. As I look at some of the Members across the aisle whom I kidded last week about the soda pop tax to pay for this, I was sincere. Some day I will vote for it.

I would like to say that that particular organization definitely does favor this amendment and believes that this is sound legislation regarding the proposed constitutional amendment we are hoping to present to the people in 1957. The veterans of World War II, including myself, who worked and tried to get a bonus for the veterans of World War II fully realize that that legislation was not actually sound, the taxes should have been provided.

I was not a Member of this House at that time, but I very likely would have voted as those did who were here. Basically, you will agree, as will the veterans organizations of this Commonwealth, that the amendment presented by the Majority Floor Leader will meet with their approval. Those of us who believe sincerely in the payment and the passage of this particular resolution when it is presented on the ballot will work for it as we did for the World War II resolution, that appeared on the ballot in 1949.

I say again as to the statement made by the gentleman from Westmoreland County when he says we are doing an injustice to the veterans of the Korean armed conflict that I believe he is speaking only with the thought that it might hurt their particular chances of passage, because I sincerely believe the citizens of this Commonwealth will support this resolution and support it as we have written it here today.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman, Mr. McCann?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman speaks of the veterans organizations agreeing to this amendment. I might ask the gentleman where he received the information that the veterans organizations throughout the state of Pennsylvania are in agreement with this amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I made the statement that one veterans organization a few moments before this particular bill came up informed me that they were in favor of this amendment. That veterans organization was the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the Department of Pennsylvania. The representative who spoke here was their official representative from here in Harrisburg, a man who has served in the past as publicity director and also served on a staff of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mr. Albert Series.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, this particular representative of whom he speaks representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars, how could he get the sentiment of the different posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on an amendment to this Resolution that nobody knew anything about before a very short time ago?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it is impossible for any representative of any veterans organization to get the sentiment of the posts within this Commonwealth. He is a representative on the staff of the state organization, and each state organization has its staff here. I only spoke of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and I asked "Al" personally, and he said "Steve, we do heartily agree that this is sound legislation and the Veterans of Foreign Wars are in favor of this amendment to this particular Resolution."

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I say to the gentleman that that is only the opinion of one man in my judgment.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I was just going to suggest to Mr. Lovett that he vote for these amendments. I will tell him why. You are only kidding the people, no matter what you do, because if the people vote for this bonus you must get a tax whether you have this amendment or do not have it. Why not be honest? If the people vote for it, it has to be paid. So you are not tying this up, all you are doing is saying, "We are going to suggest a tax." You are right you are going to suggest a tax, because the bill has to be paid.

So vote for the amendments. You are only kidding the public anyhow. You are only trying to make something look good that you are going to vote for anyhow. You are going to get a tax anyhow if you pass this bill, so why go through all of this. If the amendment falls you are going to need the money to pay it, and if the amendment goes in you still have to need the money to pay it.

Vote for it Mr. Lovett, you are only kidding the public as it is.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I suggest to the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Minority Floor Leader, to speak for himself, because in my mind, if this amendment means anything, it means to me that you are now placing on notice and warning the people. You say to me, "Well, if the people vote for it, they will never even think about a tax to pay for it." You are going to call it to their minds. You did not call it to their minds on the bonus for the veterans of World War I; you did not call it to their minds on the bonus for the veterans of World War II, why do you say we shall call it to the minds of the people now?

Suppose the amendments do go through, suppose the people turn down the bonus for the Korean War veterans, how is the gentleman going to feel? How are you other Members going to feel when you tie a tax in here so that the people will turn it down?

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I have been an advocate of veterans legislation for a good many years. I was opposed to the previous amendments as to a graduated income tax to cover the money to be given as a bonus to the Korean War veterans.

In the case of this amendment, the way I see it, should the veterans, or those who are in favor of the veterans, vote against these amendments, back home they are going to say you are against the bonus. So I feel by voting for the amendments we can go back and we can have a clear conscience, and the people back home, especially the veterans organizations will say you are for the bonus.

I do not think it is a question of taxes right now. It will be later. We are giving the people that opportunity. If they want a bonus, if they want to give the soldiers a bonus, they must pay tax for it.

I urge everyone of the veterans supporters to vote for these amendmentes.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a statement on these amendments. I am going to vote for the proposed amendment for the very simple reason that it is meaningless. Let me read the proposed amendment to the Members of the House. I do not mean I want to evade my responsibility for raising taxes to pay the bonus, but the amendment reads:

> "The law authorizing the creation of the debt and the issuance of the bonds shall not take effect until revenue-raising measures are enacted which the Senate and House of Representatives by concurrent resolution declare and deem sufficient to amortize the amount to be borrowed and paid."

I interpret this to mean that if this amendment is passed, when we enact a soldiers bonus we also enact a concurrent resolution where we might state that ten per cent of the sales tax, or ten per cent of the capital stock tax, will be used as a springboard with which to pay the soldiers bonus.

Having declared by concurrent resolution that this will be the method of amortization, we still face the responsibility as Legislators to look for additional revenue to replace that which is taken from the General Fund. So when we vote for this amendment, we are merely giving a sugar-coated proposition. It means nothing whatsoever.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, much as I admire the gentleman who has just spoken, I would like to state that I think he is completely and unequivocally wrong.

If this amendment has any meaning, and it certainly has, if affects the timing of when tax legislation will be enacted to support the payment of the bonds to be issued under this Korean War bonus.

The gentleman from Philadelphia has stated that we have to pass tax legislation anyway, that this does not mean anything particularly, that we are kidding somebody, and I say he is wrong, too. He well knows that in 1959, if that is the year in which we pass the legislation authorizing the issuance of the bonds and the payment of the money, we need not give any thought at that time to where the money is coming from. It will probably be four years later before we ever have to concern ourselves as to where we are going to get another $150 million to pay these bonds.

I presume the same method would be followed in issuing these bonds as was used in the World War II bonus. It would be amortized over a period of fifteen or twenty years, and a budget would have to be set up to amortize the bonds as they fall due. That would mean a certain number of millions of dollars each biennium.

I say with this amendment in the bill, if it is put in the Constitution, at the very time we authorize the payment of that bonus we are going to make it our business then to see that there are enough tax measures on the books not only to take care of the other needs of the Commonwealth but also to pay this bonus. In that way we do not dump into the lap of the Legislature four years later a big bill for $25 or $35 million additional. That is the only thing we are trying to achieve by this amendment.

I somewhat resent the statement made by the gentleman from Westmoreland that we are being unfair to the veterans. This amendment is not offered with any idea of defeating eventually the Resolution to pay them a bonus.

I voted for the World War II bonus. I am going to vote for this one, but I think we ought to do what we are doing today, or attempting to do, because it makes a lot more sense than the way we have done in the past. It is an honest thing to do and it is not going to defeat any Korean veterans bonus.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, if the amendments fall, is it the policy of the administration and the Democratic leadership in the House, that the bill without the amendment will not be called up for final passage?

Mr. READINGER. That is definitely not the policy of the administration nor the leadership on this side of the House.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. In other words, if we do vote against the amendment and the amendment is therefore defeated, nevertheless the bill will be called up without the amendment for final passage.

Mr. READINGER. It very definitely will.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support the amendment offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr.

Readinger. I feel this is a fair and an honest approach to problems of this nature that continually come before this Assembly.

It is a step in the right direction for good government.

We must continually let the people know in this Commonwealth that the additional services which are desired and requested through passage of legislation in the General Assembly must of necessity be paid for.

As to the statement made that there is a possibility of influencing the vote upon the bonus for the veterans of the Korean conflict, I do not believe that is true. I have a great amount of confidence in the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and believe they will support just as vigorously the bonus amendment for Korean veterans as they did the bonus for the veterans of World War I and World War II.

I know the people are grateful for the services these veterans rendered and they will so express it at the election when the amendment is up on a referendum.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I sincerely request and ask you to support the amendment offered by the gentleman from Berks as a step in the right direction for good government in Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. LOVETT and Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH and were as follows:

Section 18 Effective Date This act shall take effect in three months

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McGEE. Mr. Speaker, since House Bill 885 failed of passage on March 13th, it has come to my attention that some of the Members of the House who opposed it at that time did so because of misinformation, or perhaps I should say wrong information, concerning some of the features of the bill.

As an example, it seems some of the Members at that time were under the impression that this bill prevents one from doing repair work in his own home. Nothing, Mr. Speaker, could be further from the truth.

I am informed also that the farmers are being told that they would be prevented from doing work on their own farms. I say that is a deliberate falsehood, since Section 7 on page 8 of this bill specifically exempts the farmers from the provisions of the bill, with the exception perhaps of buildings known as commercial buildings such as motels, road houses and buildings of that type.

Mr. Speaker, I could dwell at length on some of the features of the bill, but it is not my purpose to delay the proceedings of this House any longer than is necessary.

I would, therefore, ask every Member of the House to vote "aye" on this bill.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Appropriations to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. STANK asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Liquor Control to meet during the session of the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair requests the Speaker to return to the rostrum.

THE SPEAKER (HIRAM G. ANDREWS) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, for presiding.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MUSTO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it has been the practice of this House that upon a consent calendar day there would not be any controversial bills taken up at any time. Last week on House Bill 1755, which had passed this House and passed the Senate with amendments, the amendments were concurred in by this House on a consent calendar day.

The sponsors of House Bill 1755 at that time were in the Revenue Department trying to get registration plates for their people back home, not knowing that the leadership of the House was going to concur on such an important bill for the anthracite coal fields.

If I am in order, I would like to ask permission of the House that the names of myself and the sponsors of the bill be stricken from the record as concurring in the amendments from the Senate.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 467 as follows:

An Act providing for the creation and incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of joint service districts by counties cities boroughs towns and townships to perform certain functions prescribing the powers and duties of such joint service districts and the duties of participating counties cities boroughs towns and townships and conferring jurisdiction on courts of quarter sessions in connection therewith

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Definitions The following words and phrases when used in this act shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section

"Municipality" shall mean any county city borough town or township of this Commonwealth

"Municipal authorities" shall mean the governing bodies of counties cities boroughs towns and townships

"Court" shall mean the court of quarter sessions

"District" shall mean a joint service district created and incorporated as a body corporate and politic in this Commonwealth

"Board" shall mean the board of directors of a joint service district

"Board of Review" shall mean the advisory board appointed by the court of quarter sessions to draft the plan for incorporation of a proposed joint service district

Section 2 Initiation of Incorporation Procedure Whenever the municipal authorities of any two or more adjoining municipalities desire to organize and incorporate a joint service district to carry out certain functions under this act they shall adopt a resolution or ordinance which may be based on the findings and recommendations of planning commissions which have been duly created by the said municipalities signifying their intentiin to do so which resolution shall authorize the presentation of a petition to the court of quarter sessions in the county where the larger or largest of them in population is located and the municipalities may assign the responsibility for the preparation of said petition to a committee representative of the planning commissions having pertinent jurisdiction or to an official regional planning commission representative of the participating municipalities where one exists and the participating municipalities may jointly appropriate funds for this purpose

Section 3 Citizen Initiation of Incorporation Procedure Whenever electors equal to at least ten per centum of the registered voters in any municipality as determined as of the data of closing of registration books for the preceding general election shall petition the municipal authorities of any municipality for its participation in creating a joint service district or in joining an existing joint service district and for a referendum on the question of such participation the municipal authorities shall either by ordinance or resolution proceed with the action petitioned for or cause a question to be submitted at an election occurring at least sixty days thereafter by certifying a resolution duly adopted to the county election board for submission of such question on the ballot or on voting machines at such election in the manner provided by the election laws of this Commonwealth If a majority of the persons voting on such question in the municipality shall vote "yes" then the municipal authorities shall present a resolution to the court of quarter sessions for its consideration in a similar fashion had the resolution been initiated by the municipal authorities of that municipality

Section 4 Jurisdiction of Courts The courts of quarter sessions may incorporate following the procedure herein prescribed any two or more municipalities the larger or largest of which is within their jurisdiction into a joint service district which shall be a body corporate and politic and shall be named the "Joint Service District of . . . ." after a name to be agreed upon by a majority of the participating municipalities

Section 5 Contents of Petition Such petition shall set forth

(1) The name of the proposed joint service district

(2) The names of the incorporating municipalities together with the names of their municipal authorities

(3) A statement that the incorporating municipalities desire the incorporation of such district in accordance with this act

(4) A statement of the specific function or service to be performed

(5) The jurisdictional limits franchise or service area for the municipal function or service being proposed for assignment to the joint service district The area may vary for different functions and services and shall be based on demonstrable technical findings which shall be related to the promotion of quality and economy in the administration of the function or service in question and to an equitable distribution of the current and capital costs thereof The court shall consider the assignment of a single function in connection with the petition for the initial incorporation of a district and shall consider the assignment of additional functions to a duly established district as petitioned for in accordance with the requirements of this subsection

Section 6 Filing Petition Bond

(a) Petitions shall be filed after presentation to the court with the clerk thereof

(b) At the time of the filing of the original petition a bond shall be furnished by one or more of the petitioners with sufficient security in an amount to be fixed by the court conditioned for the payment of all court costs and expenses in connection with the matter in the event of a dismissal by the court or on appeal of the petition which bond when approved by the court shall be filed with the clerk thereof If the petition is approved the bond shall be returned to the person by whom it was posted

Section 7 Appointment of Board of Review The court of quarter sessions upon receipt of such petitions shall appoint a board of review consisting of one representative of the municipal authorities of each petitioning municipality one representative of the board of county commissioners of each county in which the petitioning municipalities are located and two disinterested persons residents and taxpayers of the county or counties not residing in the petitioning municipalities who after study and hearing notice of which shall be given to municipal authorites of the petitioning municipalities as the court shall direct report to the court giving such information as hereinafter provided

Section 8 Report of Board of Review In preparing its report the board shall hold hearings and shall communicate with the State Planning Board Department of Internal Affairs and other appropriate State agencies for information and advice concerning the proposed joint service district and such agencies shall be obligated to reply Upon receipt of such replies the board shall prepare a plan for a joint service district in as much detail as shall seem appropriate indicating the services it should render the municipalities to participate the base of financial contributions from participating municipalities the assignment of weighted votes if any and the requirement of extra majorities if any to approve substantive questions Weighted votes as herein referred to shall mean the number of votes each participating municipality shall have based approximately on comparative populations or comparative financial contributions or other comparative bases or combination of bases In districts consisting of three or more municipalities no one municipality shall be given a weighted vote greater than forty per centum and the requirement for an extra majority shall never exceed seventy-five per centum of the weighted votes of the participating municipalities The preliminary plan upon completion shall be submitted to the State planning board the Department of Internal affairs and other appropriate departments and agencies certified by the attorney general to have a legal interest the departments and agencies shall be given opportunity to review the plan to the extent of that legal interest and shall be permitted a period of thirty days from receipt by them of the plan in which to file their comments thereon if no reply is received from the agencies within thirty days their approval of the plan as outlined without objection or qualification shall be assumed the board shall then prepare and adopt a final plan for a joint service district in light of advisory opinions which shall have been received from state agencies

Section 9 Filing of Board Report Upon completion of its final report the board shall file said report with the appropriate court of quarter sessions The board shall give the municipal authorities of the petitioning municipalities at least five days notice of the filing of the report and unless exceptions are filed by the petitioning municipalities within thirty days after the filing thereof the same shall be confirmed by the court absolutely the municipal authorities of any of the participating municipalities may withdraw at any time prior to the confirmation of the report by the court of quarter sessions

Section 10 Referendum for Creation of Joint Service District The joint service district as proposed by the board of review and approved by the court of quarter sessions shall cause the establishment of such service district unless a petition signed by ten per centum of the registered voters of any municipality be presented to the municipal authorities within thirty days after the action approving the district has been taken by the court requesting that the question be submitted to a referendum in that municipality or unless provisions of existing municipal charters require the submission of such questions to a referendum vote In all such cases a "yes" vote by a majority of those persons voting on the question will be required for its approval

Section 11 Incorporation Costs Upon the conclusion of the board of review that the purposes of this act will be served and the best interests of the public within the contemplated district as regards a more efficient system of carrying out certain of their municipal functions will be promoted the court shall decree the creation and incorporation of a joint service district and shall fix its corporate name and the jurisdictional area for the administration of the specific function or service being petitioned for assignment to the joint service district When a district is so created or incorporated the costs of the proceeding shall be paid by the petitioning municipalities

Section 12 Dismissal of Petition Costs Upon the conclusion of the board of review that the purposes of this act will not be served or that the best interests of the public within the contemplated district as regards a more efficient system of carrying out the contemplated municipal functions will not be promoted or if the court after reviewing the exceptions filed with it shall reach the same conclusion the court shall dismiss the petition without prejudice to the filing of future petitions costs of the proceedings to be paid by the petitioners

Section 13 Appeals Bond From any decree of the court creating or incorporating a district or dismissing a petition any petitioner or party in interest may appeal to the Supreme Court but not later than thirty days after such decree is entered upon filing in the office of the clerk of quarter sessions a bond in an amount to be fixed by the court of quarter sessions conditioned for the payment of all costs accruing on such appeal

Section 14 Recording of Decree

(a) Within thirty days after a district has been created or incorporated by final decree of the court below or on appeal the clerk of court shall furnish a certified copy of the decree to the Secretary of Internal Affairs

(b) Such decree shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of each county in which any of the incorporating municipalities of such district are located

(c) The costs of recording said decree shall be paid by the incorporating municipalities

Section 15 Municipalities Joining in Existing Joint Service Districts

Section 31 General Repeal All acts and parts of acts are repealed in so far as they are inconsistent herewith

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the House on another occasion, I think we had quite an extensive debate. I think the feelings of the suburban counties are very well known to this House. I will not go further into that subject, but I would like to interrogate someone from the majority side.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Toll, in view of the current widespread discussions in the city of Philadelphia concerning ripper bills, what is your definition of a ripper bill, a charter ripper bill?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would say a ripper bill is one which changes, rips asunder, destroys and reduces a piece of legislation.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether there is any provision in the bill under consideration that would preclude employes of a service district from engaging in politics?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, in Senate Bill 467 I know of nothing which would preclude employes from engaging in politics, unless the service is rendered directly by the political subdivisions involved.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether there is any provision in the bill under consideration which would be a mandate that all employes of the service district be under civil service?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I do not know of any provision in the bill which would mandate that all employes be under civil service.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I condemn this legislation as a ripper bill which will rip the employes who are put under it, if they are put under it in the city of Philadelphia, from their protection under the city charter of Philadelphia and forced to take part in politics.

I also condemn it as being a means by which employes of the city of Philadelphia could very readily be employed by a super-government and denied their civil service rights.

This bill would permit two adjacent municipalities by action of their governing boards to go into a service district. Into this service district could be dumped any or all of the governmental functions of those two adjacent municipalities. In other words, if this bill became law in its present form, the city of Philadelphia and an adjacent township could form a service district and if this service district were formed under the surveillance of the courts of Philadelphia, any and all employes, whether they are policemen, whether they are firemen, whether they are people working in sewage disposal plants, whether they are people working in the parks, or whether they are working on the highways, would be removed from the protection of the charter of Philadelphia in that they could be forced to carry out the political dictates of those who control this service district.

I would like to say a few more words. We in the suburban counties do not want this legislation in its present form. We do not want any part of it. We see it as a threat to free government. We in the county of Delaware, and I am sure my friends from the other suburban counties will join me, feel we are fully competent to handle our own governmental functions. We do not invite, we do not welcome, interference in our local government from city hall in Philadelphia. We do not want or invite interference in our local elections from City Hall in Philadelphia.

I call on you to vote "no" on this bill. On a previous occasion the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, stated this was not a political bill. This is another one of those dreams of super-government. Whether you call it a metropolitan district government, whether you call it a service district, whether you call it a regional service district, whatever you may call it, it is still super-government. It is another way by which the control of local government is taken from local people and put in the hands of a super-government.

Again, I now am speaking to my friends from the County of Philadelphia, ladies and gentlemen, think twice before you vote for this charter ripper bill.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would merely like to call your attention to the fact that this bill came over from the Senate on a vote of 49-0, and I assume that included the vote of the Senator representing Delaware County. At any rate, it included the votes of the Senators from all over Pennsylvania.

When this came over to the House, the bill related to third class cities, boroughs, towns or townships. Leave the city of Philadelphia out for the moment and just consider the effect, the value and the benefit of this bill to third class cities, boroughs, towns or townships.

In the first place, the bill provides for very limited authority. It is not broad in the sense that the gentleman who spoke against it would have you believe. It is very limited.

In the second place, it has a number of prohibitions and limitations. Let me tell you what these limitations are.

The joint service district is prohibited from levying or collecting taxes; it is prohibited from performing any municipal function which is not specifically designated; it is prohibited from incurring indebtedness except that which is payable out of current funds; it is prohibited from the construction or providing for a facility on improvement except from current funds in the current budget. It eliminates and prohibits any public utility service except water and the collection, treatment and disposal of sewage. These prohibitions are in this very bill if you care to read it.

Let me call your attention to another feature. It provides that ten per cent of the voters must apply from both districts. That means two areas in one county or two areas in two separate counties in order to obtain the benefits of this bill.

It also provides that a board of review shall be appointed before it is put into operation. This board of review will hold hearings and will submit a plan of service to be rendered to the various areas involved. The plan will show the cost of the same. It will also provide for the method of voting. Then this particular plan will be reviewed by the State Planning Board, by the Department of Internal Affairs and by any other agency familiar with the subject that is certified to it by the Department of Justice under the Attorney General. On top of that it provides for a referendum upon petition of ten per cent of the voters. Finally, on the last page or two of the bill it provides that if a municipality or a subdivision is not satisfied it can withdraw.

Can you believe that a bill of this nature which is so beneficial and provides so many benefits for joint water cooperation or sewage treatment would be so bad and diabolical that it would hurt the people of Delaware County? It seems to me the Senate thought it was very good and sent it over here with a practically unanimous vote. There was only one Senator absent.

Take the same bill and add Philadelphia to it, now what harm has been done? What damage has been caused? How is it that when you add Philadelphia you suddenly destroy Delaware County? What is the fear that is involved? Is not Philadelphia entitled to the same benefits that you would give to a third class city, to a borough, to a town, or to a township? It seems to us the bill is so good that we would like to get in on it.

It has nothing to do with the charter. The charter applies only to Philadelphia. It does not apply to a joint service district which would be carved out of a profitable authority in various communities.

Here is an article that was published in the "Evening Bulletin" on February 13th, entitled: "Intercounty Cooperation." This article shows that today Philadelphia is serving Lower Merion, Springfield, Abington, Cheltenham, Rockledge and Jenkintown in connection with drainage basins, in other words, the matter of water rights.

This seems to be the best type of bill you could possibly vote for, and the only reason I can see that the gentlemen from Delaware are opposed to it is because Philadelphia wants to enjoy these benefits which the smaller communities are going to get.

I feel in justice and in fairness to the largest community in Pennsylvania—and I see no politics in it—you ought to give us a break and give us a chance to get the benefit of this bill by voting for it. I think everybody ought to vote for this bill. I think the attacks that have been made upon it by Delaware County are absolutely unjustified.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, we just heard a very, very impressive speech. Unfortunately all the facts stated are not correct.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, said that this district would be formulated upon the initiative of ten per cent of the voters. There is another provision in this bill whereby this type of super-government could be superimposed by action of the governing bodies of any two adjacent municipalities. The super-government would then go to the court of the largest county. With Delaware County and Philadelphia County, that means Philadelphia County courts would have jurisdiction of the proposal. The report of the court could be appealed, but there is no provision in this bill which provides for public notice of the decision of the court. Within thirty days after a decree has been entered by the court a referendum could be initiated, that is, if the citizens kept a lookout on the Philadelphia courts to see when they are going to hand down their decree.

Mr. Toll, the gentleman from Philadelphia, referred to the fact that under existing law we present have cooperation between all the suburban counties and the County of Philadelphia. I say the existing law is adequate.

I am always very leery when I hear someone crying about the welfare of my county. I look through the crocodile tears and sometimes I see something that is not spoken. I see the bills for this super-government coming to the municipalities, and whether you call it taxes, whether you call it bills, whatever you call it, it means money from the pockets of my fellow-citizens in my county, it means money from the industries of my county, to pay Philadelphia's costs.

Can a leopard change its spots? We have had the horrible example of the Port Authority. We have had the horrible example of where our Port of Chester was gobbled up by the Port Authority as well as all the money that was given by the state of Pennsylvania to the Port Authority. Where was it spent? It was spent within the city limits of the city of Philadelphia. No, we do not want this type of cooperation. No, we do not want the city of Philadelphia to come out and finance their debts and tax our people to pay their costs.

Ladies and gentlemen, one of the fundamentals of American government is that people should have the right to govern themselves. The people of my county in our forty-nine separate communities are very much content to have Philadelphia pay Philadelphia's bills and we will pay Delaware County's bills.

The same newspaper quoted by the gentleman from Philadelphia has called people like myself "suburban patriots." To me the word "patriot" is a word that is not to be used with ridicule. It means a person who is willing to fight, to fight for the freedom of his people, to fight for the self-government of his people. If I am a "surburban patriot," I am proud of it.

The former Mayor of the city of Philadelphia made a speech in the city of Washington where he referred to people like me as "ostrichs in the azalea belt." Let me remind you that azaleas do not grow wild, they are the result of industry, they are the result of well-ordered husbandry. So our azalea belt, our towns, our townships and our boroughs, is the result of the industry of our citizens. If I am called an ostrich, let me call the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia to the fact that perhaps I have my head to the ground because I have my ears open, or maybe I am burying my head in the ground because I cannot stand the smell of an invasion of democratic government.

Ladies and gentlemen of this House, I again implore you to vote for the American principles of self-government and perhaps a principle, Mr. Speaker, that "Thou shall not covet thy neighbor's government."

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware County, Mr. Bell.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware County, Mr. Bell, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. BELL. I shall, Mr. Speaker. I shall be very happy to submit to interrogation from a very capable Member of the Legislature.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I am a little confused at this point as to just what this bill provides. I had the impression that this was sort of an involuntary proceeding and that if this bill were passed the city of Philadelphia, or the County of Philadelphia, can ex parte without any agreement on the part of the municipality or county other than Philadelphia petition the Court of Quarter Sessions to establish or incorporate a joint service district.

Now I am asking the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether or not this act specifically requires the municipalities involved, all of them, to adopt a resolution or to pass an ordinance which would allow them to incorporate into a joint service district?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, on this subject I would like to refresh the memory of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, as to the composition of townships and boroughs.

Second class townships normally have three supervisors. I believe that is correct. First class townships normally have one commissioner per ward. Boroughs have a number of councilmen. This type of super-government, as I like to call the attempt to usurp our local government's functions, would permit two out of three supervisors of a second class township to dump all or any of the governmental functions of that township into this district. If by chance two of those supervisors happen to be of the same political faith as the adjacent giant city, perhaps a little pressure could be brought through channels that might come to the State Capitol and back down again, a little bit of pressure on friendly commissioners. These commissioners, you know, often are elected by a majority of perhaps 100, or 200, or 300 votes, and it takes only a little bit of interference in local government, or a little bit of money sent out from City Hall, Philadelphia, on what you might call missionary work in primaries and general elections.

This is a real threat to government. It is a real threat to integrity of local government.

Is that an adequate answer, Mr. McCormack?

Mr. McCORMACK. It is a nice political speech, but it hardly answers my question, Mr. Speaker.

My question was whether or not Philadelphia under this law could do anything without the consent of the adjoining municipality that is proposed to be incorporated into a joint service district?

Mr. BELL. In answer to that, Mr. Speaker, may I say that Philadelphia could do something without the consent of the adjacent municipality. If you mean one man, you are right, Mr. McCormack. If you mean the people, you are wrong, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. I refer, Mr. Speaker, to Section 2 of the bill, the title of which is "Initiation of Incorporation Procedure." I ask the gentleman whether or not the first sentence in that section would effectively prohibit any municipality from foisting on any other municipality any joint service district?

For that purpose I will read it to the Members of the House, Mr. Speaker, if I may.

> "Section 2. Initiation of Incorporation Procedures. Whenever the municipal authorities of any two or more adjoining municipalities desire to organize and incorporate a joint service district to carry out certain functions under this act they shall adopt a resolution or ordinance which may be based on the findings and recommendations of planning commissions which have been duly created by the said municipalities signifying their intention to do so which resolution shall authorize the presentation of a petition to the court of quarter sessions in the county where the larger or largest of them in population is located."

Is that not proof enough that the city of Philadelphia without any favorable resolution or ordinance by a surrounding municipality could do nothing?

Mr. Bell. Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer that by making this statement. I think I have previously answered it.

We are perhaps a little more cognizant of the force and effect of one man's vote, one supervisor's vote, than perhaps the gentleman from Philadelphia is. If we permit one man's vote to dump all the governmental functions of that township into a super-government, we feel that is not the type of government we would like to have. Perhaps I am not clear. Am I, Mr. McCormack?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I think that that is a satisfactory answer and I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I merely wanted to point out by that interrogation that this is entirely voluntary and I wanted to point out that the gentleman from Delaware well knows it is. The gentleman's questions were adequately answered by the Mayor of the city of Philadelphia. He definitely said, and I say that it is entirely voluntary on the part of every municipality involved.

It is difficult for any of us to answer the contention that a supervisor or an elected official of a municipality might be crooked. Of course, we do not have that situation in Philadelphia and perhaps that would present a problem, but I do not think we can effectively legislate to prevent that.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, am I to understand that the gentleman would be in favor of a ripper bill which would permit one, or a thousand, three, or three thousand, employes—name the number, I do not care if it is but one—be taken from under the protection of the city charter with respect to their participation in political affairs?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, unfortunately, I connot answer that yes or no. My position on the ripper bill is pretty well known as far as Philadelphia is concerned. I do not want to make a political speech at this time.

It all depends on what you mean by ripper. The defination that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, gave of a ripper is not in accordance with my difinition, not as the word is known in Philadelphia anyhow.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware has termed this legislation, in effect, ripper legislation. I would point out to the gentleman from Delaware that the Philadelphia Bar Association has gone on record against the proposed amendments to the Philadelphia Home Rule Act, which, in effect, are true ripper legislation.

If they took a position against ripper legislation, I am certain that if in their opinion they felt the legislation which we have before us today is in effect also ripper legislation, they would likewise be against it. As a matter of fact, however, they looked rather kindly and favorably upon this legislation.

In the March publication of "The Shingle," which is published by the Philadelphia Bar Association, they have written up this proposed legislation. With the permission of the House I would like to briefly read a small portion of that article which appears in the March issue of "The Shingle."

> Such legislation can have important and far reaching effects. No more promising machinery has been devised as yet for establishing an optimum land use and transportation plan for an entire region. By this device can be shown the most suitable types of development for the various sections within the region in proper perspective as to each other and as to the overall interest of the whole. The master plan's function is not that of a straightjacket but that of a frame of reference for coordinated self development.
> Another encouraging sign is a recent report by the Civic Council of Montgomery County recommending a county wide sewage disposal system along the lines of natural drainage basins; where such lines cross county boundaries for intercounty cooperation is urged—even with Philadelphia!
> Of course, objections will always be made that such measures as we have been discussing set up a new kind of extraconstitutional, local supergovernment too far removed from popular control and subversive of traditional local home rule. To this objection there are two answers, both showing that the measures are not in derogation of, but actually in preservation of, local home rule, which must indeed be carefully nurtured as an indispensable ingredient of the American system of representative government.

First, an analysis of the proposed legislation . . . shows every reasonable precaution against loss of control by the regular local governments involved. Only by their several and strictly voluntary action can the machinery be called into existence and made and kept applicable to them. Each is guaranteed its share in the operation and financing of that machinery. Each has its full power to withdraw at any time.

"The second answer is nowhere better expressed than in the report of the President's Commission on Intergovernmental Relations issued in June, 1955. After asserting that the "proper balance" of the federal system requires that each level of government—national state and local—be effective and responsible the report stresses the need for strengthening at the local level. It states that effective local government depends to a degree on the size of the governmental unit and that generally speaking present day local governments are too small to assume and discharge their proper responsibilities . . . An isolated local unit that resists integration into the larger community to which it socially and economically belongs—on a plea of its right to self determination—actually restricts the opportunity for genuine home rule for the whole community."

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 467 was amended in this House late in January by the gentlemai from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll. The bill was debated at length on January 30th, and I do not intend to prolong debate too long at this time.

However, I would like to call attention to Section 10 which states:

The joint service district as proposed by the board of review and approved by the court of quarter sessions shall cause the establishment of such service district unless a petition signed by ten per centum of the registered voters of any municipality be presented to the municipal authorities within thirty days after the action approving the district has been taken by the court, and so on."

This, Mr. Speaker, is certainly an indirect approach. Many of the Members of this House circulate petitions to put themselves on the ballot for reelection. All of us realize the amount of time it takes to get a hundred signatures. A district might become cognizant of the fact they have been incorporated into a regional service district maybe two weeks afterward. They would have fifteen days in which to get a petition signed by ten per cent of the voters, and if that is not a handicap then I say to you, ladies and gentlemen of the House, you have never knocked on doors to get around that quickly.

This approach reminds me of a thief in the night or a thug in an alley sneaking up on you. If you want to be honest about a matter of this kind, why do we not put it on the ballot and let the people in our respective municipalities vote on it?

I am certainly against this bill. I am going to request the ladies and gentlemen on both sides of this House to vote it down. I request a slow roll call and only those present in their seats and answering to their names be recorded.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, if I may have the attention of the House, I should like to voice an objection to this bill as it is presently constituted.

The gentleman who just left the floor mentioned Section 10. As one who can view this bill objectively without very much partisanship, it appears to me there is a very deep possibility in this bill that the joint service district can be formed without the people having very much knowledge of the events which occurred and without their having the possibility of a referendum.

I can see little fault with the bill generally if there were an arrangement in the bill whereby the people would have the right per se, without any question, to vote upon the measure.

In this bill it can become law and you can have a joint service district formed without any referendum. If the people fail to file a petition in time, the courts of the larger districts having jurisdiction can declare the joint service district established.

For that reason I oppose the bill and I ask Members of the House to vote against it.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I do not think this debate should properly end without a word being said about some of the accomplishments of the Democratic administration in Philadelphia.

Under the Democratic administration, tremendous steps forward in all types of city governmental functions have been made. The police department has taken the top spot amongst police departments of similar size throughout the country.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I rise to a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not think the gentleman is discussing the bill in question. He is discussing the Democratic party in Philadelphia. I think it is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The point of order having been made, the Chair must rule that the point of order is well taken.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, may I then say that all the remarks made by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell, were equally out of order and should be equally ignored by the Members of the House.

I am very proud of my Democratic background in Philadelphia and I think the smell that he is referring to is that from his forebears in Delaware County.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. BELL, LIPPINCOTT and ISAACS.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Purchaser to Pay Tax: Prepaid Tax Receipts Except as provided in Section 403, the tax imposed by section 201 shall be paid by the purchaser to the vendor and each vendor shall collect from the purchaser the full and exact amount of the tax payable on each taxable purchase and shall evidence the payment of the tax by canceling prepaid tax receipts equal in face value to the amount of the tax in the manner and at the times provided as follows:

(1) If the purchase price is at or prior to the delivery of possession of the thing sold to the purchaser paid in currency passed from hand to hand by the purchaser or his agent to the vendor or his agent, the vendor or his agent shall:

(i) Collect the tax with and at the same time as the purchase price.

(ii) Immediately cancel in the presence of the purchaser by immediately tearing into two parts prepaid tax receipts of the proper face value, deliver one part of each such canceled prepaid tax receipt to the purchaser or his agent and retain the other part.

(2) If the purchase price is otherwise paid or to be paid, the vendor or his agent shall cancel by tearing into two parts prepaid tax receipts equal in face value to the amount of the tax imposed by section 201. The amount of the tax on such sale, payment of which to the Commonwealth is evidenced by such cancellation shall become a legal charge in favor of the vendor and against the purchaser which shall be collected by the vendor in addition to the purchase price. The vendor shall retain one part of each canceled prepaid tax receipt and upon receipt of the purchase price shall at his election (i) deliver one part of each canceled prepaid tax receipt to the purchaser or (ii) make available to the purchaser at the principal place of business of such vendor one part of each canceled prepaid tax receipt. Canceled prepaid tax receipts which are unclaimed after ninety days shall be disposed of by the vendor under regulations issued by the department.

Section 402 [Issuance of Prepaid Tax Receipts The department shall issue prepaid tax receipts in such denominations and classifications as it deems necessary and it shall adopt and promulgate such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary in order to carry out the provisions of this act] Issuance and Design of Prepaid Tax Receipts Prepaid tax receipts required by section 401 shall be issued by the department in such denominations as it deems necessary. They shall be printed on durable paper, shall be of different design and distinctly different coloring for each denomination and shall bear plainly on their face the denominations represented thereby

Section 4 The act is amended by adding after section 402 a new section to read:

Section 402.1 Powers and Duties of the Department: Prepayment of Tax The department shall design and procure prepaid tax receipts. The department shall enforce and administer this article and it may adopt and promulgate such rules and regulations as it deems necessary to carry out the provisions thereof. The department may:

(1) Prescribe the form and manner of canceling prepaid tax receipts.

(2) Waive the cancellation of prepaid tax receipts in the manner otherwise provided in this act in the case of purchases of natural or manufactured gas or steam, but no such authority shall be granted or exercised except upon application to the department and unless the department after a hearing, advance notice of which must be given by the department to all vendors in the same general classification as the applicant finds that the conditions of the applicant's business are such as to render impracticable the cancellation of prepaid tax receipts in the manner provided by this act and upon the applicant furnishing bond payable to the Commonwealth in such amount as the department determines to be sufficient to secure the payment of the taxes levied by section 201 in the manner desired with surety to the satisfaction of the department with whom the bond shall be filed. Any vendor to whom such authority is hereunder granted shall print plainly upon the bill or invoice for the personal property sold or offered for sale, a statement showing separately the amount of tax imposed under this act.

(3) Authorize a manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer to prepay the tax upon the sales of tangible personal property produced or distributed by such manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer, and waive the collection of the tax from the consumer in the manner otherwise provided in this act if, upon application by such manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer and hearing, advance notice of which is given to all persons in the same classification as the applicant, the department finds that the conditions of the applicant's business are such as to render impracticable the collection of the tax in the manner provided by said sections. No such authority shall be granted or exercised unless the applicant (i) furnishes bond payable to the Commonwealth in such amount as the department determines to be sufficient to secure the prepayment of the tax and (ii) gives notice of such prepayment by printing a notice plainly upon the product sold, or the statement rendered therefor, or, if the printing of such notice is impossible, by posting notice thereof upon the premises of the applicant where such product is sold. The person to whom such authority is granted shall purchase and cancel prepaid tax receipts and make one part of each such prepaid tax receipt available to the purchaser as provided in section 401 (2) of this act.

Section 5 Sections 403, 404 and 405 of the act are amended to read:

Section 403 Distributors The department shall distribute the prepaid tax receipts to any bank or trust company or bank and trust company in this Commonwealth which applies for a permit to act as a distributor of prepaid tax receipts to vendors. As a commission for handling and distributing the prepaid tax receipts each distributor shall be allowed a commission of one-half of one per centum of the total value of stamps sold to vendors. Each distributor shall also furnish to the (Departments) Department of Revenue (a semi-annual) on or before the tenth day of the month a monthly report for the preceding month and on or before the last day of January an annual reconciliation report showing an accounting of such sales. It shall be the duty of the Department of Revenue to conduct audits and make investigations to determine whether or not each distributor makes a proper accounting of the distribution of prepaid tax receipts. The department shall sell prepaid tax receipts to vendors in amounts not less than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) of face value of such prepaid tax receipts in one transaction.

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 404) page 8, line 13 by inserting after "more": The department shall redeem and pay for any unused or spoiled tax receipts at their net value. An application for refund shall be filed with the department on the form prescribed by it within ninety days from the date the tax receipts are spoiled.

Section 405 Redemption To encourage the assistance of health, welfare, charitable, religious educational, fraternal, patriotic and volunteer firemen's organizations, labor and union organizations and the general public in the collection of the tax the department shall redeem the consumer's or purchaser's portion of prepaid tax receipts at two per centum of the face value when presented in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the department in amounts aggregating one hundred dollars ($100) or more.

Section 6 The act is amended by adding after section 405 two new sections to read:

Section 406 Returns and Refunds Official Credit Memorandum If prepaid purchases are returned to the vendor by the purchaser after the tax imposed by section 201 has been collected or charged to the account of the purchaser, the vendor shall be entitled to reimbursement of the amount of the tax so collected or charged by him either through the cancellation of prepaid tax receipts paid for by the purchaser or through the canceling of prepaid tax receipts paid for by the vendor and charged to the account of the purchaser in the manner provided by this act. Upon receipt of a sworn statement by the vendor as to the gross amount of refunds during the period covered by the sworn statement, which period shall not be longer than sixty days, the department shall issue to the vendor an official credit memorandum equal to the net amount paid by the vendor for the canceled prepaid tax receipts. The memorandum shall be accepted by the department or an agent at full face value from the vendor to whom it is issued in the purchase of prepaid tax receipts under section 405.

Section 407 Penalties Any person who falsely or fraudulently uses more than once any prepaid tax receipt shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100) or to undergo imprisonment for not more than thirty days, or both.

Any person who with intent to defraud, falsely or fraudulently, makes, forges, alters or counterfeits any prepaid tax receipt prescribed by the department pursuant to this act or with intent to defraud falsely or fraudulently makes, forges, alters or counterfeits any vendor's purchase order of any such prepaid tax receipt or knowingly and wilfully utters, publishes, passes, presents for credit or tenders as true any such false, altered or forged or counterfeited receipt or vendor's purchase orders for the purchase of such prepaid tax receipt or with intent to defraud, purchases any stolen prepaid tax recepits or vendor's purchase order, whether such prepaid tax receipts or vendor's purchase order is false, altered, forged, counterfeited, reused or true, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than two thousand dollars ($2000) or to undergo imprisonment for not more than one year.

Section 7 Section 501 subsection (a) of section 520, sections 531, 534, 541, 542, 546, 547, subsection (a) of section 504, subsection (d) of section 571, subsection (b) of section 572 and subsection (b) of section 573 of the act are amended to read:

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 531), page 8, lines 17 to 20, and page 9, line 1, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof:

Section 520. Time for Filing Returns. (a) [Monthly] Returns by Licensees. For the period ending June 30, 1956. [A] a return shall be filed monthly with respect to the preceding month by every licensee. Such return shall be filed on or before the last day of the month succeeding the month with respect to which the return is made. For the period beginning July 1, 1956 and thereafter, a return shall be filed by every licensee on or before the last day of October, January, April and July for the periods ending the last day of September, December, March and June.

Section 531. Time of Payment. (a) [Monthly] Payments by Licensees. The tax imposed by this act and incurred or collected by a licensee shall be due and payable [in monthly installments] on or before the last day of the month succeeding the [month] period during which the purchases subject to the tax were made and shall accompany the return for such preceding [month] period, but credit shall be allowed for the amount of prepaid tax receipts purchased and cancelled in accordance with the provisions of Article IV for the period covered by the return.

(b) Annual Payments. If the amount of tax due for the preceding year as shown by the annual return of any taxpayer is greater than the amount already paid by him in connection with his monthly or quarterly returns he shall send with such annual return a remittance for the unpaid amount of tax for the year.

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 534), page 9, line 16, by striking out "June 30, 1955" and inserting in lieu thereof:

Amend Sec. 3, page 12, by inserting between lines 8 and 9

Section 546. Collection of Tax. (a) Collection by Department. The department shall collect the tax in the manner provided by law for the collection of taxes imposed by the laws of this Commonwealth.

(b) Collection by Persons Maintaining Place of Business in Commonwealth. Every person maintaining a place of business in this Commonwealth, and selling or leasing tangible personal property, the use of which is subject to tax, shall collect the tax from the purchaser or leasee at the time of making the sale or lease, [shall collect the tax from the purchaser or leasee] and remit the tax to the department. This subsection shall not apply after the effective date of Article IV.

(c) Exemption Certificates. If the tax does not apply to the [sale] purchase or lease of tangible personal property, the purchaser or lessee shall furnish to the [seller] vendor or lessor a certificate indicating that the [sale] purchase is not legally subject to the tax. The certificate shall be in such form as the department by regulation shall prescribe. Where the identity of the user is such that the transaction is never subject to the tax imposed, or where the tangible personal property is never subject to the tax imposed, or where the sale or lease is in interstate commerce, no such certificate need be furnished. Such exemption certificate, if taken in good faith, shall relieve the vendor from any liability for the tax.

(d) Direct Payment Permits. The department may authorize a purchaser or leasee who acquires tangible personal property under circumstances which normally make it impossible at the time of acquisition to determine the manner in which it will be used to pay the tax directly to the department and waive the collection of the tax by the [sellers] vendors. No such authority shall be granted or exercised except upon application to the department and the issuance by the department of a direct payment permit. If a direct payment permit is granted, then the payment of tax on all acquisitions, including acquisitions of tangible personal property, the use of which is known at the time of the acquisition, shall be made directly to the department by the permit holder. If such person is a licensee, the tax shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as is prescribed for a licensee.

Amend Sec. 3, page 13, by inserting after line 6

Section 564. Limitations on Refund or Credit. (a) Application for Refund. Any application within three years from the time the return [is] required by subsections (b) or (c) of section 520 is to be filed (determined without regard to any extension of time), or two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later.

Section 571. Additions to Tax. * * *

(d) Uncollectible Checks. Whenever any check issued in payment of any tax [assessment] or for any other purpose shall be returned to the department as uncollectible, the secretary shall charge a fee of five dollars ($5), plus all protest fees, to the person presenting such check to him to cover the cost of its collection.

Section 572. Penalties. * * *

(b) Attempt to Evade or Defeat Tax. Any person who wilfully attempts in any manner to evade or defeat the tax imposed by this act, or the payment thereof, or assists any other person to evade, [circumvent] or defeat the tax imposed by this act, the payment thereof, or to receive a refund improperly, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be liable for a penalty equal to the total amount of the tax evaded. No penalty shall be imposed under subsection (b) of section 571 for any offense to which this section is applicable.

Section 573. Crimes. * * *

(b) Other Crimes. Except as otherwise provided by subsection (a), any person maintaining a place of business in this Commonwealth who advertises or holds out or states to the public or to any purchaser or user directly or indirectly that the tax or any part thereof imposed by this act will be absorbed by such person or that it will not be added to the [selling] purchase price of the tangible personal property sold, or if added that the tax or any part thereof will be refunded other than when such person refunds the [selling] purchase price because of such property being returned to the [seller] vendor and any person maintaining a place of business in this Commonwealth and selling or leasing tangible personal property, the use of which by the purchaser is subject to tax hereunder, who shall wilfully fail or refuse to collect the tax from the purchaser and remit the same to the department, and any person who shall wilfully fail, neglect or refuse to file any return or report required by this act, or any taxpayer who shall refuse to pay any tax, penalty or interest imposed or provided for by this act, or who shall wilfully fail to preserve his books, papers and records as directed by the department, or any person who shall refuse to permit the department or any of its authorized agents to examine his books, records or papers, or who shall knowingly make any incomplete, false or fraudulent return or report, or who shall do or attempt to do anything whatever to prevent the full disclosure of the amount or character of taxable sales or purchases made by himself or any other person, or shall provide any person with a false statement as to the payment of tax with respect to particular tangible personal property, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars($1000) and costs of prosecution, or undergo imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both. The penalties imposed by this section shall be in addition to any penalties imposed by any provision of this act other than subsection (a).

Section 8. Section 585 of the act is repealed.

Section 9. Sections 602, 603 and the first paragraph of section 604 are amended to read:

Section 602. Constitutional Construction. If any section, sentence, clause or part of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional sentence, section, clause or part thereof not been included herein. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to impose a tax except on the ultimate consumer.

Section 603. Appropriation. So much of the proceeds of the tax imposed by this act as shall be necessary for the payment of refunds or the redemption of prepaid tax receipts provided for hereunder is hereby appropriated for the payment of such refunds and redemptions.

Section 604. Effective Date. The provisions of this act shall take effect the day following final enactment, but the provisions of Article [iv] IV shall not be operative until July 1, 1956.

Section 10. This act shall take effect immediately, and its provisions shall be retroactive to March 7, 1956.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform the membership that these amendments are the amendments that were discussed in our Democratic Caucus today. There will be other amendments which will be offered after this bill is passed over to the Senate, at which time it will come back to us for concurrence. We can consider them at great length at that time.

I think the amendments being offered today should be agreed to so that the bill may be sent over to the Senate in order to complete the job of amending the Sales Tax Law.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, this resolution deals with one of the greatest moments in the history of Pennsylvania when freedom of conscience was established on the soil of Pennsylvania and the British Government defied, in only one instance, in Philadelphia on July 31, 1734. There are now being planned commemorative exercises in Old St. Joseph's Church.

In connection therewith, it is an extreme privilege and a signal honor to present this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

EXTOLLING THE SIGNIFICANCE OF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM DAY IN PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 4, 1956.

Old St. Joseph's Church in Old Philadelphia in back of Walnut Street was founded in 1733 on the same location it now occupies at 321 Willing's Alley. Circumstances of its earliest years were such as to make it today, for Americans of all faiths, the symbol of a liberty which is precious to every citizen—perhaps the most basic to human dignity, of all our American freedoms. This is liberty of conscience, the religious freedom without which no man is wholly a man. Old St. Joseph's is a symbol of this freedom in a way which is unparalleled in any other place in our land.

The historical facts are these. In 1733 the religious penal laws of William III were being strictly enforced in all His Majesty's dominions—all, that is, except Pennsylvania. These laws, like similar ones of William's royal predecessors, were based on the principle that a man's right to worship God was strictly conditioned by his king's approval. Americans fought against this principle in many of the Colonies, but helplessly. Finally, Pennsylvania was the only Colony left where Religious Freedom remained an actuality.

On July 25, 1734, Governor Patrick Gordon appeared before the Meeting of the Provincial Council to lodge his protest against the existence of this Church, then in its first year, maintaining that it was "contrary to Laws of England . . . which extended to all His Majesty's dominions." The Council listened, "sate long" (as Minutes of the Meeting describe it), and instructed the Governor to appear before its next Meeting for his answer. At that next Meeting, on July 31, 1734, the Council had all the laws concerned read publicly, called attention to the "Law of this Province concerning Liberty" which guaranteed freedom of worship, and concluded by formally refusing to sanction the closing of Old St. Joseph's. This was the only instance in the pre-Revolutionary history of our nation that the right of a religious minority to exist, when challenged in the concrete, was ever successfully defended.

This glorious page in our History leaves Pennsylvania with unique distinction, since the issue was never raised again in this Colony, of being the birthplace of Religious Freedom as an enduring reality in America. And the issue was fought out around this venerable old Church.

To commemorate this great cornerstone and mainspring of our precious American heritage, His Excellency, Governor George M. Leader, intends to proclaim July 31, 1956, as the Religious Freedom Day in Pennsylvania, thus marking the 222nd Anniversary of what transpired on the sacred grounds of Old St. Joseph's Church, on the freedom breeding soil of Pennsylvania on that memorable day of July 31, 1734.

As the usually torrid weather conditions in Philadelphia in the end of July would preclude an adequate attendance at the commemorate civic exercises on July 31, 1956, same will be held on May 22, 1956, at which time a narrative bronze tablet relating the glorious events of July 31, 1734, will be attached to one of the walls of the church which formed part of the St. Joseph's original edifice.

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania in the name of the people of Pennsylvania join the entire Nation in extolling the significance of the aforesaid commemorative exercises and that the President pro tempore appoint three members of the Senate to participate therein.

And Be It Further Resolded, That a copy of the instant resolution be forwarded upon its adoption to The Rev. J. Joseph Bluett, S.J., Pastor of Old St. Joseph's Church in Philadelphia.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I move the adoption of this resolution.

Mr. LANE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

AUTHORIZING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A COMPLETE STUDY OF THE UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION LAW OF 1936

Messrs. McPHERSON, JR., MALLERY, KESSLER, WADE and PEELOR offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, April 4, 1956.

Whereas, It appears that the wisdom and constitutionality of that portion of Section 501 of Article V of the Unemployment Compensation Law of 1936, 2nd Ex. Sess., P. L. 2897, as amended, which would administratively permit the payment of unemployment compensation through arbitrary action of certain officials to persons on strike, without prior court decision, has been seriously questioned; and

Whereas, It is fitting that the Legislature should consider such measures as may be proper to correct constitutional and other defects in the Unemployment Compensation Law.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby authorized to make a complete study of the Unemployment Compensation Law of 1936, 2nd Ex. Sess., P. L. 2897, as amended, for the purposes of recommending to the 1957 Session of this Legislature appropriate revision thereof.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this resolution I intend to offer on behalf of Senator Robert D. Fleming, Senator J. Irving Whalley and Senator William Lane, three excellent Senators of this Body. In order to explain the resolution, I must refer to a bill on the Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 1849, which is the Bituminous Coal Open Pit Mining Conservation Act.

Senator Fleming had intended to offer amendments to House Bill No. 1849 because he was not satisfied with the provisions in the bill relating to the requirement for backfill. However, because of the fact that this bill had been studied and agreed upon by the interests involved, the operators, labor and other interested people, he felt that the best approach to the problem would be not by amendment to the present bill, but in the form of this resolution, providing for a study by the Joint State Government Commission. Because of the short time remaining in this Session, it would be possible for proper and complete legislation to be introduced on this subject at the next Session of the Legislature.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE METHODS USED TO REGULATE OPEN-PIT MINING AND CONSERVE AND IMPROVE THE THE LAND AFFECTED BY SUCH MINING

Mr. BERGER, on behalf of Messrs. FLEMING, WHALLEY and LANE, offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, April 4, 1956.

Whereas, The bituminous coal industry in Pennsylvania furnishes employment to some 76,000 Pennsylvanians; and

Whereas, In the recent past, total annual production of bituminous coal in Pennsylvania amounted to 70,000,000 tons, of which approximately 20,000,000 were produced by strip-mining methods; and

Whereas, The production of bituminous coal in Pennsylvania has declined more rapidly than bituminous production in the nation as a whole; and

Whereas, The thickness of the bituminous seam in the United States ranges from a low of 2.6 feet in the central Pennsylvania field to 7.1 feet in the Illinois field; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania bituminous equals but 5.07 tons per man-day, compared to 6.07 and 8.00 tons in the competitive states of West Virginia and Illinois, respectively; and

Whereas, These facts indicate that Pennsylvania's bituminous coal industry is in a relatively unfavorable competitive position and that efforts to improve this position should be consistent with the interests of the Commonwealh as a whole; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study the methods used to regulate open-pit mining and conserve and improve the land affected by such mining in the major bituminous producing states, from the point of view of the cost to the affected bituminous operators, the regulatory agency, and the effective restoration of the mined areas; and be it further

Resolved, That the Commission report the findings in its study to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

INTERROGATION

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset, Senator Whalley.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Whalley, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHALLEY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SCHMIDT. May I inquire, Senator Whalley, whether or not, in the event that this resolution were to be reported favorably and adopted, it is your understanding that House Bill No. 1849, in its present status, is to pass?

Mr. WHALLEY. As I understand it, that is the agreement.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Thank you, Senator Whalley.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SCHMIDT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I am in perfect accord with the resolution as presented and the study that is proposed. I have had considerable experience as a solicitor of a township. Ours was one of the first townships that suffered from the ravages of strip mining as it was permitted fifteen and twenty years ago. I was one of those who was very much concerned about what was happening to our countryside by reason of strip mining.

I am not opposed to strip mining. I realize that it is a necessary industry. However, I did feel that those who were engaged in strip mining were being permitted to do a lot of damage to our countryside and that they were not returning the land to as near the natural state that it was in prior to the operation of the strip mine. I was very much pleased when House Bill No. 1849 passed the House, as it did pass. I might also say that I was very much disappointed when House Bill No. 1849 emerged from committee with the amendments that were contained therein. I was very much pleased when I understood that Senator Fleming had intended to offer amendments to restore the bill to the place it was in when it came to us from the House. It was my hope that those amendments would be presented here on this floor and that I, and many others in the Senate, would have an opportunity to vote for those amendments and express our feeling on this matter.

I believe, from the answer that I received from the sponsor of the resolution, it is now the determined policy to pass the bill as it now stands and postpone the problem until the next Session of the Legislature. I think that is wrong. If that is what you are going to do today, when House Bill No. 1849 comes up, I must then ask that it be carried over in order to allow me to offer the amendments that I had understood would be offered by Senator Fleming so that we might have an opportunity, at this time, to restore the bill to the shape it was in when it came out of the House. A delay of six, eight or ten months, until this next Session of the Legislature convenes, will do irreparable harm to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, I state to the Members of the Senate that I shall propose the amendments that I thought Senator Fleming would propose, in order to restore the bill to its original form.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is not very often that I offer a congratulatory resolution, but I feel very proud of the fact that a little city in my District, through its high school basketball team, has won the championship for the whole State of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am offering this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO COACH EDDIE McCLOSKEY AND PLAYERS OF THE FARRELL HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM

Mr. MAHANY offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 4, 1956.

On March 24, 1956, before a capacity crowd at Penn's Palestra, Philadelphia, the basketball team of Farrell High School, western Pennsylvania champions, defeated the eastern Pennsylvania champions, Palmerton High School basketball team for the PIAA Class A State Championship by the score of 57 to 45.

Farrell High School entered the championship playoffs with an outstanding season's record of twenty-eight wins in thirty-two games. Eddie McCloskey, coach of the Farrell High School basketball team has compiled a record probably unequaled by any other high school coach in Pennsylvania. In his eight years as coach, Farrell High School won the State championship in 1952 and 1954. In addition, Farrell has been undefeated on its home court in ninety-six consecutive games extending over a period of approximately seven years. However, his record is not his sole attribute. He has always instructed his teams to fight hard but in a clean sportsmanlike manner and his team at the championship game at the Palestra displayed the fact that his instructions were followed to the letter.

Alhough Palmerton battled Farrell through every quarter, the excellently coached team of Farrell displaying a full court press, excellent ball handling, accurate shooting combined with the tremendous rebounding efforts and defensive play by Jones were just too much for Palmerton High School.

The citizens of Farrell, justly proud of one of the finest basketball teams ever to represent their city in a State championship play-off, subscribed $4,000 to offset the expense of a special radio program for the Farrell coach and players; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate extend its heartiest congratulations to Coach Eddie McCloskey and players of Farrell High School basketball team and wish it continued success in the future; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate transmit copies of this resolution to Coach McCloskey of the Farrell High School basketball team and the principal of Farrell High School.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I had planned on objecting to the immediate consideration of this resolution, but I was just informed that most of the players on that team are of Democratic parents. Therefore, I am for the resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I am sure that Senator Mahany is happy to hear that your objection has been removed on very fine grounds.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE PROPER AND LAWFUL METHODS OF PREVENTING THE SHOWING OF OBSCENE AND LEWD MOTION PICTURES

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution, which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, April 4, 1956.

Whereas, By the Act of May 15, 1915, P. L. 534, as amended May 8, 1929, P. L. 1655, relating to motion picture films, reels or stereopticon views or slides, providing a system of examination, approval, and regulation thereof and of the banners, posters and other like advertising matter used in connection therewith, creating a board of censors, and providing penalties, it was sought to make unlawful the showing of obscene, lewd, licentious, indecent, filthy and vile films, which tend to corrupt morals and offend decency; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the case Hallmark Productions, Inc., declared the foregoing acts unconstitutional; and

Whereas, It is deemed advisable to prevent the showing in the Commonwealth of motion pictures which are obscene, lewd, licentious, indecent, filthy and vile, which corrupt morals and promote juvenile delinquency; now, therefore, be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study and investigate proper and lawful methods of preventing such showing within the limitations of the Constitutions of Pennsylvania and of the United States; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly, its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry such recommendations into effect.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, since this is a concurrent resolution, if it meets with the approval of the leadership, I was going to move for its immediate adoption.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I understand that this resolution will be considered by the Rules Committee in connection with the bill which is now on the Calendar, providing for censorship of movies. I assure the Senator that the Democratic and Republican leadership on the Rules Committee will give his resolution their consideration and we will certainly report it out in the light of our findings.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED PURSUANT TO SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 17a

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of the following committee, pursuant to Senate Resolution, Serial No. 17a: the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel; the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro; and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Camiel.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 35

Mr. HARNEY. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 35, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 21, 1931 (P. L. 149), entitled, as amended "Liquid Fuels Tax Law," extending for an additional period the right to partial reimbursement of taxes paid on liquid fuels consumed in the operation of certain tractors and machinery for agricultural purposes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 794

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 794, entitled:

An Act amending the act of January 21, 1947 (P. L. 3), entitled "An act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly; fixing the number, qualifications, compensation, mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the Senate and of the House of Representatives; providing for their election or appointment, term of office, or of service, removal, and manner of filling vacancies; and making appropriations to the Senate, House of Representatives and Legislative Reference Bureau," changing the title of and compensation of certain House employes; and providing for the appointment of additional employes therein.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection The Chair hears none.

Mr. McPHERSON, JR., from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 981, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1895 (P. L. 212), entitled "An act to establish an intermediate court of appeal; regulating its constitution, officers, jurisdiction, powers, practice, and its relation to the Supreme Court and other courts; . . ." and its supplement of May 5, 1899 (P. L. 248), changing the jurisdiction of the Superior Court.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE NON-CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 1769

He also informed the Senate that the House has non-concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1769, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "Vehicle Code," requiring informations charging violations of summary provisions of the act in cities of the first class to be brought before centrally located traffic court designated by the chief magistrate.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 1769

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House to the foregoing bill.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

REMARKS BY MAJORITY LEADER CONCERNING NOMINATION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE FOR THE INTERIM

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I feel that this Session of the Legislature is drawing to a close and, therefore, it becomes necessary for the Senate to elect a President pro tempore to serve for the interim between the close of this Session and the start of the next one.

I understand that Senator Chapman has a Senator whom he would like to nominate. Therefore, at this time I yield to Senator Chapman so that he may make that nomination.

NOMINATION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE FOR THE INTERIM

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am about to nominate as President pro tempore of the Senate a man who exemplifies the four cardinal principles of a big man. First, intellectual honesty. His word is as good as his bond. Second, one who has emotional stability; that is, he has his feet on the ground. Third, a rugged individualist who has good health, is alert and spry. Fourth, one who has tact; one who has the ability to settle differences and questions with due regard for the other fellow.

It is with pleasure that I nominate such a gentleman with experience and one who is always available for consultation while in Harrisburg. It is a great pleasure to nominate the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor for the office of President pro tempore for the interim.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I take pleasure in seconding the nomination of our colleague, the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor, as President pro tempore of the Senate of Pennsylvania for the interim.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any further nominations?

NOMINATIONS CLOSED

Mr. LANE. In looking over the physical make-up of the Senate, Mr. President, and being cognizant of the fact that the Republicans have twenty-six votes, it seems to me that any nominations on the part of the Democrats would be quite fruitless. Therefore, it is with pleasure, indeed, that I also second the nomination of M. Harvey Taylor as President pro tempore of the Senate for the interim, and move that the nominations be closed and that he be elected by unanimous vote.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion that the nominations for President pro tempore for the interim be closed.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. On the election of the President pro tempore during the interim, the Clerk will call the roll. The candidate is the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor of Dauphin County.

FOR MR. TAYLOR—46

Barr,	Harney,	McPherson, Jr.	Stiefel,

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair declares the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor elected President pro tempore for the interim.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ESCORT THE HONORABLE M. HARVEY TAYLOR TO THE ROSTRUM

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair appoints the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan; the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner; and the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, as a committee to escort the President pro tempore-elect to the rostrum.

Whereupon, the President pro tempore was escorted to the rostrum of the Senate.

PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE-ELECT PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is happy to present to the Senate the newly re-elected President pro tempore of the Senate, the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor.

REMARKS BY THE HONORABLE M. HARVEY TAYLOR, PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE-ELECT

Mr. TAYLOR. Since Senator Mahany is going to throw a party for the Legislative Correspondents, I do not think I should take too much of your time.

I am convinced now that life begins at eighty. When I was unanimously re-elected President pro tempore and you fellows all voted for me, something is going to happen.

I would just like to say that I appreciate the honor and I will try to do a good job. Thank you all.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I am sure the Chair expresses the feeling of every Member of this Senate in that we have just re-elected as President pro tempore one of the grandest men ever to serve in this grand body, the Senate of Pennsylvania.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. MALLERY, BARR and BLASS read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1069, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 18, 1945 (P. L. 253) entitled "An act relating to suits by shareholders against officers or directors in a corporation, . . ." specifically including a suit by shareholders to compel the declaration of dividends by a corporation as a suit within the provisions of the act.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LANE, on behalf of Mr. MILLER, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1070, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225), entitled "The Game Law" providing for reimbursement of farmers for crops left as feed for game during the winter months.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

ADDITIONAL AMENDMENTS OFFERED TO HOUSE BILL No. 1311, PRINTER'S No. 1496

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, under the order of business today of Reports from Committees, Senator Whalley reported House Bill No. 1311, with amendment. It has since been learned that the amendments are not complete and I, therefore, offer further amendments to House Bill No. 1311, Printer's No. 1496.

SENATE BILL No. 865, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Bill No. 865, Printer's No. 527, which was recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 865

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 865, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of July, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1050), entitled "An act providing for the acquisition, construction, improvement, operation and maintenance of tunnels for certain highway purposes with the Commonwealth; . . . ," authorizing the use of facsimile signature and facsimile seal on bonds on the commission; authorizing preliminary or interim financing through issuance of notes or other obligations of the commission payable solely from revenues of the commission, including tolls, or from such funds as may be available to the commission for such purpose; providing for the securing of such notes or obligations, constituting the same legal investments in certain instances and exempting the same from taxation; and authorizing the issuance of tunnel revenue refunding bonds.

passed finally.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, page 2, line 10 of title, by inserting after "commission": "further regulating the maturity of bonds."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 249, Printer's No. 611, on concurrence in House amendments, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 223, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction to reimburse school districts for interest paid on loans necessitated by deferment of Commonwealth appropriations

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 1 and 2, by striking out "seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000)".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 223, Printer's No. 624, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 232, entitled:

An Act to select and adopt the Great Dane as the official State dog of Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I intend to vote for this bill. The lady who is responsible for the bill has worked diligently over the years. I am just wondering why we never sponsored such a bill before this, because one of our Senators, Senator Watkins, has a horse by the name of "Combustion" and if there ever was a dog, that was one because I know a lot of people who lost a lot of money on that horse. I am sure that the dog we are going to adopt as the State dog can run a lot faster than Senator Watkins' horse "Combustion", that was a dog.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in connection with Senate Bill No. 232, I am still doubtful and I do not know what to do about it. The only thing that may persuade me is if Senator McGinnis will deliver a speech.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, during this Session the Members received much mail on different proposals that came before us. I believe we received more mail on dog bills than perhaps on any others; first, on Senate Bill No. 231 which was returned to committee and I hope it will stay there, and, second, on this bill to make the Great Dane the State dog.

You know, Mr. President, I never knew there were so many dogs, or names of dogs or types of dogs in existence until this bill got on the Calendar. I received many letters suggesting other dogs as the State dog. A few people wrote to me and they suggested the Mexican hairless dog. Some other person suggested the Irish Setter. Others wrote to me about the Boxer and still others about the English Setter, Airdale, Russian wolf hound, Chow and the Sealyham. That was the first time I ever heard about a Sealyham, and I would like to see one of them one of these days. Others wrote to me about the Poodle, Bulldog, Fox Terrier, Chihuahua, the Scotty and finally a fellow wrote to me and he said that Pennsylvania already has a State dog. He said all you have to do is go to any baseball game, or football game or basketball game and there you will find the State dog and it is the hot dog, which everybody has a chance to buy.

In spite of all that, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this Legislature has been in Session for the past sixteen months and things from time to time have been pretty badly mixed up. In spite of it all, though, in these last days of the Session, I think we did a pretty good job in Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania, after all, is not going to go to the bow-wow's.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, there is one thing about this bill that I have the greatest admiration for and that is the sponsors of the bill. The sponsors of the bill, Senator McCreesh and Senator McGinnis, like myself, are good Irishmen, men of the sod, and for the life of me I cannot understand why good Irishmen would overlook that noble, beautiful animal, the Irish Setter.

I like all dogs and the Great Dane is a wonderful dog but, there being that Irish in me, I could only vote for one dog as the State dog and that would be the Irish Setter.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, maybe I should yield to Senator McGinnis because I am not quite convinced yet. I want to hear his speech, so I will yield to Senator McGinnis.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I am not really the author of this bill. My name is on it but the real author of this bill is Senator McCreesh.

I will tell you why we picked the Great Dane. There are two lovely ladies sitting back there who have been up here week after week. I do not know why they picked out Senator McCreesh and I, except that they probably figured we had the most white hair. Anyway, I was amazed at Senator Yosko's knowledge of dogs. I never knew we had so many dogs in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I was born on a farm and if I had my personal wish, I would name the Shepherd dog. The Shepherd dog on a farm is as good as a young boy. They do most everything that a boy can do. However, we do not have a State dog and because these lovely ladies sitting back there left their homes and came here so often to have the Great Dane as our State dog, Mr. McCreesh and I agreed to sponsor it and I hope we will get some votes for this bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have listened to Senator McGinnis and he has more or less convinced me that probably I should vote for this legislation.

However, Mr. President, to be brutally frank, I think most of us must admit that we are sort of ridiculous when we fool around with making any particular dog a State dog in Pennsylvania. We have a lot of other work to do here. However, I guess we do silly things, and we will probably pass this and the Great Dane will be the State dog.

Not long ago, I was watching a television program and my granddaughter called to my attention the fact that there was a talking dog on there, and the dog did actually talk if you wanted to believe that way because I heard it talk. My granddaughter said to me, "Granddaddy, that should be the State dog." Well, I will tell you, it was a little mongrel and, therefore, it had no chance.

Mr. President, Senator Mallery talked about the Irish Setter. If I had my preference, we have a good dog at home and it is an old English Setter. His name is Rover and he is about twelve years of age. I, for one, think he is the greatest dog in Pennsylvania and I am sorry I cannot vote for him.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I believe Senator McCreesh has it on good historical authority that the Great Dane originally got its start in Ireland.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I am going to listen to the voice of my constituents. I have an organized group in State College, at 230 South Gill Street, known as Beagles, Incorporated. For that reason, I must vote "no" on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25

Berger,	Donolow,	McPherson, Jr.	Silvert,

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills on third reading, go over in their order:

Senate Bill No. 672, Printer's No. 280;

Senate Bill No. 673, Printer's No. 270; and

House Bill No. 675, Printer's No. 1655.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Is it correct in assuming that we will adjourn at the end of next week?

Mr. MAHANY. If the Senator will permit me to make this statement, I should like to say that I will assure him that we will act on these bills of his, in which he is so much interested, tomorrow. We do not intend to let them go over in order until after the Session. We will act on them tomorrow.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, to a certain degree, I will be at a disadvantage tomorrow. I intended to deliver a speech just now if these bills were threatened. The topic of my speech would have been "Of Cabbages and Kings."

The Great Dane bill, in my opinion—I voted for it—was to such a degree insignificant that I would have called it "cabbage." However, these are two "king" bills which are very important and I am going to prepare a speech for tomorrow, hoping that final action will be taken on them tomorrow, one way or another.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, Senate Bill No. 672, Senate Bill No. 673 and House Bill No. 675 will go over in their order.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1023, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1 1933 (P. L. 1172) entitled "Borough Rural State Highway Law" changing or deleting certain routes and adding certain new routes.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, during our Republican Caucus today, it was announced that there would be other amendments to this bill, to Senate Bill No. 1024 and Senate Bill No. 1025. Since that time, those who had the amendments in mind have agreed that they will try to get their amendments inserted in the House.

Therefore, Mr. President, I hope it will be agreeable to everyone to vote on these bills today.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1044, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 1, 1937 (P. L. 2460), entitled "An act creating a joint legislative commission, to be known as the Joint State Government Commisseion; . . .," further regulating membership of the commission and the powers and duties of the commission and providing for the scheduling of its meetings, imposing powers and duties on standing committees of the General Assembly.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am not going to vote against this piece of legislation. Actually, I think it is a step in the right direction but if you will observe, we put through quite a number of resolutions directing that the Joint State Government Commission study some particular phase of government. If you will turn to page 7 of the bill, beginning on line 11, you will find that it reads:

"The Commission shall undertake through the Standing Committees of the Senate and House of Representatives such studies and investigations as the General Assembly by resolution shall direct."

Now, this restricts the operation of the Commission to the adoption of resolutions. There is always the possibility, in the closing days of a Session, for a number of very important resolutions to get lost. The Commission, by virtue of this legislation, would be prohibited from studying that particular phase of government.

If you go back to page 5, on line 3 to line 14, they have struck out a number of operations which could be useful as far as governmental operations are concerned. As a matter of fact, on line 10, one portion which is struck out says: "To suggest ways and means of financing the Commonwealth upon a more scientific and equitable basis."

On line 12 it says: "To gather budget information for the use of the General Assembly." Unless we have resolutions passed specifically directing that those phases of operations be studied, you will not be able to do it under the provisions of this bill. That is what I want to point out to you today.

I think we should take the bill over in order and study this thing, and let us liberalize it a little bit more. I think it is good legislation, but they can only operate where we adopt resolutions.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if Senator Lane will look on page 5, line 14, he will find that there is a general provision there which I believe covers about everything that he would like to have the Joint State Government Commission study. That is: "To make such investigations and studies and to gather such information as may be deemed useful to the General Assembly and to the Standing Committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives."

That covers about everything you can possibly think of. I feel that this provision in here does give authority to the Joint State Government Commission to do all the things which would be necessary to carry out our intentions, to give us any information that we might want to have in order to do our work better for the benefit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If there is any particular item here which is objectionable, I feel sure that the House will check it, because a Member of the House is presently the Chairman of the Joint State Government Commission.

I feel that the House Members should have a chance to look it over. I feel that this bill is in as good a shape as we can make it at the present time. I will say, for the information of Senator Lane and others, that the Staff of the Joint State Government Commission has had an opportunity of looking this over and they have been helpful in making these corrective amendments, some of them, however, being under my supervision and direction. The amendments bracket out those specific items which appear on page 5 of the bill and this was done. I believe, under the direction of the Staff of the Joint State Government Commission and at their recommendation.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, Senator Mahany has answered a portion of my objection to this piece of legislation. I have been very busy and I have not had time to go over this in detail, because I am vitally interested in the operation of the Joint State Government Commission. It so happened that I was tied up in the hospital, becoming a grandfather again. This is the third girl. She was born yesterday and, therefore, I have been pretty well tied up.

Mr. President, I would like for this bill to go over and we can pass it tomorrow. That would give me a chance to look it over, providing we are going to be in Session until Friday.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1044, Printer's No. 630, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I as unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1849, Printer's No. 1604, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1977, entitled:

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, April 5, 1956, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:11 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Thursday, April 5, 1956, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1956

The House met at 10:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the Members present the Chair desires to read Rule 2.

> Rule 2. Taking the Chair (concerns the Speaker): He shall take the Chair on every legislative day at the hour to which the House shall have adjourned, ———that is something the Speaker has sometimes neglected to do ——— and immediately call the Members to order, On the appearance of a quorum, the Speaker shall proceed to the regular order of business as prescribed by the rules of the House.

Our proper procedure from the beginning was for the Chair promptly at the hour to which the House had adjourned to call the House to order, and having called the House to order, to await the appearance of a quorum before the House proceeded to business.

The Chair has called the House to order and awaits the appearance of a quorum.

The Chief Clerk will report the appearance of a quorum and the Chair will call the House to order.

PRAYER

The Reverend Robert Knechel, Pastor of the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren, guest Chaplain and guest of the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley, offered the following prayer:

O God, we thank Thee for the men who meet in this Assembly to direct the affairs of our great Commonwealth. Grant unto them divine wisdom, so that they may see clearly the facets of the issues at hand. May they not act in haste, or with bias mind to perform their duties. But with help from Thee, may the selfish, stubborn natures be subdued so that the decisions made may be for the common good.

Help them, we pray, to ever sense the yoke of their duty. To feel the extensiveness of their service. To realize the manifold conditions which await their worthy decisions. In the name of Christ, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, April 3, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ, Mrs. PASHLEY, Messrs. WELSH, TAYLOR, Mrs. VARALLO, Messrs. FRASCELLA, LIMPER, BRANCA and CHARLES C. SMITH. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION (Not printed).

In the House of Representatives, April 3, 1956.

On April 7, 1956, Dr. Catharine Macfarlane celebrates her 79th birthday. The entire State and Nation celebrates with her in appreciation of the dedicated life she has lived. Born in Philadelphia in 1877, she has become one of the Nation's leaders as a surgeon, researcher and teacher.

In recognition of her excellent professional attainment, highest honors have been conferred on her. She is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and the American Academy of Obstetrics and Gynecology; she was the first woman to be elected to the College of Physicians of Philadelphia and as President of the Obstetrical Society of Philadelphia. She is a former President of the American Medical Women's Association and a former Vice-President of the Medical Women's International Association. In 1940 she was named recipient of the Gimbel Award for "Outstanding Service to Humanity." In 1949 she was the first woman to be awarded the Strittmatter Award given by the Philadelphia County Medical Society and in 1951 the famed national Lasker Award for "inspiring application of preventive medicine to cancer control." She has received honorary degrees from outstanding colleges and universities. In 1952 she received the Elizabeth Blackwell Citation from the Trustees of the New York Infirmary and in 1953 she received the first annual May E. Silberman Award, for work in cancer prevention.

The control of cancer has been the major interest in her career; for fifteen years she headed a cancer research program under a grant part of the time from the American Medical Association. The pioneer work of that clinic which stressed early detection in prevention of cancer through early examination of presumably well women, has been followed by many other medical colleges and hospitals.

First Professor and then Research Professor of Gynecology at the Woman's Medical College, Dr. Macfarlane has been affectionately called "Kitty Mac" by generations of students. To them she will always be unique in stature, a woman physician whose name is revered and whose insistence on perfection has guided them into paths of service leading away from provincialism; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives, on behalf of all the people of Pennsylvania, give our most sincere thanks to this woman and assure her that her noble works, while contributing much to the health of our people have done far more for the goodness of our people: for all who have known her are better people for it, and all who know of her, are inspired by her story; and be it further

Resolved, That on her birthday we wish her all the happiness she has given others even though we know that an infinitesimally small fraction of it is many times more than any one human can experience in a dozen lifetimes; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Dr. Catherine Macfarlane.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

RESOLUTION

COMMEMORATING BIRTHDAY OF THADDEUS STEVENS

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was, read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1956.

Thaddeus Stevens was born in Danville, Vt. April 4, 1792. He graduated at Dartmouth College in 1814, removed to York, Pennsylvania, where he taught school while preparing himself for the legal profession. He was admitted to the bar in Maryland in 1816 and at once returned to Pennsylvania and began to practice in Gettysburg, which practice he maintained for fifteen years.

In 1833 he was elected to the Pennsylvania Legislature from Adams County, and was reelected six times thereafter. In the Legislature he won local fame as a supporter of the State free school system, just then being established against great opposition. For his work in this respect, he is often credited with being the father of the public school system in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Stevens was a Whig Representative in Congress in 1849-53, and was leader of the radical Whigs and Free Soilers, strongly opposing the Compromise Measures of 1850 and being especially bitter in his denunciation of the Fugitive Slave Law. In 1855 he took a prominent part in organizing the Republican Party in Pennsylvania.

Throughout his career, Mr. Stevens' sympathy was reserved for the weak and oppressed, and was among the first to demand the abolition of slavery; therefore be it

Resolved, that this House of Representaitves hereby commemorates and honors the memory of the outstanding Pennsylvania political leader and educator, the Honorable Thaddeus Stevens, on the one hundred sixty-fourth anniversary of his birth, April 4, 1956.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will turn to page 13 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, Senate Bill No. 246.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 246, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the creation of an additional debt by the Commonwealth for the payment of compensation to certain veterans.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 23), page 3, line 4, by inserting after "paid" "The revenue derived from such revenue-raising measures shall be used only for the payment of the debt created as herein provided and the measures shall provide for their termination when sufficient funds are accumulated to pay the debt."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Will the gentleman inform the House what is intended to be accomplished by his amendments?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, these amendments are the thinking of the Veterans Councils in regard to this Korean bonus. We are perfectly willing, we in the veteran world to go along. We went along with the amendments yesterday that a tax should be created and must be created, but we would like to insert these amendments so that when this tax is paid, whatever it is, will be terminated at that time.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman whether the intention of this amendment would be, for example, to allow a tax measure, if one were passed sufficient to raise enough during the biennium to pay the cost of this bond issue during that biennium, to run so long as the obligation continued? For example, the bonds could be amortized over a fifteen-year period. If a tax measure were passed which would raise enough in one biennium to pay the cost in that biennium, does the gentleman intend by this amendment that such tax would be allowed to run during the fifteen-year period until the bonds were all paid off?

Mr. HOCKER. I think, in my humble opinion, Mr. Speaker, with this amendment—if I am correct, we will have to create a tax before the bonds are issued. Now, it is good housekeeping, I believe, that when we put this tax on, whatever it may be, if it can be paid for in one biennium, I do not see any reason why those bonds should be stretched out over a fifteen-year period.

Mr. READINGER. I do not know whether I understand the gentleman's last remark properly or not, but I do not believe he is even suggesting that we try to raise $150 million in one biennium to pay off the bonus. I think that is a matter which properly should be left to the good judgment and wisdom of the future legislative body which will pass the enabling legislation, at that time to decide whether the bonds should be retired in five, ten, fifteen or twenty years.

I want the Members to know that I have no objection at all to these amendments. I was asking these questions merely to clarify the intent of them. I think I understand them and I believe most of the Members do. I think the principle involved is good. In other words, we do not want the public to think that because a tax might be imposed to raise the money for this Korean bonus it is going to remain on the books forever. I do not think it would and this, in effect, tell the public that when the purpose for which the tax is levied has been served the tax shall no longer remain as a tax for that particular purpose.

I am asking the Members to agree to these amendments.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. LOVETT. I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LOVETT. Is it permissible to amend a bill that we do not have before us?

The SPEAKER. If the bill is not before the Members, any Member can object to its consideration.

Mr. LOVETT. I object to its consideration due to the fact that the bill is not before us.

The SPEAKER. The bill will be passed over until it is in the possession of the Members.

The Chair thought a bill which everybody has agreed to might be disposed of at this time. The reason it was brought up at this time was to get the amendments in the bill and get the bill printed as amended simply to hurry up consideration. That was the reason.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I still object.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOCKER. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, am I to understand then, that any bill on this calendar that is not on my desk, or the other Members' desks, will not be considered at this session today unless the bills are brought in?

The SPEAKER. If there is objection, the Members can insist that the bill be on file on their desks.

Mr. HOCKER. In that case then, I will have to raise objection to any bill that is tried to be handled here today that is not in print.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order as far as future procedure is concerned, but he cannot expunge the record as to the action of the House which has already been taken.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 246, Printer's No. 644

was passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER.

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1544, Printer's No. 1533 and

House Bill No. 1948, Printer's No. 1608

were passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1976, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the board of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" changing the Brandywine Battlefield Park Commission from an independent administrative commission to a commission in the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, that bill is not in my folder.

The SPEAKER. What is the last Printer's number?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, the last number in my folder is Printer's No. 1658.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request the Chair to recognize the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, for the purpose of making a statement relative to the calendar.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, yields to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my objections to the amendments to Senate Bill 246 being considered at this time.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House now return to consideration of Senate Bill 246 on page 13 in connection with the amendments which have been offered by the gentleman from Dauphin.

The SPEAKER. The Chief Clerk is informed that the bill is in print, but it may not be on all of the Member's desk, but the bill is in print.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 246, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to artcle nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the creation of an additional debt by the Commonwealth for the payment of compensation to certain veterans.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 23), page 3, line 4, by inserting after "Paid" The revenue derived from such revenue-raising measures shall be used only for the payment of the debt created as herein provided and the measures shall provide for their termination when sufficient funds are accumulated to pay the debt.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Dauphin deal somewhat with the amendments which were entered into the bill yesterday. I opposed the amendments to the bill yesterday, and I feel these amendments are only confusing the issue more.

I see no way in which these amendments will assist in making it accord with the actions of the Legislature in regard to bonuses for veterans of World War I and World War II. Attention has been drawn to this particular Resolution by the amendments, and these present amendments will not help in any way to have a bonus created for the Korean War veterans under the same circumstances that bonuses were paid to other war veterans of this state.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Westmoreland insists on remaining confused, that is his right. I do not think the rest of us are confused, and therefore I think we should vote for these amendments and dispose of this matter promptly.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request that we now return to House Bill No. 1976 and request that the gentleman from Dauphin withdraw his objection to considering this bill at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1976, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9 1929 (P L 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" changing the Brandywine Battlefield Park Commission from an independent administrative commission to a commission in the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, by reason of what has happened, I will withdraw my objection. We are really getting lovely now.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, under a decision of this House, specifically 46A, is it correct that a bill can be considered even though it is not in the file on the desk of a Member?

The SPEAKER. That is correct. The Constitution requires the bill to be printed for the use of the Members. The bill has been printed. If this House desires unanimously, without objection, or by a decisive vote, to consider a bill that is in print but does not happen to be on the desk of any particular Member, it can do so. Until the House does so decide, the objection upon the part of a single Member will prevent its consideration.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, would the Speaker recite the particular Rule which requires unanimous consent to consider a bill not in the files when the bill is in print?

The SPEAKER. There is no rule except the rule that the House is absolutely master of its own proceedings and by unanimous consent or majority vote, if there is no contrary Rule, the House can do as it pleases.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in saying you do not need unanimous consent of the House to consider a bill which has been printed but not in the files of the Members?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this bill. The Brandywine Battlefield Park Commission is and has been since its creation a completely independent agency. The men who are on this Commission are men of the highest caliber and they are Members of both political parties. I think solely through their efforts this park has developed into a place of real beauty and great historic interest.

The Chairman of this Commission, for example, is the President Judge of the Orphans' Court of Delaware County. Through his efforts and the efforts of many other of the members a number of persons of renown have become interested in this park. For example, Henry F. du Pont, the owner of the Winterthur Museum, has donated a number of pieces and has created a great interest in the park.

This present Commission has made many contacts with historical agencies, and so on. To now place this commission under the Department of Forests and Waters would result, among other things, in a greatly increased budget. It would eliminate the voluntary contributions that are now being made. As I said, the Commission is non-political and non-partisan.

This bill, Mr. Speaker, is another example of the two-faced false statements the Governor of this Commonwealth has made. In this case I can prove it. I have in my hand a copy of The Evening News of Harrisburg dated January 27, 1955. The article on the first page states:

> "Reshuffling Plan Would Exclude State Groups.
> "Aides of Gov. Leader today listed 10 different agencies under his jurisdiction which would be exempt from an administration-backed government reorganization plan."
> "Henry M. Leader, legislative secretary to the governor, said the measure specifically excludes, in addition to entire departments, all independent administrative agencies from abolition or consolidation.
> "The governor's office listed these agencies as" —and I will skip the other nine, but the last one is—the Brandywine Battlefield Park Commission.

Now, I ask you, was the Governor lying when he made that statement?

I think the people of this Commonwealth should know, should become aware of the way the administration both at the city and state level once it gets into power is grabbing the slightest bit of patronage it can and the general attitude at this point seems to be, "The public be damned."

I ask the Members to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 2043, Printer's No. 1450, and
House Bill No. 2070, Printer's No. 1611

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2097, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by abolishing the State Civil Service Commission creating the State Personnel Board and establishing duties of that board

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, some of the Members will probably be walking out to have lunch thinking we are going right through with the program. I would like the membership to know we are planning to call a recess of the House for the purpose of having lunch immediately after considering House Bill 2097 and House Bill 2098.

Mr. Speaker, since you are the sponsor of these two bills, I would request that you leave the rostrum and take the floor to explain your bills.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, to preside temporarily.

Mr. READINGER IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. ANDREWS. I hope someone raises a very difficult point of order while the gentleman from Berks is in the Chair.

Mr. READINGER. The Chair hopes the same.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2097, of course, is without value or meaning unless House Bill 2098 is enacted, and unless 2097 is enacted 2098 is without value. The two bills must travel together.

These two bills are a bit peculiar by reason of their impact upon the two sides of this House. I find there are Democratic Members who do not like these bills because they say they are calculated to seal, to blanket, a lot of wicked Republicans in office. Over on the other side of the House I find there are those who do not like these bills because they are to be used to get a lot of jobs away from Republicans and give them to wicked Democrats. Now, both cannot be right.

For a great many years I have had one fundamental disagreement with the existing setup. There are practically no civil service jobs for which I would be eligible to apply. I would not be permitted to take the examinations. I do not have a high school certificate and I have not gone to college. I tried the experiment back a number of years ago when the liquor stores were established and applied for the least important job in the setup, but I could not take it, they said only high school graduates were eligible.

The one thing that is written into this bill that I would be willing to accept of all its provisions for is that it specifically states that no educational experience is necessary in order to take a qualifying examination for any of the jobs in the proposed classified service. If outside of the halls of learning you have been able to equip yourself so that you can take the qualifying examination, you under this proposed bill, will be able to do so, and it is specifically so stated in the bill.

I am a little tired of the practice, continued during the present administration, of having applicants for certain positions for which by reason of their experience they are fitted told it is just too bad, they would be in line for consideration if they had just managed to graduate from college.

I have no objection to college graduates, but I know I have acquired it the hard way. I wish I could have had the opportunity of getting a high school certificate and going to college. I sympathize with the many qualified people who cannot under our present setup obtain employment in the Commonwealth simply because they lack a certain educational background and their experience does not count.

Another thing that has always concerned me is the lack of tenure for professional and technical people. If we cannot assure tenure to technical and professional people, we are going to have an increasingly hard job in maintaining state services at the proper level. The man who has a job is not going to enter state service if he imagines that he is likely to be tossed out on his ear for no reason at all except there has been a change in administration.

The purpose of this bill is to establish a classified service which would at the present time probably include between 900 and 1,100 people. Our technical help has never been properly classified as to duties, and neither has it been properly classified as to salary.

So the purpose of the proposed personnel board is to create a classified service, the members of which, both those in the present service and new applicants, would be required to take a qualifying examination.

There is one basic difference between the operations of the proposed personnel board and the present setup. Every rule promulgated by the proposed personnel board must be subject to a public hearing; the demotion of anybody in the classified service can go to a public hearing upon request; any citizen who objects to any of the proceedings of the personnel board can demand a public hearing. It is even specifically mentioned in the bill that when there are public hearings, or other actions, that the gentlemen of the Press and the newsroom must receive copies at least seven days in advance of the hearing. Now, that degree of publicity does not prevail at the present time. Technical people can be dismissed without the opportunity of a public hearing.

This classified service cannot be created overnight. If it is ready for operation by the time the next General Assembly convenes, they will have been making remarkable progress. In view of legislation that is pending, we will have a legislative committee empowered to observe every step the proposed personnel board takes in the promulgation of its rules and its procedures.

I want to suggest that there are two Chambers of this General Assembly and it is not likely that those who work in another place will be inclined to look with favor upon a measure which would get all good Republicans fired and wicked Democrats placed in their stead.

I do not want to take your time to go into the technicalities of this bill. It is somewhat involved and in some respects a bit muddled. Amendments have been drawn to clarify a number of sections of the bill, but I said what was the use of going to the trouble of clarifying the various sections of the bill if the bill was never destined to leave this House with a favorable vote.

We are always as a House, as a Legislature, permitted to ride herd on every move this proposed personnel board makes. It is even required when it holds a hearing to notify every Member of the General Assembly that a hearing is to be held about a certain thing, and, if we are watching it, if we are in a position to observe it, if we can possibly get going as an active concern during the current year, I can candidly recommend it as a step in advance in the matter of recruiting and retaining competent technical and professional employes.

I want to close by saying there is not any branch of our government, any commission, that is subject to the publicity, the scrutiny, that this personnel board will be. It cannot make a move, if anybody objects, without a public hearing.

Various Members might want to consider this section, or that section, the matter of procedure, the examinations and the protection that is given to those now in the service who would at the end of a definite period be required to take a requalifying examination. My interest is in the personnel, the technical and professional personnel, because of my conviction that without tenure, and they do not have it now, they cannot be assured of tenure.

Just a few days ago I learned that a person I believe to be a valued employe of one of the branches of our government has been on a provisional appointment under civil service for eleven years and he never was transferred from provisional into permanent and given permanent status.

You cannot do that sort of thing under this bill that I am talking about because if you are qualified and you are on the list, a list that every Member of this House can scrutinize if you are eligible, they cannot pass you by for eleven years.

I thank the Chair for the able manner in which he has presided over this somewhat scattered discourse.

As I say, I have no disposition to debate the various provisions of the bill at length from a technical point of view. I am urging favorable consideration of the bill because of its over-all aspects. If the bill fortunately should meet with favor in this House, there later will be on the part of the minority party in the House, which is the majority party in another place, abundant opportunity to take out any provisions that might possibly inure to the special benefit of wicked Democrats.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like permission to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. Yes, Mr. Speaker. If there are to be lawyer's questions, I shall ask the Majority Leader to return to his station upon the floor.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is of the opinion that the gentleman does not need the Speaker pro tempore's help in this matter.

Mr. ANDREWS. If it is not a lawyer's question, the gentleman may proceed.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will try to confine myself to the simple rudiments of this profound and far-reaching instrument that is in front of us which will require more than a lawyer to describe and explain.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire first of the gentleman, in what departments on Capitol Hill do we presently have civil service among our employes?

Mr. ANDREWS. We have civil service in the Department of Public Assistance, which is not disturbed. The bill which you have before you, which is classified service, will not be applicable in the case of those employes who are paid in part or in whole by Federal funds. That is my understanding. If that is not in the bill it should be. I think it is.

Of course, the Liquor Control Board, Public Assistance, some of the employes of the Health Department, and how much further it permeates I do not know.

Mr. JOHNSON. May I inquire of the gentleman, will this bill affect the civil service system in the Liquor Control Department?

Mr. ANDREWS. My impression is that it will not.

Mr. JOHNSON. Will it affect the merit system in the Health Department? I believe they call it the merit system, do they not, in the Health Department? I know you have some misgivings on that point, but—

Mr. ANDREWS. We expect the merit system in the Health Department to be a vanishing factor. The merit system never has been efficient, never will be, until it is reorganized, but various employes could be.

I have not made myself clear. The first job will be to establish a classified service. If you need an optometrist, f you need a psychiatrist, if you need anyone technical, ou create that classified service.

Now where all of that classified service will be, I can- ot tell you at the present time and neither can anybody lse, but you have to have some form of civil service for hose employes who are paid either in whole or in part y Federal funds.

I presume I have not made myself clear. As I have said o the gentleman, if there are technical matters, if the bill n its purpose meets approval, he will have abundant pportunity to present his technical amendments in an- ther place where he will receive, I have no doubt, a very ordial reception.

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe that is all. With the permission f the Chair, I would like to make a brief statement on his matter.

Mr. Speaker, I discussed these two bills with the peaker of the House this morning and I informed him hat our Republican Caucus yesterday had taken caucus ction against these bills, which, by the way, are among he few bills this session we have taken caucus action gainst.

Naturally, the party out of power always looks with lisfavor or askance at any legislation which appears on ts face to be ripper legislation. As to these bills we think erhaps the end in view is good, but it could be ac- omplished by a series of amendments. It reminds me of —

Mr. ANDREWS. Could I interrupt to make one state- ent?

Mr. JOHNSON. Yes.

Mr. ANDREWS. One of the reasons why you create a ersonnel board is because you create the board outside f the present civil service setup. There is an ingrowing n civil service. You have to appeal now through purely ivil service channels clear to the top if you have a rievance.

This personnel board is not in any way acquainted with, ot in any way associated with and not a part of the civil ervice setup. It is a board of five, no more than three f which can be members of any one party. That is the nal place for the appeals of those who have been de- oted, those who have been discharged and those who ave any grievance. That is the final place in which they ay rest their appeal. There is a publicity attached to he proceedings that cannot be attached under present tatutes to the operations of the civil service system.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, if we understand the entleman correctly, this five-man board you have set p as you say, will be a bipartisan board?

Mr. ANDREWS. No more than three members can be rom any one party, three and two.

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe the present Civil Service oard is a board of three members, is it not?

Mr. ANDREWS. I could not tell the gentleman for cer- ain. I have thought so little of the present civil service et up that I have not come equipped to answer as to all f its faults.

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe the present board consists of hree members.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair rules that is a awyer's question.

Mr. JOHNSON. This far-reaching bill reminds me of a ituation up at Force, Pennsylvania, in Elk County—a representative from Elk County is here—where by reason of life in the company houses there were impurities in the water and it came to the attention of the Shawmut Railroad Company at that time, who were running the coal mines and the company houses. A leading doctor there, I believe, complained here in Harrisburg. In order to get rid of the impurities in the water at Force, Pennsylvania, they tore up the railroad all the way from Brockway, Pennsylvania, to Angelica, New York.

It seems to me that is what is happening here in this bill. You are ripping out a Board and you are establishing some very far-reaching legislation. I think on this side of the House we would probably look with favor on many of the things you have brought out here this morning if you would amend existing legislation and not go in for ripping out the present Board, proceed by amendment rather than in the drastic way in which you are proceeding.

I believe that was the theory back of our going on record against these bills. It is not that we are not in sympathy with the spirit and some of the very fine things you have mentioned this moring. It is probably too bad to have your bills defeated if there is a great deal of merit in what you have said.

I am sorry I do not know more about these bills to intelligently debate them with you, but that was our general over-all opinion of the legislation.

By the way, Members of the House, the gentleman told me he did not want any sympathy votes on this bill, he wanted the bills to stand on their own two feet.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman for saying that. There were perhaps two or three Members on the other side of the House who might have felt, well, we will give Old Hi a couple votes for his no-good bills.

Vote for the measure on the basis of the measure and I will still consider you all my friends if you do that.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, this is one of those sympathetic hearts starting to beat. I would suggest, Mr. Speaker, rather than call this bill for a vote today, if the gentleman is really anxious about it he give us a complete brief so that we can again go to our caucus and probably after the discussion today there may be some people who feel the same way as he does. We did not thoroughly understand the bill originally. Rather than sacrifice them today, if time would not be the element—

Mr. ANDREWS. Time is not the element.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would like to suggest, if it meets with your approval that we pass the bills over, you give us a personal brief on them, and we will again go to our caucus—it seems funny that we are fighting for you over here like this, but we would be perfectly willing to again take it up in our caucus and possibly there will be some votes after the discussion, because we did not understand the bills thoroughly in the caucus.

Mr. ANDREWS. Will you also have such technical amendments as you might desire to suggest other than the ripping out of the present board? The present civil service system has been going a long time and it has not given us as yet a properly classified list of technical and professional people, and has not managed to support them and recognize them. We are primarily interested in a setup which will guarantee tenure to competent technical professional employes.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Then I would suggest that it might be wise to put the bills over and if this side of the House agrees, and I think they probably will, I will appoint an off-the-record committee of maybe two or three Members, some of our legal brains and some of our lay brains on this side of the House to look the bill over and maybe suggest some amendments. Maybe we can put the bill through, or kill it really dead.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman and I will be very glad to cooperate along that line.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in view of a statement the gentleman from Cambria made in the interrogation by the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, and in view of the possibility that these bills are going to be put into a subcommittee to be given further study, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria on one point, if I may?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. The gentleman will proceed. If it is within the province of my information, I shall be glad to reply.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether these bills would in any manner touch any of those people who are under the jurisdiction of, or receive their money from or are paid from Federal funds? In other words, what I am getting at is this, will this touch any of the people who are under so-called civil service?

Mr. ANDREWS. It is my understanding that you cannot change the status of the employes who are paid in whole or in part from Federal funds and that those employes are not within the scope of this bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. This bill would not touch those particular employes?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is my understanding.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman very much, and I hope some day Pennsylvania may recoup its own jurisdiction over its own people.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would be glad to assist you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would suggest that the gentleman from Cambria move to place this bill on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1098, Printer's No. 1620

was passed over at the request of Mr. ANDREWS.

STUDENTS OF MYERSTOWN HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House seventy seniors from the Myerstown High School, who are here under the supervision of Harvey L. Nitrauer, Supervising Principal, Frederick W. Lantz, Guidance Director, and Dwight C. Fake, Social Studies Department. They are the guests of the gentlemen from Lebanon County, Messrs. Light and Ehrgood.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is pleased t note the presence in the House today of a former Membe of this House from Blair County, Mr. D. Raymond Sollen berger.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will now retur the gavel to the Speaker of the House.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAI

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman fro Berks for presiding.

The Chair was in error on one of the replies to the in quiries addressed to him. The Federal Government re quires some sort of an approved merit rating.The Federa Government could accept under this setup, if it were s disposed, the qualifications of the proposed personne board. It would be up to the Federal Government whethe it did or did not recognize the standards set by the pro posed personnel board.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. VARNER. I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. VARNER. I would like to ask the Majority Leade or someone on the other side, if we propose to adjour finally on Friday, April 13, 1956?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit him self to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

The SPEAKER. The Majority Leader has heard th gentleman's question and the Chair awaits with consider able interest the Majority Leader's reply.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I might say that this is n a lawyer's question.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentle man. No lawyer could conceive such a diabolical questio as that one.

I should, Mr. Speaker, inquire before answering th gentleman whether I am entitled to immunity or wheth any answer I give will be held against me or might ten to incriminate me?

Mr. VARNER. I will give the gentleman immunity. personally do not have an opponent, but some of the men are anxious to get out into the hustings and on th stump and they are anxious to know whether they ar going to be kept here after April 13th.

I might add, too, if I can put this in a statement, that recently as this afternoon I read about some very impo tant administration bills being introduced at this late dat and I know they are absolutely necessary. I have the fee ing they may hold us here until after April 13th and th is the reason I have asked this question.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would answer th gentleman's question by stating that right up to the pre ent moment we have been hpoing we could adjourn th session finally by April 14th. Those hopes are still existence and I cannot give the gentleman a definite, fir answer at this time.

As things are developing it will probably be possib by Friday of this week to make a definite determinati as to whether final adjournment can be achieved by th 14th.

I would like to assure the gentleman that if we cann complete this session's business by the 14th it is the present intention of the leadership on this side of the House not to call the Members back to a session next week, but to hold a token session and, in effect, go into recess until after April 24th.

I say we are still hoping we can clean up our business finally by the 14th, but that cannot be determined at the moment. We think by Friday of this week we will know.

Mr. VARNER. We will look forward to Friday with a great deal of interest as the day of deliverance.

Mr. READINGER. I might say, in addition to the answer given so far, that as soon as the determination is made telegrams or letters will be sent promptly to all Members of the House so that if it is not necessary for them to be here next week they will know that before the end of this week, or by Sunday at the latest.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I ask permission to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Without being facetious, Mr. Speaker, I would ask the Majority Leader if he can give us any information as to how long we will be here this week?

Mr. READINGER. As announced previously, we are going to have three working days and that includes tomorrow, Thursday, April 5th.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I would ask further, does the Majority Leader have any approximate idea as to what time tomorrow we might be through?

Mr. READINGER. My best guess would be 4:00 o'clock p. m.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Provided the gentlemen get in a little earlier tomorrow. We have been calling these sessions at 10:00 o'clock in the morning for the purpose of giving us ample time to dispose of a lot of work, but it seems as though the Members do not get here until about 10:30 o'clock. We would appreciate your prompt attendance tomorrow morning.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MOSCRIP asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for the information of the Majority Leader, I was in the House chamber this morning at 9:10 o'clock. On Monday I left my office at noon to drive down here so I would be sure I would be here at 10:00 o'clock Tuesday morning. At 11:45 o'clock I was advised we would go into caucus, and that was the extent of the business up until that moment.

Mr. READINGER. I hope the gentleman is elected Majority Floor Leader some day.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. At the request of the Majority and Minority Floor Leaders, if there is no objection, the Chair will now declare a recess for one hour. The Chair hears none. Will the Members return promptly at the end of the hour.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 35

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 35.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. READINGER from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 986, entitled:

Mr. READINGER from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1057, entitled:

An Act amending the "Flood Control Law" of August 7, 1936 * * *, authorizing the board to enter into contracts and agreements with Authorities created under any act of Assembly

Mr. READINGER from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Resolution No. 166.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Pursuant to the resolution adopted February 28, 1956, bills reported from Committee as committed were read the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 986, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 20 1953 (P. L. 550) entitled "An act provided for and regulating the annexation of parts of a second class township to boroughs cities and townships" fixing the time when annexation takes effect and further providing for the payment of costs

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 999, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 20 1949 (P. L. 1591) entitled "An act providing for the compensation of the mayor council and appointed officers in cities of the second class A" increasing the compensation of the mayor and appointed officers in cities of the second class A

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1057, entitled:

An Act amending the "Flood Control Law" of August 7 1936, authorizing the board to enter into contracts and agreements with Authorities created under any act of Assembly

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. MIHM asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Cities—Counties—Second and Second Class A to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. POLASKI asked and obtained permission for the Committee on State Government to meet during the session of the House.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,
Senate Bill No. 209, Printer's No. 610,
was passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 335, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1937 (P. L. 1987), entitled as amended "An act to preserve and improve the purity of the waters of the Commonwealth for the protection of public health, animal and aquatic life, and for industrial consumption, and recreation; empowering and directing the creation of indebtedness or the issuing of non-debt revenue bonds by political subdivisions to provide works to abate pollution; providing protection of water supply; providing for the jurisdiction of courts in the enforcement thereof; requiring the approval of the Attorney General for prosecutions thereunder; providing additional remedies for abating pollution of waters; imposing certain penalties; and repealing certain acts; authorizing the acquisition by purchases or condemnation, or otherwise, of easements and rights of ways; the acquisition or construction of pipes, conduits, drains or tunnels by the Sanitary Water Board; and providing for payment of the costs thereof by the Commonwealth; authorizing the Sanitary Water Board to establish standards of purity and to determine the time for compliance with certain provisions of the act in certain cases and making it unlawful to open, reopen or continue operation of any coal mine, or to change any approved drainage or disposal plan without prior approval by the Sanitary Water Board," authorizing certain corporations to acquire interests in land by eminent domain.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, it is not of particular concern to me, but I understood some of the Members on this side were going to vote against this bill. Whether there will be enough to upset it on a consent basis, I do not know.

The SPEAKER. It is the opinion of the Chair that unless the Floor Leaders have agreed no bills will be taken up while the Committees are absent from the floor.

There was plenty of time for Committees to have met prior to this time. I should object, if I were a Member, to business in which I was interested being conducted while I was absent in a committe meeting.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I then suggest that the House be at ease for a few minutes while these committees are out.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection
Senate Bill No. 335, Printer's No. 425
was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to inquire of the Majority Leader whether the amendments to be offered to House Bill 1948, page 11 of the calendar, are or are not controversial?

Mr. READINGER. I understand they are not, Mr. Speaker. They are now available.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1948, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1 1933 (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" authorizing the reconveyance or disposition of real property acquired for certain designated purpose

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 701), page 2, line 13, by inserting after "supervisors" with the prior approval of the court of quarter sessions

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?
It was agred to.
Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 209, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" providing for an annual registration fee for issuance of special registration plates to certain persons.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this bill, it provides for the payment of a five dollar additional fee for issuing a special registration plate to a person who might request one.

I do not like the bill. I think the Department can do as it is doing now, give a person a particular number if it happens to be available. I think that is the system that should be used.

I am opposed to the idea of somebody being able to get some plate earmarked for himself by sending in five dollars and completely excluding somebody else from getting that plate if he does not happen to be able to afford the additional five dollars. I thing it is wrong in principle. I see nothing wrong with giving John Smith a particular number, if that number is available to be given to him and he applies for it before somebody else does. But this bill smacks of personal privilege to too great an extent for me to swallow. I am going to vote against it.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a similar bill to one I was going to have drawn during the last session. I went over to the Department of Revenue, the Motor Vehicle Bureau, and was advised there that such a bill would create more havoc than could ever be gotten around. I was asked, please, not to put such a bill in, I complied with their wishes.

I do not think this is a good bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

YEAS—10

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 591, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1 1933 (P L 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" increasing the land area appurtenant to fire hydrants which may be taxed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Rules for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 600, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (2) of the second paragraph of section 493 as amended of the act approved the twelfth day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 90) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State Liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" by permitting sales on credit of liquor malt or brewed beverages by railroad or pullman companies in dining club or buffet cars to passengers for consumption while enroute holding authorized credit cards issued by railroad or railroad credit bureaus.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say something about this bill. As we understand it, it would permit on a railroad train liquor being paid for through a credit card or having a charge, which is the same privilege now enjoyed by hotels. I just want to inform the membership that that is what the real significance of the bill is. It is that the trains which, in effect, are doing a hotel service are asking for the same privilege which is now enjoyed by hotels.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HEWITT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, you have been in the House a good many terms, as I have myself, and I do not think you ever saw as jittery a bunch of Members as we have at the present time. There is a reason for it.

There are over 200 men here running for office and the campaign is on. The men who are running against them in their various districts are taking advantage of the fact that they are down here fifteen months today and they are saying, "Why don't you put a man down there that will close that place up and get out of there?"

It is unfair to the men who are campaigning. Every week there are fellows off campaigning, not always the same ones, but they are taking advantage of the men who are coming down here. We are getting the worst of it because the fellows are staying away when they should be here.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I make a motion that when this House finishes today's work it take a recess until 1:00 o'clock p. m., April 30, 1956.

The SPEAKER. The Chair cannot entertain that as a motion. It must be presented in the form of a resolution. The Chair would like to say so that Members of the House running for renomination may be under no misapprehension, are they not legislative marathon champions, having participated without doubt in the longest session in the history of this Commonwealth or any other Commonwealth? They should have nothing to fear.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I realize that my motion should have been put in the form of a joint resolution with the Senate to concur. But I have been wrong in this House since the 28th of March, 1955, and I have been wrong ever since. So I knew I would get in wrong.

The SPEAKER. The Chair takes the privilege of saying he sympathizes with the view expressed by the gentleman from Indiana. Perhaps events will work out a compromise somewhat resembling the thought he has in mind.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 790, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 723) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second class amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by authorizing collection of data concerning deceased veterans of armed conflicts and authorizing the erection of monuments to veterans of armed conflcts

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 794.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, to preside temporarily.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 929 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. READINGER offered a resolution which was read considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1956.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 929, Printer's No. 876, entitled "An act amending the act of July 20 1917 (P. L. 1158) entitled 'An act to fix regulate and establish the fees to be charged and recived by constables in this Commonwealth' increasing mileage," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1774, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 20 1915 (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" extending the time for claiming credit for service with a school district of the first class and increasing the time of service which may be claimed.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll vote on the third reading.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Welsh vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 11), page 3, line 12, by inserting brackets before and after "ten" and inserting immediately thereafter "twelve."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 217, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April fourteen one thousand eight hundred sixty-eight (P. L. 1083) entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act appropriating ground for public purposes in the city of Philadelphia approved the twenty-sixth day of March Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven" permitting sale of liquor in a restaurant in Fairmount Park.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. I feel as though there might be a little bit of controversy attached to this bill and for that reason I would like to explain it briefly.

It is an amendment to the Fairmount Park Act and it would permit the sale of intoxicating liquors in a restaurant in Fairmount Park.

Considering this out of context, it is a little difficult to understand just the reason behind the bill. The reason is this, in Fairmount Park today there is a first-class restaurant being operated. It is operated on a very high plane by the Fairmount Park Commission and immediately adjacent to the restaurant is the Theater In The Park, a theater that has legitimate shows and which in the past two years has been built up considerably.

It is the feeling of the Fairmount Park Commissioners, and more particularly the Vice President, Mr. John B. Kelly—whose daughter you may have read about in the papers recently—that it would be desirable for the people wanting to attend the show to have dinner prior thereto in the restaurant and perhaps have a cocktail.

This bill would enable that to be done, but I want to point out the express amendment says, it shall be subject to the present provisions of the Liquor Control Act, so that no new license would be granted by the Liquor Control Board. If this bill is passed the Fairmount Park Commission will advertise for bids and they will award the concession to the highest bidder, but the liquor license which would be used in the restaurant would have to be an existing license. This would not create a new license.

I submit that all of the irrelevancies that have been bandied about concerning this bill, the possibility of drunks congesting the park and drunken drivers traveling throughout the area of the park, are just simply not correct. This bill will not do that, nor is it intended to do that. The Fairmount Park Commission without any question consists of prominent members of the community who operate the Commission without regard to politics or partisanship.

I think because of the simplicity of the bill and the fact that it would only apply to one restaurant within Fairmount Park as I said this is a high class restaurant, it would not permit the sale of liquor, package sales, the liquor would have to be consumed at a table within the restaurant. It is intended primarily and solely to serve those people who are contemplating attending the theatre adjacent to the restaurant, and for no other people.

I therefore ask for you to vote in favor of the bill.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, does this bill have any further backing from the Fairmount Park Commission other than Mr. John B. Kelly?

Mr. McCORMACK. I do not know whether it would be fair to say that it has the backing, but I have never heard to the contrary. Inasmuch as Mr. Kelly, who is a Vice President, was apparently acting in his official capacity, I assumed the Commission was in accord with his thinking. I do not know anything to the contrary.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, I believe there are some fourteen members of that Board, a large number of whom I might say are Republicans, and I have not heard that they are in favor of this bill.

May I further interrogate the gentleman and ask, is it not true that under the liquor regulations today, the package regulations, persons could go into this restaurant and buy twelve bottles of beer and take them from the premises and drink them elsewhere?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, under the Liquor Control Code I believe the gentleman is correct. But I pointed out, Mr. Speaker, that the intent of this bill is specifically to permit the sale of a cocktail prior to people going to the theater adjacent thereto. Under the Liquor Control Code certainly people could walk into the restaurant and make a purchase of a few quarts of beer. That is absolutely correct.

Mr. POMEROY. May I further interrogate the gentleman and ask him if this would not open the entire Fairmount Park to other specific restaurants which might be favored by, say, powerful personages on the Fairmount Park Commission by introducing such a bill as Mr. Kelly, for whom I have great respect?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the intent of this bill is for the specific purpose of having liquor sold at the Belmont Mansion Restaurant. The original amendment I introduced mentioned the Belmont Mansion Restaurant, but because of constitutional objections to the naming of a specific restaurant it was deemed advisable by the Attorney General for the Liquor Control Board and other constitutional lawyers that it be stricken. So on their advice I struck it out and just made it a restaurant within the park, but it is the intention—

Mr. POMEROY. May I further ask one final question? Would this bill not open Fairmount Park to the entire quota system?

Mr. McCORMACK. No, definitely it would not, Mr. Speaker. The reason I say that is the language of this proposed amendment which, if you will indulge me, I will read:

> "That intoxicating liquors may be sold for consumption on the premises only in a restaurant located in the park when a license therefor is issued by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board such license shall be subject to the quota provisions of the Pennsylvania Liquor Code."

I added that as a safeguard, also because there was some question that it might open the quota provisions and it was not the intention that the quota provision be opened. I merely added that language as a safeguard.

Mr. POMEROY. If such property, Mr. Speaker, was sold, as has been true in the past, to private individuals, this would open it to the quota system, is that correct?

Mr. McCORMACK. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, I did not get that question. Would the gentleman mind repeating it?

Mr. POMEROY. Recently, in the last few years, we have had property that the Fairmount Park Commission sold to private individuals. If such should occur again, would that open it to the quota system? I am referring to the sale of land to Mr. Greenfield in Fairmount Park.

Mr. McCORMACK. I am sorry, I am not at all familiar with that, Mr. Speaker, but I do not understand how this bill would affect anything like that.

Mr. POMEROY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. McCORMACK. Just a moment, Mr. Speaker, may I . . .

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Pomeroy, yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. POMEROY. I shall sir.

Mr. McCORMACK. It was just brought to my attention, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman was perhaps referring to the sale of Woodside Park, is that correct?

Mr. POMEROY. No, sir, I was not.

Mr. McCORMACK. That is all.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia has admitted, if this bill were passed, under the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Act it would entitle people to go into this restaurant and purchase beer and take it outside for consumption elsewhere.

Secondly, it is also stated that whereas this bill is specifically directed at one particular restaurant to serve liquor, it could be extended to other restaurants if it was so desired at that time.

I would like to assure this House, and particularly the Members on the Republican side, that all of my constituents to whom I have spoken throughout Philadelphia, and particularly in areas bordering on Fairmount Park, are strongly opposed to this bill.

Therefore, I ask both sides of this House to vote down this bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like, if I may at this time, to correct one answer I made to the gentleman from Philadelphia with respect to people going into the restaurant if a license were granted, and purchasing bottles of beer and taking them off the premises. The amendment specifically says it is only for consumption on the premises.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with interest to the debate on this bill and I am impressed with the fact that if we vote for it we are voting for a special piece of legislation for a particular restaurant in a particular spot. I doubt very much whether we could escape the onus and the burden of the fact that it is that type of legislation.

I do not believe as a matter of principle alone that we should lend ourselves to voting for legislation designed for a particular restaurant in a particular place in the Commonwealth.

Mr. LOVETT. I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McMormack, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. McCormack, how big is Fairmount Park?

Mr. McCORMACK. Fairmount Park is several thousand acres. That is the closest I can estimate now.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman have any idea what the population at any given time is in Fairmount Park?

Mr. McCORMACK. The population?

Mr. LOVETT. That is right.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, it is a park and there is no population to—

Mr. LOVETT. May I ask, does the gentleman have an idea of the number of people that would be in Fairmount Park at any given time?

Mr. McCORMACK. You mean people that use the park for purposes other than eating and attending the theater?

Mr. LOVETT. Correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Fairmount Park is a great park, it is one of the largest public parks in the country, and I would say that literally hundreds of thousands of people in the course of a year use its facilities.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I was only asking at a given time, some day, or some holiday, the population or the number of people that would be congregated in Fairmount Park?

Mr. McCORMACK. Offhand, other than a national holiday, I would say there were several hundred, at least.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman who will operate this restaurant?

Mr. McCORMACK. As I pointed out, Mr. Speaker, if this bill is passed, it is the intention of the Fairmount Park Commission to advertise and award the concession to the highest competitive bidder. There will be a stipulation in the advertisement that there must be Union help employed.

Mr. LOVETT. I am very much for that.

I would further ask the gentleman if he thinks this particular restaurant would have a monopoly?

Mr. McCORMACK. Of necessity, Mr. Speaker, there would be a monopoly because this bill only provides for a license in one restaurant. Of course, when you consider that it will be awarded to the highest competitive bidder, then of course, the adverse effects of the monopoly would not come into play. I think if it were just an arbitrary award on a political basis, or a friendship basis, then it would be quite a legitimate objection. But since the Fairmount Park Commission through Mr. Kelly has told me they would advertise and award to the highest competitive bidder, I think that is certain.

Mr. LOVETT. Are people allowed to take beer and whiskey into Fairmount Park?

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, sir, they are, and they do.

I am also informed that at the present time when people go to this particular restaurant it is not unusual for them to bring their own refreshments with them, although I do not have firsthand knowledge of that. I have been so informed.

Mr. LOVETT. There would be no question in your mind that the Park Commission at a later date might forbid the bringing into Fairmount Park of liquor or beer?

Mr. McCORMACK. If this bill were passed?

Mr. LOVETT. If this bill were passed?

Mr. McCORMACK. No, this would only apply to that one situation. I think any fears to the contrary are groundless. It just cannot happen under this bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the question I asked is: the Commissioners, or whoever is in charge of Fairmount Park, could at any time rule that you could not bring beer or liquor on your person into Fairmount Park other than that which you bought within this restaurant, is that correct?

Mr. McCORMACK. I am terribly sorry, Mr. Speaker, I did not hear the first part of the gentleman's question.

Mr. LOVETT. The first part of the question was, at the present time if the Commissioners, or whoever is in charge of Fairmount Park, wanted to make a ruling that you could not bring beer or liquor on your person into Fairmount Park for consumption therein, they could so do? Would that be possible at this present day, or would it be possible if this restaurant were established?

Mr. McCORMACK. This is only an off-the-cuff opinion, Mr. Speaker, but it seems to me they could well have a regulation, if they do not have it at the present time, that would prohibit the bringing of any intoxicating liquors into Fairmount Park. Is that what you mean?

Mr. LOVETT. That is what I mean.

Mr. McCORMACK. I would not be surprised if they have such a regulation now. I do not know, but they could do that, I would say.

Mr. LOVETT. Then this definitely would be a monopoly for this one particular restaurant in Fairmount Park?

Mr. McCORMACK. There is no question about it, the bill itself only requires that one restaurant be allowed to sell liquor or use liquor. Now, that itself is a monopoly.

Mr. LOVETT. But it would be a greater monopoly if the Commission ruled that you could no longer bring beer or liquor into Fairmount Park?

Mr. McCORMACK. That is so, but you just cannot appreciate the picture, Mr. Speaker, unless you are acquainted with the physical surroundings. This is not a—and I say this without any fear of contradiction—scheme or a device to enrich anybody. It is for the perfectly legitimate purpose of allowing people who come to have a meal in the restaurant to have a drink before going to the theater. That is the only purpose.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform this House of what I think is one of Mr. McCormack's main points, the idea of giving a cocktail at the tent summer theater in Fairmount Park.

I have been a neighbor of Fairmount Park for fifty-six years. I have walked every inch of it. I am amazed at Mr. Kelly's attitude in this case because this is one of his pet projects in the park.

To my mind, they do not need liquor in this tent theater in any way, shape or form because the theater was appropriated $60,000 by the city to start it off. Every year—I think it is in its third or fourth year now—it has played for eleven weeks to capacity audiences, six nights a week and Wednesday and Saturday matinees. It has brought in a profit of around $11,000 each year.

I am amazed at Mr. Kelly trying to bring liquor into the picture. I do not see where it is necessary in any way, shape or form in connection with this tent theater.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. McCormack for one minute, please.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, I believe I heard the gentleman say this would allow only one licensee in Fairmount Park, is that correct?

Mr. McCORMACK. That is correct.

Mr. BAZIN. Where in the bill does it say only one? It says, "only in a restaurant," and I am sure after the Playhouse In The Park picks up a license there is no reason why the Robin Hood Dell should not get a license, because they cater to the same type of people and they are among the finest in Philadelphia, there is no doubt about it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Are you interrogating me or making a speech?

Mr. BAZIN. I would like to know whether or not it would keep this down to one restaurant?

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, my interpretation of the language of this bill is that it may be sold for consumption "in a restaurant located in the park." You cannot get the language any finer than that. The only thing you can do is to indicate on the floor of the House in debate, and I as a sponsor of the bill am intending to do so, that it is the intent and the sense of this House, if the bill is passed, that it is to apply to only one restaurant in that park.

If the act is passed and a license granted, the privilege should be given to no other restaurant. That is the finest that we can get the language down, in my opinion.

Mr. BAZIN. I thank gentleman. I would like to make one statement about the location and the surrounding area of this particular restaurant.

It is known as Belmont Plateau and it is adjacent to a district which I represent. There are a great many picnics held out there every day in the week during the summer. It caters to a great many young children.

Also, another problem may arise here that has to do with our Boy Scout activities. The Belmont Plateau is used throughout the warmer weather for overnight camping by the Boy Scouts in the Philadelphia area. What may happen with a gentleman who has a few under his belt, more than he can handle, is just something you will have to leave to your imagination.

I, therefore, oppose this bill.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Mr. McCORMACK, Mrs. PASHLEY and Mr. FLOYD.

The affirmative roll was verified.

Mr. McCORMACK withdrew his request for a verification.

By. Messrs. TOLL, BAZIN, HOLT, SARAH A. ANDERSON and FINEMAN. HOUSE BILL No. 2104.

An Act amending the act of May 7, 1937 (P. L. 589) entitled, as amended, "An act providing for the taking over by the Commonwealth, under certain terms, conditions and limitations, of certain streets in cities of the first class as State highways, and for the improvement, construction, reconstruction, resurfacing, and maintenance by the Commonwealth of said streets; providing for the taking, opening, relocation, widening or change of grade of such State highways by the Comomnwealth at the expense of the Commonwealth and any such city, or either of them, and authorizing agreements between cities and the Commonwealth for the opening, taking, relocating, widening or change of grade of said streets, and designating the city as agent of the Commonwealth in such opening, taking, relocating, widening or change of grade and the determination of damages to private property arising therefrom; imposing duties on such cities and on public utility companies using such streets; authorizing cities, persons, associations or corporations to enter into agreements with the Commonwealth to bear a portion of the cost of construction; regulating the replacement of certain facilities of public utility companies; prohibiting the making of any opening in said street after improvement without a permit, and providing penalty therefor; regulating the maintenance of detours; authorizing the increase of city indebtedness in certain cases; and appropriating money in the Motor License Fund for the purposes of this act," changing certain routes and adding a new route.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILLS ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, since the House is in the mood to kill bills, I call up on page 17 of today's calendar House Bill No. 889.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 889, entitled:

An Act providing for an additional law judge of the court of common pleas in the thirty-eighth judicial district

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, despite my facetious remark of a minute ago, I did not call this bill up for the purpose of seeing it die. I think it should be passed.

Sometime ago the Democratic Members of the House caucused on this bill, at the same time on the York County judge bill and the Philadelphia County judge bill. It was agreed generally in our caucus that we would give support on this side to the passage of this bill, with the firm belief that Montgomery County needed an additional judge.

I do not think there have been any changes in the facts since we had that caucus. I am asking the membership on this side of the House to vote for this additional judge in Montgomery County, even though the matter of whether Philadelphia is going to get any additional judges has not been decided.

I do not think the two have any relation to each other. We either believe that Montgomery County through its increase in ppoulation and amount of business is entitled to another judge and needs one, or we do not.

I have heard from the three judges in that County. I have been informed by them that they are badly in need of an additional common pleas judge.

I ask the membership of the House to support this bill.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the Majority Leader for being so statesmanlike in this matter. I realize that latent in this situation there is perhaps some partisan politics, which should not enter into it.

This bill was introduced solely at the request of our Bar Association. Our judges represent on a per capita basis about 80,000 people each. We really need an additional judge.

I would like the Members on this side of the aisle to support this bill, also.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, this bill having come out of the Judiciary Committee, I think as Chairman of that Committee I should inform the Members of the House that a great deal of information was forwarded to the Committee, with correspondence from all the judges of the present court, together with resolutions of the Bar Association, asking for this additional Judge.

After having reviewed those requests, the Committee felt that they were juestified.

We would also ask that you vote for the bill.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS

Mr. READINGER, asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 1217, Printer's No. 1469, on page 17 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Mr. READINGER, asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 1240, Printer's No. 1419, on page 17 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1939, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3 1937 (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" authorizing use of money from resident hunter's fees for controlled burning of marginal and submarginal game land

On the question, recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill, preferably Mr. Breth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Clearfield what is the purpose of this bill?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill is to authorize the Pennsylvania Game Commission specifically, if it cares to, to use the game management tool of controlled burning in their game management problems to bring back more game to game lands in Pennsylvania.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further ask the gentleman. Can you control burning?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, controlled burning has been practiced by the human race way back to Neolithic man.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if that is possible, if you can control it?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I will answer the gentleman from Tioga in this way. I think it will interest the Members of the House to know that the transition of man from a hunting creature to an agrarian creature was made by the use of controlled burning. This has been proved definitely.

There was an article in last month's "Scientific American" which showed that two research men followed the same procedure as Neolithic man did in using flint axes to cut down trees, green trees, pile them in windrows, burn them slowly, control the burning, rake the hot ash between the thirty-foot wide windrows, plant their to five and six feet high, produced the first agrarian crops wild seeds, particularly a wild barley which would grow by man and enabled man to become sedentary and progress in his path towards civilization.

Finally, after two or three years early man found that the burnt area would no longer produce the big crops of barley needed to sustain him in wintertime, but they did produce remarkable growths of wildlife food which attracted game back to those areas and helped him by benefit in his desire to become a sedentary creature and to proceed further along the path of civilization.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if there is any difference in population in 1956 over what it was back in the Dark Ages of the Neolithic man?

Mr. BRETH. The gentleman must be aware of the fact that that question has only one answer, and the answer is "yes."

Let me add, Mr. Speaker, that today man's desires are still basically the same. There are a great many of us who are still hunters, as we were in the Neolithic period, and we still like abundance of game to hunt. We can still take a leaf from an ancient book to add to our available game supply for the present day, 1956.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he has checked up with the heads of our departments to find out if the head of the Game Commission, since he is talking about game, is in favor of this bill?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I talked to various people concerning this bill, not only the officials of the Game Commission. I talked to the most outstanding and experienced game men of the United States, men who have had unlimited experience in all forms of game management, including the one under discussion at the present time, controlled burning. The opinion of these outstanding gentlemen, well-versed and experienced in game management is that controlled burning is a very efficient tool in game management.

Mr. McINROY. Would the gentleman please name some of these great men that he is talking about, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I have here a book that I was perusing called "Our Wildlife Legacy" by Durward L. Allen, who at the present time is the Chief of the Wild Life Management Division of Purdue University, who before that was one of the outstanding experts in game management with the U. S. Fish and Wild Life Service in Washington, D. C., who before that was connected with the Wild Life Management Division of the State of Michigan, and who has a very long record in wildlife management over a period of what I would estimate to be twenty-five years. That gentleman in his book on page 68, says—and if the gentleman will bear with me I will quote what he says.

I will proceed. Mr. Allen says in his book, which by the way, has received international acclaim and also national acclaim as being the most basic and fundamental treatise ever written on the entire problem of game management in the United States and the various states which comprise it.

Mr. McINROY. If the gentleman will just excuse me a minute, if it is all right with the gentleman on the other side, would he reserve that for his debate, if it is going to be a long answer. I will just ask a couple more questions and then move on the with the debate.

My question is, has the head of the Pennsylvania Game Commission OK'd this bill?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I doubt if the head, as you call him—I suppose you are talking about Dr. Bennett?

Mr. McINROY. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. Dr. Logan J. Bennett?

Mr. McINROY. That is right.

Mr. BRETH. Dr. Logan J. Bennett in my conversations with him stated that under the present law the Game Commission could possibly proceed with controlled burning and this bill was not necessary as far as their basic right to proceed along this line is concerned.

Mr. McInROY. Have you checked with the head of Forests and Waters, Dr. Goddard, whether he is in favor of this bill?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say at this time that this bill concerns only marginal and submarginal game lands purchased with a certain amount from the hunting license fees of the Pennsylvania hunters since 1926. It has absolutely nothing to do with state forest lands. Dr. Goddard, the Secretary of Forests and Waters, is charged with managing state forests for forestry and forest products. His opinion, as far as I personally am concerned, regarding forestry and forestry management practices is very valuable. When it comes to game management and game management practices, his opinions are not, may I say with due regard to his professional status, incident to the purpose of the bill.

Mr. McINROY. It is true, however, Mr. Speaker, is it not, that forest lands do adjoin these game lands?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I would have to consult a map to find out where.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman checked with the Department of Agriculture?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question I might say I am only one small county legislator. I am interested in cetrain things regarding legislation, certain things which will benefit the people in my district and certain segments of the state's population. If I should take the time in introducing every bill to consult and ask the opinions of every department involved, and every Member of this House were to do the same, the record of completed legislation in this House would not only be small, but I think we would turn into a completely regulated bureaucracy instead of a democracy.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, some Members of this Assembly might think this was a bill of no importance or of little importance. When I first noticed it on the calendar it struck my attention right away as being a bad bill. I was a teacher of biology for several years, and we talked many times about the theory of burning over land. All of the authorities I have ever been able to find on it have been against it.

I checked with these departments about which you heard me ask questions of one of the sponsors of the bill, and I found them all opposed to it. I will be glad to read some of their answers.

I went further, I checked with the Conservation Department, not only our state Conservation Department but our national Conservation Department, because when you burn marginal lands around forests you are burning fields and, of course, it concerns conservation also.

I would like to read to you what Dr. Logan J. Bennett, who is the head of our Game Commission, said about House Bill 1939.

> "House Bill 1939 proposes to authorize the Commission to conduct controlled burning of marginal and submarginal game lands. We are under the impression that presently Section 1401, paragraph (z), authorizes the Commission to conduct such controlled burning for management purposes although it is not specifically mentioned."

They already have the authority, in other words. It is a useless bill, according to the way he understands it.

I also have the opinion of Dr. Goodard and I have the opinion of the head of the Sportsmen's Federation of Pennsylvania. I will read you next what Mr. Ray Armstrong, head of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs said in regard to this bill:

> Any method of burning, be it controlled or otherwise, to create food and cover for game in Pennsylvania, is a definite mistake.
> Forestry experts tell us that burning takes much more from the soil than it adds to it.
> Cutting or bulldozing may be a little more costly, but it is much safer and less destructive to our land.
> I am confident that the Game Commission has the power at the present time to experiment along this line. Why publicize or popularize something that can do great harm?

Mr. Speaker, here is the statment by the Secretary of Forests and Waters. The reason I am quoting the Secretary of Forests and Waters is because he is an expert along this line. I do not think we have a man any more skilled in the line, possibly in the United States, than Secretary Goddard. I know everyone in this Assembly who has come in contact with Secretary Goddard has a high regard not only as to his ability but as to his actions. Here is what he says about House Bill 1939:

> "House Bill 1939 would authorize the Commission to do or cause to be done carefully controlled burning of marginal and submarginal game lands. Mr. Bennett reports that he believes present law would permit the Game Commission to conduct controlled burning for management purposes. I sincerely believe if such controlled burning is to be done it must be done by the Commission and not by anyone else, therefore, the bill is not needed. The Department is opopsed to the authorization of controlled burning because we feel that the public would misinterpret this policy and would believe we condone forest fires."

Then he goes on to tell about some of the cutting which they are doing and which was in a companion bill which was passed some time ago and I did not debate it because it slipped over before I knew what we were doing. I am not going to read that part of it.

I talked with Dr. Goddard again recently and he is still very much opposed to it. He thinks it will do more harm than good.

I would like to call the attention of the Members to Route 84. If you have ever driven from Wellsboro down to Jersey Shore, there is a perfect illustration of this very thing. On one side of the road there is a piece of land which was burned over, on the other side there is control cutting. Where the burning was there is death and destruction, on the other side you see green grass growing and you see ferns and other vegetation. It has been several years since this tract was burned over.

I went to the Department of Forests and Waters and talked to some of their foresters and this is what they told me:

> "There are only two places in the United States where controlled burning is of any value whatsoever and that is in Florida and certain parts of California."

Down in Florida in the swamps where the vegetation falls down and rots very slowly there is created an acid condition in the soil and it is all right in certain parts there to burn it, but we have no conditions like that in Pennsylvania.

There are certain tracts in California that are similar to Florida, but not in Pennsylvania. When you burn fields you kill rabbits, you also kill turkey eggs in the nests and you kill grouse. When you burn a field—every farmer should know this, but mistakenly I think they do it sometimes, the net result is less than you started with. Fields should never be burned over because you burn the humus in the soil. It takes years and years to make that humus, which is decayed vegetable matter.

In any bill before use either in this House or any other House the question always is: what is the net result? Is it going to be good or is it going to be bad? The net result here is going to be bad.

Further more, I asked the sponsor of the bill if it could be controlled? I would like to say that it cannot be controlled.

The Chief Forester over in the Department of Forests and Waters told me of cases where they tried to burn over rights-of-way, and by the way the only place in Pennsylvania where they recommend it is along rights-of-way of railroads. By the way, the railroads are not doing it any more, they are now spraying the weeds instead of burning them because of the danger.

This forester told me how they tried to burn certain tracts of land, for instance, near the town of Galeton. They picked out a day they thought was a favorable day, a day in which the ground was half covered with snow, the grass was wet and the ground was wet. They doubled the crew of men and still they had to fight for the town. The wind changed and drove the fire into the town, and they had to let the rest of the fire go over the hill and destroy several hundred acres of valuable land.

That is what would happen if you tried to do it. You just cannot control it, and farmers watching the Game Commission try it would do the same thing.

I have quotes here from other departments, but I am not going to read all of these. Some of them go over the same thing. I have, for instance, two pages written by the Department of Conservation, which absolutely is 100 per cent opposed to any burning of fields whether they be marginal, submarginal, or any other kind of marginal. The net result is going to be less than you started with. We should not even burn cornstalks, or weeds, or anything else.

Considering the bill as a whole, I think it should be turned down. They already have permission to do it and they do not want to do it, that is why they are not doing it. They know better than to burn it.

Therefore, I ask the Members on both sides of the House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I do not know where the gentleman got all his information. As I mentioned a little while ago, controlled burning has been used since man turned from hunting to farming for both game and farm management.

The first thing I want to point out about this bill is that it is a "may" bill. It does not compel the Game Commission to do any burning at all. It may suggest something that they might do.

So far as the importance of putting the two words "controlled burning" into the Game Law, I would like to say this. Just in the last session of the Legislature the Pennsylvania Fish Commission came to this House and asked for a specific bill to authorize them to poison lakes for proper fish management purposes. It was pointed out to them that they had the right under the present law, and they said, as a matter of public relations in the event that extreme opposition, or a vehement misguided opposition, objected to a poisoned lake management program they could point to the law and say they had specific authorization in the law to at least experiment with it.

By putting these two words "controlled burning" in the Game Code, it merely does the same thing for game management that poisoning lakes did for fish management.

The many gentlemen in this House who fish know that today across the nation poisoning of fishing waters has become the greatest and most productive tool in improved and better fishing.

As far as rights-of-ways are concerned, I am not going to discuss many of these things. I do want to say though, for the gentleman's information, as far as the prevelance of burning as a game management tool is concerned, it is not confined to Florida and California.

Here is what Dr. Durward L. Allen says about this particular tool, controlled burning, and he does say "controlled burning." I want to quote, he says:

> "Fire in the wrong place has long been recognized as one of the greatest enemies of mankind. The destructiveness of a crown fire in the pines has been demonstrated repeatedly in many sections of the country. Yet it has been observable in some areas that hardwoods sprouted vigorously following a burn (the conifers do not, but must be seeded in again), and game populations built up to greater densities.

Members of the House, many of you are hunters. You remember the time of taking off the timber from our great game sections of Pennsylvania. Do you remember the great uncontrolled fires which swept the central mountain counties? You also remember that from 1915 to 1935 was the golden age for game in Pennsylvania. Those were the years when Pennsylvania's game supply built up to annual crops of five and six million rabbits a year, 500,000 ringneck pheasants, the deer herds zoomed by the thousands, and various other animals, ruffed grouse, quail and snowshoe rabbits were in abundance.

I want to point out one simple thing to the members of this House and to the public. In the last ten years since 1945 the annual bag of game has dropped in Pennsylvania from 66 2/3 per cent in some species up to almost 100 per cent in others.

Back in 1945 we were still taking 100,000 quail a year; last year if the bag of quail was two or three thousand, it was too large. Ten or twelve years ago we were still taking 200,000 ruffed grouse a year; last year if the hunters bagged 25,000 they did well. This means that the take of ruffed grouse alone is off 90 per cent. In rabbits, the backbone of all hunting, the timber rabbits have practically disappeared because there is no cover. The cottontail rabbit along the edges has almost disappeared. As appears from the figures of the game kill, our rabbit kill is now down to very little over a million rabbits a year.

At the same time our hunting pressure has increased. We have around 850,000 hunters buying licenses in Pennsylvania. Those hunters are spending $100 to $200 million a year, which is a great factor in the business economy of many of our small lightly populated counties which formerly were great areas for all kinds of game.

In Maine, for instance, the farmers of Maine maintain a tremendous huckleberry crop every year by simple rotation burning. They have three fields, and those fields are large in acres, in extent. They burn one field, clip another and harvest another. They do that on a rotation basis in Maine.

According to Allen:

> "In southern states of this country burning has been the means, since primitive times, of establishing pine woodlands on the land. . . . A slow ground fire, properly controlled, exposed spots of bare soil to seeding and did negligible damage to older trees."

In Alabama, in Mississippi, in Georgia, controlled burning has brought back the quail and the population of quail in the southern states is back where it used to be years ago.

Allen says:

> "With help by the Conservation Department, certain northern Michigan hunting clubs were improving deer ranges by burning in the late thirties. In 1940 with the problem of controlling successions for grouse and deer before him, Ben C. Jenkins began a three-year study of the history and plant cover of the state's northern burns. He reached several significant conclusions: To maintain desirable openings, such areas should be burned over every five to ten years, either in late fall or early spring when the possibilities for these great sweeping ground fires would be negligible—light burns in woody cover increased not only sprout growth but (probably through the quick availability of plant-ash fertilizer and reduction of acidity) legumes and the fruit crops of shrubs which improved the game population."

Mr. Speaker, every year in the state of Pennsylvania we have hundreds of small ground fires. Those ground fires are mainly either on private lands or forest lands. Despite the fact that the Department of Forests and Waters is opposed to any kind of burning, those burned areas, as the hunters in this House know who hunt them, have been a major factor in maintaining even the dwindling supplies of game which we have now.

I might say one of the purposes of this bill is partly to do a public relations job. I believe that the discussion which has gone on this afternoon when brought to the attention of the public, as it probably will be in various ways, will have saultatary effects on our future game problems.

As a hunter I have carried a gun in the woods since I was twelve years old. I have hunted in the days when it was impossible to carry home the game that it was possible to kill. I have also hunted in recent years in Pennsylvania and I have found that the opposite is the rule rather than the former. I have found, and the small game hunters, the rabbit hunters, the grouse hunters, have found, that many times they go into the fields fruitlessly.

None of us in these modern days are game-hogs, but all of us do want a modicum of sport, which means at least a small amount of game available when we go into the fields.

The hunters' bill in Pennsylvania amounts to millions, and the only way to maintain it is through proper game management programs. By writing into the game code these few little words which state that the Game Commission may use controlled burning on marginal and submarginal game lands as a game management tool, in the future I believe may bring about an appreciable effort to at least experiment, which at the present time the Pennsylvania Game Commission is not doing.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I am going to speak very briefly.

The question before us in this bill is a calculated risk. Mr. Breth said a few minutes ago he has been hunting since he was twelve years old. I have been hunting longer than he, because I am a few years older than he is. I have had the opportunity to observe controlled burning, small fires from railroads, and so forth, and I know from experience that it does produce game food and game cover.

On the other hand, I had the opportunity twenty or twenty-five years ago to observe one of the most disastrous fires in northwestern Pennsylvania which occurred in Elk County and was the result of controlled burning.

I could not let this opportunity go by without pointing out that the thing we are voting on here is a controlled risk and I think that is where we should make up our minds.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request that we return to page 8, bills on final passage, House Bill No. 2101.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2101, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the sixth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifty-six (P. L.) (Act No. 381) entitled "An act to provide revenue for Commonwealth purposes by imposing a tax on the purchase use storage or other consumption of certain tangible personal property and utility services herein defined as tangible personal property * * *" by redefining certain words terms and procedural provisions in the act

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2101 is the bill which amends in part the sales and use tax which is now in effect in Pennsylvania.

The amendments contained in this bill are substantially the corrective amendments which appear to be necessary to put the law in better working order than it is at the present time. It spells out, for example, in more detail the use of the stamp plan after July 1st of this year, makes certain clerical corrections, adds a few items and takes out a few items, all of which I know have been discussed in the respective caucuses, but does not include two of the major amendments which are contemplated to be placed in this law, and those relate to the redefinition of the words "manufacture" and "use."

The plan is to pass this bill over to the Senate and have the Senate insert two additional amendments which would redefine those two words, which amendments are expected to place the law in the shape intended when it first passed the Senate and came to us.

As stated at the time the sales tax law passed the House on March 6th, I agreed at that time to make every effort to furnish enough Democratic votes to insert correctional amendments, and I intend to do just that. I do not think the passage of this bill with Democratic votes should be interpreted as an endorsement of the stamp plan or of many of the other phases of the sales tax law. But to keep our commitment with you, whose bill this was and whose amendments these are, I have endeavored, and I think I have succeeded in supplying about 30 or 35 votes, which I trust will be enough to pass this bill. But I definitely, on behalf of the majority party, want to reemphasize the fact that our giving you votes on this bill does not make it our bill. We do not like it any more now, with or without these amendments, than we did before, but we will still give you enough votes to pass it.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I do want to say I am in complete agreement as far as the commitments being kept by the Majority Leader and the Speaker of this House are concerned.

We have again sat down with the leaders of both parties in the Senate and have worked this thing out completely, we are in agreement.

The Majority Leader has been a big help in assisting us to pass a very excellent bill. Regardless of what he wants to say, his commitments have been kept 100 per cent, and so have the Speaker's. It has been a compromise agreement that has been worked out very equitably, I think, for the betterment of the state.

We would ask as much support for the amendments as possible.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, who are you trying to kid?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I am the most serious man in the world about this. I would not kid anybody, because your Majority Leader has worked with us, he has kept his word, the Speaker has kept his word, so I am telling the truth.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman realize that the Chambers of Commerce throughout the state of Pennsylvania are now condemning the stamp tax?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I have no connection whatsoever with the Chamber of Commerce nor have they contacted me for or against this bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Due to the fact that it is very expensive, they say. So I would just like to know, who you are kidding, Mr. Smith?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. That must have been a good saying, Mr. Speaker. A lot of people like it.

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker, under this clause (j) the Majority Leader stated the amendment on use tax would be put in in the Senate. I was wondering if he could inform me if the use tax would include contract carriers the same as the other type of carriers for exemption?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would refer the gentleman to the Minority Leader, he is the expert on the new amendments. I am sure he would know a lot more about them at the moment than I do.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith?

Mr. READINGER. I do, with great joy.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker, but I do not like the term of "expert," because I have but a rough knowledge of what the gentleman is going to ask me.

In answer to the gentleman, I would say that contract carriers are taxable.

Mr. PRICE. And the common carrier is exempt?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Your common carrier, I believe, would be exempt.

If the gentleman will just give me a chance to confer here—I think I am right in stating that the common carrier is exempt because of coming under PUC.

Mr. PRICE. The contract carrier also comes under PUC.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. If the gentleman will hold up just a moment, I can clarify why the contract carrier is not exempt. Just a minute.

In answer to the gentleman on the contract carrier, getting into interstate commerce, he would be exempt. Your common carrier who does most of his business in Pennsylvania would—wait a minute—you contract carrier on interstate business would be exempt. Your common carrier is a public utility and therefore would be exempt.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman be happier if I would refuse to yield any further?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Yes, I would be a lot happier. If the gentleman would have told me he was going to ask me a technical question, I would have been only too glad to get information, but this part of the bill is rather technical. I can tell you definitely, rather than getting into the whys and wherefores, that the contract carrier is taxable.

Mr. PRICE. That answers my question and the information I wanted, except one part, the fact that it has been anticipated that the conract carrier will be treated the same as the common carrier on the amendments to be inserted in the Senate. Do you know that to be the fact?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would say "no." Do not hold me to that, but my impression would be that they will not be treated the same.

Mr. READINGER. Will the gentlemen quit whispering, I cannot hear on this side of the House.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. The microphone went dead.

Mr. Speaker, I would say, no, on the present basis they will not be treated the same. I think the Majority Leader had a lot to do in drawing up that amendment, maybe I should yield to him at this time.

The Majority Leader would be able to answer that because he worked on that part of it, I think, and it is a legal question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the Minority Leader now yield to the Majority Leader?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I will gladly yield to the Majority Leader at this time.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that the interrogator wait until the bill comes back from the Senate with amendments in it, at which time we will give him plenty of opportunity to read the bill. We will read it as amended, and we will be glad to advise him at that time whether the contract carriers are in or out.

Before we vote I would just like to deny one statement which was made by the Minority Leader in which he flattered me by saying I was a great help in getting those amendments through. I deny that.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement for some of the Members who are interested in common and contract carriers.

I just have it unofficially that there is going to be a meeting tomorrow of the Attorney General, the Sales Tax Division and some of the trucking groups who represent both the common and contract carriers to see if this bill cannot be ironed out in the regulations, because that is the way it should be done, by regulations.

I assume the arguments of the gentleman from Mifflin are correct, and I do not believe either the Attorney General or the State Sales Tax Division would try to discriminate unfairly against either group of carriers.

I would say after the meeting tomorrow if the regulations are not ironed out possibly something can be done in the Senate, but I do believe in all fairness it will be taken care of tomorrow.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the advice given to the Members last week by a letter from the Chief Clerk's office was that we would have three full working days this week. Those three days included tomorrow, Thursday, April 6th.

We are going to meet at 10:00 o'clock tomorrow morning and we hope to work no longer than about 4:00 o'clock, so that any Members who desire to check out of hotels tomorrow morning may do so.

We have a great many important bills left on the calendar and much work remaining to be done. I would like the Members to come as promptly in the morning as they can, as close to 10:00 o'clock as possible and remain until we have finished the business for the day.

We realize that there are many dinners, banquets and other social engagements to take you elsewhere, but we hope you can stay long enough to process the important controversial bills remaining on this calendar.

Our plans for today call for the processing of no more bills. We have a few routine matters which should not detain anybody.

Personally, I would like to extend our apologies to the Members of the Press who have been invited to a dinner and who will probably be late getting there.

These things must be done and we cannot delay more days if we hope to get out of here by the 14th of April.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. STECKEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I was glad to hear the Majority Leader mention that tomorrow will be a work day in accordance with an announcement that was sent out last week.

In view of the sweetness and light that prevails in this Chamber after that last bipartisan effort, I hesitate to make these remarks which I had thought of this morning, but I will proceed anyway.

Mr. Speaker, much has been said on this floor and in the Press about the length of this session with the blame for it laid on the Governor, the other branch of the Legislature, the tax program, and so forth.

The time has come for this House to wake up. From the date the Manufacturers' Excise Tax passed this House to the date it passed the bipartisan tax program the so-called majority party, with but one or two exceptions, failed to muster the votes to pass any controversial legislation.

Much is wasted in this way—time and money—both taxpayers' and legislators'. Notice is sent of a three-day session, calendars and histories are printed. Members attend—and we sit waiting for a quorum, a majority, or just waiting.

As patient minority Members we attend regularly. having missed no unexcused sessions except consent calendar days myself, and we find nothing doing. Yet if we fail to attend we subject ourselves to the possible ignominy of being called by the Sergeant-at-Arms or State Police.

Let's not evade the issue on grounds of poor salary, passage of a tax bill, lack of cooperation from the other body, bad weather, or so-called Republican obstructionism—let's state it plainly, the Democratic majority simply hasn't been in its seats to pass the legislation it or its Governor desires and has failed to shoulder the responsibility it has rarely had in this state in the last ninety years.

The Speaker himself has said in his release today:

> The sin of absenteeism rises to accuse us. This sin has lengthened the Session unnecessarily. It has lengthened the Session by deferring vital decisions. Under our two-party system a majority party, in the House or in the Senate, is vested by the people with power to act. Absenteeism during the present Session has, at various times, rendered the majority party in the House impotent.
> Because of dilatory practices in the House the Senate was afforded an excuse for dilatory practice on its part. The result is that the General Assembly is approaching decisions in April 1956 that should have been made, which doubtless could have been made, during September 1955.
> Moreover, House Committees have not always functioned in Johnny-on-the-spot fashion. On far too many occasions committees were unable to act through lack of a quorum.

That is the end of the quote of the Speaker of this House. Whose sin of absenteeism is it?

The papers are always conjecturing on an adjournment date. This morning the question was raised in this House. Yesterday, April 3rd the majority was unable to pass a single controversial bill after special notice of a three-day session this week.

It is time the finger be placed on the cause of the delay and indecision, that is, the failure of the Democratic majority to accept the responsibility handed it by the people two years ago.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. DOWN. Resolution (Not Printed.

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1956.

On March 24, 1956, before a capacity crowd at Penn's Palestra, Philadelphia, the basketball team of Farrell High School western Pennsylvania champions, defeated the eastern Pennsylvania champions, Palmerton High School basketball team for the PIAA Class A State Championship by the score of 57 to 45.

Farrell High School entered the championship play-offs with an outstanding season's record of twenty-eight wins in thirty-two games. Eddie McCloskey, coach of the Farrell High School basketball team has compiled a record probably unequaled by any other high school coach in Pennsylvania. In his eight years as coach, Farrell High School won the State championship in 1952 and 1954. In addition, Farrell has been undefeated on its home court in ninety-six consecutive games extending over a period of approximately seven years. However, his record is not his sole attribute. He has always instructed his team to fight hard but in a clean sportsmanlike manner and his team at the championship game at the Palestra displayed the fact that his instructions were followed to the letter.

Although Palmerton battled Farrell through every quarter, the excellently coached team of Farrell displaying a full court press, excellent ball handling, accurate shooting combined with the tremendous rebounding efforts and defensive play by Jones were just too much for Palmerton High School.

The citizens of Farrell, justly proud of one of the finest basketball teams ever to represent their city in a State championship play-off, subscribed $4,000 to offset the expense of a special radio program for the Farrell coach and players; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its heartiest congratulations to Coach Eddie McCloskey and players of Farrell High School basketball team and wish it continued success in the future; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk transmit copies of this resolution to Coach McCloskey of the Farrell High School basketball team and the principal of Farrell High School.

Referred to the Committe on Rules.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Bill No. 2104, entitled:

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1956. No. 164.

SENATE

THURSDAY, April 5, 1956.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. FRANK MESAROS, Pastor of St. John the Baptist Greek Catholic Church, Ambridge, offered the following prayer:

O Thou, Who art the companion and counselor of all man, we rejoice in our times that we have the opportunity to unburden ourselves to Thy listening ear and understanding heart.

We humbly confess that we often are afraid to look into the future for it appears so dark and full of mystery. Help us to see the rainbow promise of Thy grace and go forth with a grateful acknowledgment, that hitherto Thou hast blessed us and with a continuing faith that in all our days Thy presence will be our joy and strength.

Grant that, in communion with Thee, we may have those gracious experiences which always come to all who truly pray. May we also find poise and peace for our restless spirits, enlightenment for our confused and troubled minds, guidance in the midst of disturbing circumstances and inspiration and hope for our noblest plans and purposes.

In Christ's Name we offer our prayer, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. HARNEY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 173, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Stiefel, on April 4, 1956, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE PROPER AND LAWFUL METHODS OF PREVENTING THE SHOWING OF OBSCENE AND LEWD MOTION PICTURES

In the Senate, April 4, 1956.

Whereas, By the Act of May 15, 1915, P. L. 534, as amended May 8, 1929, P. L. 1655, relating to motion picture films, reels or steropticon views or slides, providing a system of examination, approval, and regulation thereof and of the banners, posters and other like advertising matter used in connection therewith, creating a board of censors, and providing penalties, it was sought to make unlawful the showing of obscene, lewd, licentious, indecent, filthy and vile films which tend to corrupt morals and offend decency; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the case of Hallmark Productions, Inc., declared the foregoing acts unconstitutional; and

Whereas, It is deemed advisable to prevent the showing in the Commonwealth of motion pictures which are obscene, lewd, licentious, indecent, filthy and vile, which corrupt morals and promote juvenile delinquency; now, therefore, be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study and investigate proper and lawful methods of preventing such showing within the limitations of the Constitutions of Pennsylvania and of the United States; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly, its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry such recommendations into effect.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 19a, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Fleming, Whalley and Lane on April 4, 1956, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE METHODS USED TO REGULATE OPEN-PIT MINING AND CONSERVE AND IMPROVE THE LAND AFFECTED BY SUCH MINING

In the Senate, April 4, 1956.

Whereas, The bituminous coal industry in Pennsylvania furnishes employment to some 76,000 Pennsylvanians; and

Whereas, In the recent past, total annual production of bituminous coal in Pennsylvania amounted to 70,000,000 tons, of which approximately 20,000,000 were produced by strip-mining methods; and

Whereas, The production of bituminous coal in Pennsylvania has declined more rapidly than bituminous production in the nation as a whole; and

Whereas, The thickness of the bituminous seam in the United States ranges from a low of 2.6 feet in the central Pennsylvania field to 7.1 feet in the Illinois field; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania bituminous production equals but 5.07 tons per man-day, compared to 6.07 and 8.00 tons in the competitive states of West Virginia and Illinois, respectively; and

Whereas, These facts indicate that Pennsylvania's bituminous coal industry is in a relatively unfavorable competitive position and that efforts to improve this position should be consistent with the interests of the Commonwealth as a whole; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study the methods used to regulate open-pit mining and conserve and improve the land affected by such mining in the major bituminous producing states, from the point of view of the cost to the affected bituminous operators, the regulatory agency, and the effective restoration of the mined areas; and be it further

Resolved, That the Commission report the findings in its study to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, before I make the motions, relative to the appointment of Conference Committees, I desire to make a brief statement.

Mr. President, I understond that the leadership of the House is planning to hold only token Sessions next week. They have sent over to us several messages, in which they have appointed Conference Committees and they expect us to appoint similar Conference Committees in the Senate to work with their Conference Committees in the House. We, the Members of the Senate, at least the Republican Members, are willing to work next week. Everyone of us is willing to come down here to work from morning until night to see if we cannot get this Session of the Legislature adjourned sine die by April 13th or

April 14th. I do not know how the House Members expect our Conference Committees to work with their Conference Committees unless the Members of the House are down here ready to work and are willing to cooperate with us in our endeavor to have this Session adjourn within a reasonable length of time.

I do not know what motivates the Members of the House in their desire seemingly, to have no end to this Session of the Legislature. Evidently, they, in their desire to have token Sessions next week, feel that perhaps the week after that they will not have any Sessions at all because several Members of the House have opposition in the Primary Election and I suppose they will want to campaign the week before election. They will probably want to take the week of the Election off, and we will not get back here again until after May 1st.
having trouble now getting his Members down here to

I want to say to Mr. Readinger that if he thinks he is having trouble now getting his Members down here to attend the Sessions, after the election is over, if any of the Members over there are defeated in the Primary, he will probably have a lot more trouble getting the defeated Members to come to the Legislature and vote the way he would like to have them vote. I would, therefore, suggest to the House Leadership that they have full Sessions next week, for five or six days, and have all the Members in attendance. I would suggest that they get these Conference Committee Reports adopted and also get whatever controversial legislation that they still have over there voted on. If it passes, then send it over to us in order for us to act on it. In that way, I can see some end to this Session of the Legislature.

If we do what the House would like to have us do, I can see that we are going to have to make plans to lay off for Memorial Day, the Fourth of July and Labor Day, too. The President pro tempore, whom we elected yesterday to serve in the interim, will not have any interim in which to serve. We will be happy to get out of here just in time to start the 1957 Session of the Legislature.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I paid very close attention to what the Majority Leader said. He predicates his statements on what he understands the situation to be. We, on the Democratic side, have no official information from the House as to what their plans are for this coming week. However, I would say to the gentleman that it seems to me that the House actually can control their own operations.

I want to assure the Majority Leader that the Democratic Members of this Senate are ready, willing and able to perform their duties at any time. We are ready to work all of next week; we are ready to work all of this week. It depends upon whatever the Majority wants. We cannot control what the House does. I think that Mr. Readinger, the Majority Leader in the House, is well able to take care of his own problems. If we keep our own house in order, I believe we will be doing a good job ourselves.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY, Mr. President, in answer to Senator Lane, I agree with him that we cannot control the House. However, I do want to call to the attention of the Members of the House the fact that they have sent these Conference Committee Appointments over to us and I do not see how we are going to be able to work with them very much if they are not going to show up next week.

Therefore, Mr. President. I do suggest to Senator Lane, or anyone else over there, that we unofficially appoint a committee of two or three Members to go over to the House right now and find out what their plans are. All that I have is secondhand information.

I will appoint Senator Fleming on the Republican side to go over.

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mahany, from your remarks, I implied that if the House is holding token Sessions next week, it is because the Democratic Leadership, alone, made that decision. Is that correct? Is my implication correct?

Mr. MAHANY. I undestand that the control of the House rests with the Democrats. Certainly, if they want to conduct full Sessions next week, I am sure they would be able to do so. As Senator Lane said awhile ago, we are in the Majority in the Senate and if we decide to work next week, the Democratic Senators will come down and work with us. If Mr. Readinger, over in the House, will make the statement that he plans to work all next week and he wants all the Members to come down, I feel sure that the Republicans in the House will have to cooperate with him.

Mr. YOSKO. You did not answer my question. May I ask whether or not you inquired from the Republican Leadership over in the House whether they agreed with the Democratic Leadership to hold token Sessions next week?

Mr. MAHANY. I have not inquired. That is the reason I want to send Senator Fleming over to the House. If Senator Lane will appoint you, Senator Yosko, then you and Senator Fleming can go over and get all the information and bring it back to us.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just do not thing it is fair for the Majority Leader, Senator Mahany, to imply on the floor of this Senate that it was the sole decision of the Democratic Leadership in the House to hold token Sessions next week. If I understand the procedure in the Senate and the House, token Sessions are usually agreed upon between the leaders of both parties, the Republican and Democratic Party Leadership. I am assuming that this is the case on the decision to hold token Sessions next week.

I agree with Senator Mahany that he should send somebody over to the House to make inquiry so that we will know exactly where to place this responsibility and not try to place it on the shoulders of the leadership of just the one party.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, all this controversy is predicated by news that someone probably received via the grapevine. I am not in a position to make a definite statement as to what the House of Representatives plans to do. However, I feel that I should make this statement.

The Majority over in the House of Representatives is surely not going to influence the Republican Majority here in the Senate, because their actions in the past indicate that to be a fact. As a matter of fact, the Republican Majority here in the Senate I do not believe has ever really considered the Democratic Majority in the House. Therefore, we are unduly concerned about the situation over there because that is entirely up to the House. Let us do our work and get our job done. When we do that, we can face the people. If the House wants to leave, there is not much we can do about it. They cannot leave for more than five days anyway.

I think it would be a good idea to get firsthand information and let Senator Fleming and Senator Yosko go over to the House and interview the Leadership of the House and find out what is going on.

HOUSE BILL No. 1060 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Bill No. 1060, entitled:

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1071, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 20, 1915 (P. L. 566), entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities, and all county or other public employes, if any, paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof . . .," changing service increment provisions.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1072, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 28, 1937 (P. L. 1053), entitled "Public Utility Law," further regulating and hearings and proceedings before the commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

Messrs. VAN SANT and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1073, entitled:

An Act making it unlawful to carry on the business of selling merchandise coupons unless upon filing an applilcation to that effect in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth; requiring nonresident applicants to have a resident agent; prescribing the effect of failure to file such application; providing that certificates of the Secretary of Commonwealth shall be admitted in evidence; prescribing the duties of and fixing the fees of the Secretary of the Commonwealth; and providing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, today, in the Department of Property and Supplies, I had the opportunity of witnessing the opening of bids for printing of automobile stickers for the coming year for the inspection of automobiles. The bid was for 8,600,000 new automobile stickers. At that time, three companies bid for the job of printing these stickers. The American Decalcomania Company of New York bid $10.90 per thousand; the Decalmomania Company of Philadelphia bid $7.69 per thousand; the Miers Bachman Company of Allentown, which has published the stickers in their present form for many years, bid $2.34 per thousand. However, the Miers Bachman Company proposal will undoubtedly be thrown out because it does not meet specifications. The Merrick Lithographing Company of Pittsburgh offered no bid.

Mr. President, the printing of the stickers placed on automobiles during the inspection periods last year were published by Miers Bachman, of Allentown, at a cost of $2.07 per thousand. With the bids now in, the bidding undoubtedly will go to the Decalcomania Company of Philadelphia, at $7.69 per thousand, or a difference of $5.35 per thousand for printing of the inspection stickers. If they should fail to meet the specifications, as set up by the Department of Revenue and the Deparament of Property and Supplies, the bid would go to the American Decolcomania Company, of New York, at a cost of $10.90 per thousand, or a difference of $8.56 per thousand.

I would like to call this to the attention of both the Democratic and Republican Members of the Senate. I would like to ask of these Departments, why are we changing the type of inspection sticker. What is the purpose of the new type of sticker? Is it possible that specifications are of such a nature that they would limit the bidding to certain companies at a time when the people of Pennsylvania are looking to us for economies? What prompts an increase of $5.35 per thousand automobile stickers, or $46,010 for this year's printing or over $92,000 for the biennium I ask what would happen if the lowest bidder failed to meet the specificatios. Would they then go to the American Decalcomania Company of New York, an out-of-State outfit, at $10.90 per thousand, which is an increase of $73,960 for printing or almost $147,000 for the biennium. There are several other questions I would like to ask of those Departments; there are but a few. I would ask at this time that the Departments effected answer before the bid is finally accepted.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, first, I known nothing about the proposed bids. I listened to the Senator from Lehigh very attentively and it seems that he more or less inferred that the specifications were written in order to favor some particular firm. I doubt very much if that is the case.

I would suggest to the gentleman from Lehigh that he check with the Department of Revenue and ask them the details that he asked for on the floor of this Senate. Then Senator Van Sant should report back to the Senate and advise us as to his findings. First and foremost, I do not know what is back of the change. I know nothing about it. However, I feel that everyone is innocent until proven guilty.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President I did not mean to infer anything. I am merely asking those Departments if they will please give me the information.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Van Sant.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Van Sant, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VAN SANT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Van Sant, could you tell the Members of the Senate how you acquired the statistics and figures that you read here a moment ago?

Mr. VAN SANT. At the outset, I said I attended the opening of the bids.

Mr. LANE. Is it correct that you received the information firsthand?

Mr. VAN SANT. That is correct.

Mr. LANE. Do you plan to contact the Department of Revenue and ask the same questions you asked on the floor?

Mr. VAN SANT. That is my intent.

Mr. LANE. Will you report to the Membership the answers that are given you when you interrogate the Department of Revenue?

Mr. VAN SANT. I will be happy to.

Mr. LANE. Thank you very much.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I believe everybody should have a hobby and, apparently, I have acquired one. A couple of weeks ago, I offered a resolution similar to the one which I am about to present to the Chair. I hope that perhaps this time I will have better luck than I had the last time.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

Messrs. BERGER and WAGNER offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 5, 1956.

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That this Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die on the fourteenth day of April, at 12 o'clock noon.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President,I, personally, am all for this resolution. However, I understand that the House is not in favor of it. I think the only thing for us to do is to pass the resolution and let the House do with it what they will.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, inasmuch as we have a committee in transit somewhere, inquiring from the House as to what their intentions are this coming week and inasmuch as the resolution presented would provide for adjournment a week from this coming Saturday, I think that we should defer voting upon this resolution until the committee reports back. There is the possibility that the report of the committee, which will return, will answer just what the House would do with this resolution.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not believe that our action on this resolution needs to be predicated upon the information which the committee will receive. Should the House desire to concur in it as presented, we would be very happy about that. I understand that they have the prerogative to amend the resolution in the House, if they care to do so, and submit it to us for our concurrence. It might help them in making up their minds.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 929 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. BARR offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 5, 1956.

RESOLVED (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 929, Printer's No. 614, entitled "An act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), entitled 'An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws' providing for the exercise of discretion in the forfeiture and condemnation of property illegally possessed or used." be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

CALENDAR

SENATE BILL No. 1061 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, at this time I call up out of order, from page 11 of today's Second Reading Calendar, Senate Bill No. 1061, Printer's No. 663.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1061, on second reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 28 1953 (P. L. 723), entitled "Second Class County Code" authorizing the appropriation of moneys out of county funds or county institution district funds for the handling storage and distribution of certain surplus foods and validating appropriations heretofore made.

be recommitted to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 620, Printer's No. 1654, on concurrence in House amendments, recalled from the Governor, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill Bill No. 249, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public Assistance Law" of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2051) * * *" increasing monthly pension allowance and maximum income allowance crediting encumbrances in realty valuation and abolishing the sum of income and pension as a ceiling for pension receivable.

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

SENATE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 249

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do non-concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 249.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no" on this motion to non-concur in these amendments.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I also wish to be recorded as voting "no" on this motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 53

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 53, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved May 1 1929 (P. L. 905), prohibiting the throwing of certain material from motor vehicles and further limiting and regulating certain actions.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am definitely opposed to this Conference Committee Report and I was opposed to the bill. I believe that if this legislation is passed, we are reverting to a police state. If you will notice, on page 4, Section 1023.1, it says:

"Throwing Material from Motor Vehicle No person shall throw or permit to be thrown from a motor vehicle any garbage bottles cans rubblish wire glass or cardboard or wood cartons or boxes."

Mr. President, the intent of the legislation is fine. However, in this legislation they take from the Motor Code the prima facie feature of it whereby the burden of proof is placed upon the owner of the vehicle in the event anything is thrown from the car. As all of you know, in the summertime you take your families out riding in your motor vehicle. Perhaps a child, in the back of the car, will have a pie plate or a cardboard carton of some sort. The child may wind down the window and this is thrown from the vehicle. Then, a policeman sees that happen and he takes your license number. It is prima-facie evidence that you have committed a crime.

I think this is silly. Your local districts have the right, under the law, to enforce ordinances in regard to the disposal of rubbish. However, when we come to the point where a small child may throw a carton from a vehicle and then you are subject, I believe, to a $25.00 fine or ten days in a local jail, all because some child would do something like that, I think it is silly. As a matter of fact, I think you would be afraid to throw an empty package of cigarettes out of your window for fear of prosecution.

Mr. President, I am not for this type of legislation. I think we have too many restrictions upon our people. The intention is all right, but this can be abused. Therefore, I ask the Members on both sides to read this legislation and fully realize the intent of what could happen. I am not for it and I want to be recorded as voting "no." It is silly, it is simple and it is ridiculous.

Mr. Mallery. Mr. President, I want to assure my good colleague, Senator Lane, that the law does not concern itself with trifles. No one would prosecute the owner of a car if he threw his cigarette package or carton out of his car. It has become quite a common practice and the State Police, in Blair County, have protested because certain people are too cheap or do not regard the property of others or do not regard the scenery along the road and instead of having their garbage and their rubbish hauled to the dump, they will go out after dark and unload it along our State highways.

I think this is a vary good bill. People who are proud of their Country, county or city will pay to have their garbage hauled to the dump. I can assure Senator Lane that no law enforcement officer would for a moment, and he would get nowhere if he did, prosecute or bring action against a trivial thing like throwing out a package which had contained cigarettes or anything so insignificant.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Senator Mallery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MALLERY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mallery, you are an attorney-at-law, are you not?

Mr. MALLERY. I am a member of the bar but not very active, I assure you.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, sir.

I think you will agree that the law means just what it says; no more and no less. Is that not correct?

Mr. MALLERY. No, it does not, Senator.

Mr. LANE. Well, what does it mean?

Mr. MALLERY. There is a maxim in the law that the law is not concerned with trifles or words to that effect. I forget the latin words for it.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mallery, do you agree with the prima facie provisions in this act?

Mr. MALLERY. Yes, I do. I think it is a good bill.

Mr. LANE. Do you think the prima facie provisions are good as far as persons driving their vehicles along the highway?

Mr. MALLERY. The violators, such as I have enumerated, know full well what they are doing. We are not concerned about what children, who are riding in a car, do. A parent who would call upon his child to do what he would not do, or would be fearful of doing himself, should be prosecuted.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mallery, is it not a fact that I and you, too, would be violating the law if we drove along the highway and our grandchild threw a carton from that vehicle on or near the public road. If a policeman, a State Policeman or a fee officer took our license number, would we not on prima-facie evidence be guilty of this crime?

Mr. MALLERY. I am proud of our State Police. I do not think any man employed as a State Policeman in Pennsylvania would bring an action in that case.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mallery, this bill does not confine it to just the State Police, does it? This confines it to peace officers.

Mr. MALLERY. I do not think any peace officer would get anywhere before our court, I am sure.

Mr. LANE. I know, but this is a summary conviction and does it not go before a squire? Mr. President, the intent of this bill is good as far as this legislation is concerned, but it could be abused. If we pass this legislation, it is going to be abused. People will be fearful, when they drive upon our highways, that some child or some person, who does not know the law might toss a carton out of the window and the first thing they know they are hauled into a squire's office or a police court and fined twenty-five dollars for something they knew nothing about.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, we are currently debating this Conference Report which applies to a bill that passed the House by a vote of 196 to 0 and later passed the Senate by a vote of 43 to 1. I think Senator Lane is entirely unduly alarmed about the provisions of the bill. The States of New York, New Jersey and Ohio, the bordering States of Pennsylvania, have similar laws and we, for the information of the gentleman from Washington, have a law of this kind now. However, the law is unenforceable because it is not strong enough. In one case where a man was apprehended for dumping rubbish near the highway, he used as an excuse that the box was being carried and held by a child and that it fell off of his car.

This bill is merely an attempt to help the State Police, and the other police officers of Pennsylvania, and protect the highway system which we are all so proud of. It does not carry any of the provisions that Senator Lane would imply. It is merely a law to give the police officials some authority to keep our highways clear of rubbish and rubble.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, Senator Wade infers that I am trying to put something into the law which is not there. I want to assure him that he is mistaken, because it is in the law. I want to inform the gentleman also that a borough has the right, and they do have local ordinances, to prohibit the dumping of garbage.

Mr. President, this legislation is silly and ridiculous. I do not think any man in his right mind should vote for this type of bill. It will penalize the motoring public. After all, we, in Pennsylvania, have a Department of Commerce and we want to show the people what a great State we have. If someone from outside Pennsylvania would drive in here and throw something from their car, they would be hauled into a police court. I know that on the Turnpike right now, they will stop Pennsylvanians for speeding and just let the other fellows go by, because they want to encourage out-of-State tourists to come into Pennsylvania. This bill will work a hardship on our tourist trade, and do not think it will not.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 53

Mr. WADE. Very briefly, Mr. President, I would like to inform the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, that he has one great constitutional privilege and that is the privilege of voting against this Conference Report, and I, therefore, move you, Mr. President, that we adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 53.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Cumberland that I am going to vote "no."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, a number of the Senators here asked me what the report of the committee was which was appointed to go over to the House.

I just want to say that after conferring with the leadership over there, we were told there was no official announcement on the holding of token Sessions next week.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. FLEMING asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would like to confirm what Senator Yosko reported. There has been no official announcement of any token Sessions as yet. The House is under the belief, however, that it would be impossible for us to complete the work of this Session by the end of next week, and I believe they are fearful of the fact of whether or not next week they could get the members here inasmuch as all of them, or practically all of them, are campaigning. They will have some type of an announcement to make, I believe, before the day is over, and I believe Senator Yosko will agree with that.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 865, entitled:

An Act to amend "The Intra-State Tunnel Revenue Bond Act" by authorizing the use of facsimile signatures and facsimile seal on bonds of the commission authorizing preliminary or interim financing through issuance of notes or other obligations of the commission further regulating maturity of bonds payable solely from revenue of the commission including tolls or from such funds as may be available to the commission for such purpose providing for the securing of such notes or obligations constituting the same legal investments in certain instances and exempting the same from taxation and authorizing the issuance of tunnel revenue refunding bonds.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 485, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs to be used by the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission for the encouragement and development of aeronautics.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President I was going to offer amendments to this bill, but after having been assured by the Aeronautics Commission that Dauphin and Cumberland Counties, and the city of Harrisburg, would be contacted relative to a contribution for the operation, maintenance and improvement of the Harrisburg Airport, I withheld the amendments.

I do not want anybody to think that I am prejudiced against the Harrisburg Airport but, at the same time, I do not think that other airports are being treated fairly for the reasan that the Harrisburg Airport is financed solely by State and Federal funds, without any contribution whatsoever from the counties of Cumberland, Dauphin or the city of Harrisburg. That same thing is not true of other airports around the State.

Mr. President, the $2,000,000 appropriation, which is being made under this bill, is to be used as matching funds with a Federal appropriation and local funds for the improvement of the various airports around the State. The Federal Government has appropriated, I think, $4,000,000 and the State is asked to contribute $2,000,000 as matching funds. However, in order to get the State funds, the local counties and cities which the airports serve, and the authorities, must raise matching funds in order to receive the State funds.

In looking over the list here, Mr. President, I find, for instance, that the Harrisburg Airport will receive $225,000 of this $2,000,000 fund, and they are not asked to contribute one penny from local funds. Yet, as I said before, that same thing does not hold true with reference to the other airports.

Altoona, from this $2,000,000 appropriation, will receive $27,000, but they must raise $27,000 in local funds in order to get the State funds. Beaver Falls will receive $31,625, but they must raise local funds in that amount. Erie will receive $90,000, but they must raise local funds in the amount of $90,000. Harrisburg will receive $225,000 without, as I said before, a cent of local funds. Lancaster will receive $6,250 and must raise $6,250. Pittsburgh will receive $225,000, but they must match it with local funds totaling $225,000. Philadelphia will receive $231,250, but they, too, must raise local funds in the same amount. That is the way it is all the way down the line for the fifteen airports in the State of Pennsylvania.

The only excuse they give for exempting or placing the Harrisburg Airport in a class of its own is that they say it is a State airport. That may be true but, Mr. President, even though it is a State airport it provides the same protection, affords the same service to the counties of Cumberland and Dauphin and the city of Harrisburg as the Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton Airport, which is in my District, gives to the city of Bethlehem, the city of Allentown, the County of Northampton and the County of Lehigh, which must raise local funds in order to receive these State funds.

Mr. President, I took this up with the Adjutant General and with the Executive Director of the Aeronautics Commission, Mr. MacFarlane, and they both agree with my views. They feel that although the Harrisburg Airport is designated as a State airport, Dauphin and Cumberland Counties and the city of Harrisburg certainly ought to make some sort of contribution toward the operation, maintenance and improvement of the Harrisburg Airport and not place the total financial load on the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, based on the fact that I was told that contacts will be made with the officials of the counties that I mentioned, Dauphin, Cumberland and the city of Harrisburg, for a contribution, I refrain from the amendment which would make that mandatory. I say now that if these three poltical subdivisions refuse to go along with the request of the Aeronautics Commission for a proportionate contribution for the maintenance, operation and improvement of the Harrisburg Airport, I will at the next Session endeavor to amend the law to make it mandatory so that the Harrisburg Airport will be placed on a basis with all other airports in Pennsylvania.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have more than a passing interest in this particular piece of legislation because Washington County is in the process of building a new airport. As a matter of fact, we have expended out of county funds close to $400,000.

In looking over this piece of legistlation, Mr. President, I refer you to page 2, line 7, where it says:

"Provided however that no more shall be expended from this item for such purposes or any of them than may be required to match an equal sum contributed by any political subdivision or municipal authority of the Commonwealth or by the Federal government or by a political subdivision or municipal authority and the Federal government"

Mr. President, it is my understandig that my county, or any county, will match funds with the Commonwealth and that the Federal government, in turn, will match the total sum. For that reason, I am going to vote for this legislation. I am not partial to the Harrisburg State Airport; in fact, I sometimes wish they had a little longer runway.

A Constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 223, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction to reimburse school districts for interest paid on loan necessitated by deferment of Commonwealth appropriations

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have been watching the appropriations to school districts for a number of years and it is my opinion that this is not the first time that appropriations have been delayed. I believe, however, that never has such a bill been passed. I do not know whether the Senator from Schuylkill has presented such legislation previously.

Mr. President, school districts perhaps are very much like individuals. Some of them are good and efficient, and other are not so provident. I happen to have some responsibility for a number of school districts which are not the richest districts in the State but, judged by their ability to pay, one of them has a reimbursement fraction of 1.93 which is one of the poorest districts in the State. Over the recent years and months, we have been able to pay teachers' salaries on time and to pay all the expenses for textbooks and supplies for the schools of this particular area.

Therefore, it seems to me, Mr. President, that this particular legislation will be an encouragement to districts not to be provident managers, but to be careless managers inasmuch as if we should pass this legislation, any moneys that would have to be borrowed could be borrowed and we would reimburse the districts for the interest paid on this money. It seems to me that this type of legislation may encourage inefficiency rather than encourage efficiency. There, undoubtedly, are some districts in the State that have really had to borrow for this reason, but it seems to me that they are in a great minority.

Therefore, I intend to vote "no" on this legislation.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Wagner, has any sort of formula been worked out by the Department of Public Instruction to make it possible to determine which of the school districts that borrowed money, borrowed the money because of a delay in transmitting State appropriations?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, when the bill was delayed any number of times because of that very thing, I requested the Department on behalf of both the Minority and the Majority in the Senate, to suggest a proper procedure to handle this matter. The Department of Public Instruction suggested an amendment to the bill which I added, providing for the Department to issue forms on which the borrowing district would have to certify, as well as the borrower, how much had been borrowed for this specific purpose, how much interest was paid and how much would be due.

I invited the Department of Public Instruction to elaborate to their hearts desire to make any suggestions they thought would be helpful and the extent of their recommendation was included in the amendments to the bill, Senator. Apparently they feel that this procedure will not only establish just what money was borrowed, only because of delayed appropriations, but it will determine how much was paid and it will have to be certified to beyond any puestion of a doubt.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you, Senator.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, my principal reason for being opposed to this bill is that it sets a precedent for future action which is contrary to the past practices of the Commonwealth in reimbursing the school districts.

I have reliable information from the Department of Public Instruction which indciates that, just taking the last six years as an example, in only one of those years have the payments of the appropriations for the entire year been made on time, which means that if the precedent which we are going to set if we pass this bill is carried out and if the past six years, during which time I am sure Senator Wagner will agree we had an efficient administration in office, gives any indication, we would be paying interest on borrowed money five out of every six years.

Mr. President, that seems to be a practice which we do not want to get into. For that reason, I am opposed to this bill. A secondary point I would like to make is that I have heard no evidence offered by the sponsor or anyone else that the figure which is contained in this bill of $500,000 would be adequate or would be more than adequate. I have not heard any figure given as to just how much money we might expect to pay out under this bill. I am sure I do not know how much money is needed and the Department of Public Instruction confesses itself unable to determine the figure.

Mr. President, for those two reasons, I think this Senate would be ill-advised and would be carrying forward a poor economic practice to vote for this bill. Therefore, I intend to vote against it.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I do not believe there is anything to be done with this bill except to vote for it or vote against it, and make our determination today.

Mr. President, I agree with the gentleman from York that there are many times when appropriations are, of necessity, delay but I think he, too, will agree with me in turn that seldom has there been the delay that has been experienced this school term. At no time have I tried to place the blame for that. I simply faced the reality of it.

This bill, the last time it was reported out, did not come from the Education Committee. Our committee approved it and re-referred it to the Appropriations Committee some six or seven months ago. The Appropriations Committee, without any solicitation on my part whatever, saw fit to report it out because there were protestations from many parts of the State on the part of schools which could go out and borrow some money for a week or a months, but who said their budgets were knocked awry because of the length of time they had to have borrowed funds to pay their teachers.

Mr. President, it seems to me that the Department of Public Instruction ought to have a pretty general idea as to how much it might cost to repay that interest which was expended. They have not estimated the amount, but they have told me that this money will be sufficient and I presume they know that much. The bill plainly states that only so much of this appropriation as may be necessary shall be used for this purpose.

I am reluctant to prolong this debate and I have no desire to argue the matter, but I think because of the very unusual circumstances and conditions in the State, in school circles and in this very unusual Session of the Legislature, we ought to make this effort and this contribution to re-establish the balancing of the budgets in the school districts. I intend to vote "aye" and I invite all my colleagues to do the same.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I gather from the remarks of Senator Wagner that these moneys, which these school districts were required to go out and borrow, were the moneys that ths State was unable to pay because of the so-called tax impasse of this Session. Yet, When I read this bill, it would appear as though it were for the payment of the appropriations made in 1953. Do I understand correctly that we, in this Session are raising moneys which were appropriated in the 1953 Session? Is that correct, Senator Wagner.

Mr. WAGNER. I believe the money that was due in 1955 was to reimburse the school districts for expenditures in the 1953-1954 school sessions.

Mr. SCHMIDT. No, this talks about, "by reason of the deferment of appropriations for payments to school districts made by the General Assembly of 1953." Now I feel that a lot of the school districts, by reason of our tax impasse this Session, were put to a great expense and had to go out and borrow these moneys. If that is the money we are talking about it is one thing, but if these are payments which were to be made out of the appropriations of 1953, then I think we have a different story.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, this bill has been on the Calendar quite some time and none of us know the exact amount that is necessary. I do not think any of us know the approximate amount necessary.

I dislike very much to vote for something when I do not know what I am voting for. However, I realize that this a debt of the Commonwealth. I, accordingly, suggest that we have Senator Wagner, Senator Seyler, Senator Hays and Senator Yosko contact the Department of Public Instruction tomorrow, and let us know how much money they actually need and what their sentiments are.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 223, Printer's No. 652, on final passage, go over in its order until tomorrow.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, in due deference to the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, he said in the early part of his statement that the bill had already been on our Calendar a long time. I have not had time to look up and find out just how long it has been on our Calendar, but I agree with him that it has been here quite awhile. However, further than that, I do not think it is possible for the Department of Public Instruction or for anyone else to determine very definitely the amount of money that is necessary.

The bill carried an appropriation of $750,000 originally. That has now been reduced to half a million dollars or $500,000.

Mr. President, I think the only approach to this problem, if we agree with the principle, is that we pass this bill today and then if not all the money is necessary, certainly that will lapse back into the General Fund. If that amount and more is necessary, a deficiency appropriation could be passed in the next Session to meet this problem, which we believe on this side is a necessary one and a proper debt of the Commonwealth.

Therefore, Mr. President, as much as I dislike to do it, I object to the bill going over today.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I believe that the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Wade, will agree that we are earmarking $500,000 for a job which may take $100,000 or $125,000. I think he will agree also that we need the money very badly. Why should we earmark $500,000, even though it is written that as much as is necessary shall be appropriated? I feel we are not being sincere in our efforts if we do not try to get a decent figure.

I agree that the bill has been on the Calendar a long, long time and I thought that possibly Senator Wagner had all the information. I am suggesting now that we can resolve it tomorrow if Senator Wagner, Senator Seyler, Senator Hays, Senator Yosko and any others who are interested go over to the Department of Public Instruction and get us the real figures so we can amend the bill and pass it. If $500,000 is not sufficient, we will have to add to it.

We do not know what we are voting for, at least I do not know, and, therefore, I cannot vote for the bill the way it stands now.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I agree with the gentleman one hundred per cent that we do not know whether this is the right amount or not and, second, that we need the money, but, third, we are voting for a principle in this bill as much as anything else. There is no information in the possession of the Department of Public Instruction, or anyone in the Department, which would give us a close estimate of the amount necessary to do this job. If it is possible to obtain those figures within the near future ,the House can secure them and put the amendment in the House. Because it is a Senate bill, more than anything else, I think we should vote today on the bill.

I might add, Mr. President, that Senator Wagner has already asked the Department of Public Instruction, in writing, if they could give a close determination of the amount of money necessary to meet this obligation, if it is an obligation of the Commonwealth, and they replied by saying that there is no method by which they could determine a nearly accurate estimate on the amount of money necessary.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, you will agree that the original appropriation was for $750,000. Is that not correct?

Mr. WADE. I will.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, can you advise the Members of the Senate where they got that figure?

Mr. WADE. Yes, I will be glad to so far as I know, although Senator Wagner could give a better statement as to how the figure was determined in the first place. However, it was an estimate of the total appropriations due, which was not a close estimate at all, and also of the number of districts that had borrowed money.

Mr. LANE. Could you tell the Membership how many districts borrowed money and how much?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I have already said in this debate that there is no way that we could closely approximate the amount of money except by a very rough method.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, then you agree that if we vote for a $500,000 appropriation, we still do not know what we are voting for. Is that correct?

Mr. WADE. I agree, Mr. President, that we have no way of determining a close estimate of the amount of money necessary to do this job.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, sir.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, we just might clarify that by stating that the Department believes this money is sufficient, which is our main concern.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senate Wagner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wagner, you say that the Department said that $500,000 would be sufficient. Is that correct?

Mr. WAGNER. Yes, Senator.

Mr. LANE. Did it mention any figure at all, Did it mention $400,000 or $450,000?

Mr. WAGNER. The answer to that is no, they did not.

Mr. LANE. Did they just say that $500,000 would be sufficient?

Mr. WAGNER. That is right.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, sir.

Mr. President, that is too rich for my blood. I am going to vote "no."

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, lest somebody thinks that the Department of Public Instruction is using crystal balls or something to do this, Senator Wagner knows, I am sure, and many of the other Members know, that the Department has no way of determining this until such time as the reports of the districts are made and that will be next year. Until that time, all they can do is read the newspapers and hope that they have taken account of all the borrowing which has been done by what they read in the newspapers which, of course, is a highly unscientific method. I think if I read the newspapers more carefully, I might give a better estimate at this point than the Department. I think Senator Wagner would agree with that.

There is no way, as has been conceded—and I think it is pointless to prolong the discussion of it—of determining how much money will be needed under this bill. The Department cannot do it; it cannot possibly do it. It can give a "guesstimate," I can give a "guesstimate," and Senator Wagner can give a "guesstimate." I suggest that we vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I intend to vote "no" on this bill because I believe that hospital appropriations and other appropriations have been delayed, and I think we will be establishing a very bad precedent.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1269, Printer's No. 1532, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1311, Printer's No. 1685, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, this is a very important piece of legislation. The districts to which this money is allocated, if the bill passes and becomes law, have been depending on these allocations since early in February, which is the usual time for them to receive their allocations. The committee has given the bill a great deal of study. It is modeled after the legislation which was passed two years ago, known as Act No. 340, which worked very well. I believe the bill is now in good order, and I am prompted to say that it is agreed to by the Democratic Leadership.

Under Act No. 340, for each mile in the cities, boroughs, towns and townships, they received $163 on a mileage basis and fifty-seven cents per capita. Under this, as amended, it follows the same pattern quite identically. In other words, they would receice $301 per mile or $1.14 capita, according to the 1950 census.

I think, Mr. President, it is high time that we now act on this bill and make this allocation, if it is approved, and get the money into the hands of the districts. I see no reason whatever for holding the bill any longer.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I agree with Senator Wade that this legislation is very important to the political subdivisions. However, Senator Dent has advised me that he has further amendments which he wishes to offer tomorrow and which he feels will improve the bill.

Therefore, Mr. President, I have requested that the bill go over in order so that Senator Dent can offer the amendments. As a matter of fact, I believe they are working on the amendments right now and I had hoped that Senator Dent would be on the floor when this bill came up. However, he advised me that if the bill came up and he was not on the floor, to request that it be carried over in order.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, certainly we would object to no amendments which would improve the bill. As I stated before, the bill follows very closely the pattern of Act No. 340. Earlier, when Senator Dent was here on the floor, he stated that there was a question as to the way of determining the money. I think I proved, to his satisfaction, that it was clearly outlined in the bill. However, if Senator Lane or anyone else feels that they have amendments which would improve the bill, I certainly would have no objection to it going over in order until tomorrow, and I withdraw my objection.

I would like to correct a figure that I gave just a few minutes ago. Instead of $163 per mile, on a mileage basis, it is $208 per mile under Act No. 340.

The PRESIDENT. Objection having been withdrawn, House Bill No. 1311, will go over in its order.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1849, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 31, 1945 (P. L. 1198) entitled "Bituminous Coal Open Pit Mining Conservation Act" further regulating mining operations requiring the filing of maps changing provisions with respect to registration bonds backfill overburden enforcement of the act appeals and penalties and providing for the payment of fines into a special fund

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, yesterday I made some remarks on House Bill No. 1849 at a time when the resolution was offered, referring the whole problem relative to strip mining to a study by the Joint State Government Commission with the understanding that there would be a report made to this Legislature at the next Session. As you will recall from my interrogation of the sponsor of the resolution, I was told that it was his understanding that with the passage of that resolution, House Bill No. 1849, in the condition that it now appears on the Calendar, was to be adopted.

At that time, I stated my opposition to it and said that I would offer amendments today. Immediately after making my remarks—and, by the way, I wish you to know that I was very sincere in making those remarks—I was advised by those in the know that the bill would never have come out of committee unless a certain understanding had been had that this bill would not be disturbed on the floor.

This understanding met with the approval of the Secretary of Mines and of the various labor groups interested, as well as the operators. They felt that to get the bill out in the shape it was in was an improvement over the previous condition, and they felt that this study which would be made would result in better legislation at the next Session.

Being advised of that, Mr. President, I am, therefore, not going to offer any amendments at this time. I will leave the bill proceed as it is and hope that the resolution which was offered will come out of committee, will be adopted and that a report will be made by the Joint State Government Commission.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, yesterday when Senator Schmidt took the floor, I was in the unfortunate position of not being able to answer him because I was presiding in your place. I had intended to offer the amendments that he spoke about, but I had been informed of the same facts that Senator Schmidt just recited; that were it not an agreement between certain elements of the industry, the Secretary of Mines and the labor unions, it would have been impossible to have the bill brought out.

The bill, in its present shape, certainly in my opinion, does not go to the extent that it should go. However, I feel that it is, at least, a step in the right direction and I was assured that the resolution, sponsored by Senator Whalley, Senator Lane and myself, calling for a Joint State Government Commission investigation of the strip mining activities in the bituminous field, would be brought out and acted upon by this Senate. That resolution was reported from the Rules Committee today and will be acted upon. I feel confident that it will be adopted by the Senate and that the Joint State Government Commission will make a full and complete investigation of the facts, and those things that you and I hope will become law in Pennsylvania will be recommended by that committee.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I must make my position clear on this legislation. I feel that the bill in its present form is a decided improvement over the present legislation we have on our statute books. However, I am happy to know that the resolution has been reported to the floor. I hope that after due study we can improve upon the operations of strip mining, because they certainly are destroying the natural beauty of this great Commonwealth.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

be re-referred to the Committee on State Government for the puspose of further study and possible amendment.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, there is nothing we can do about it if the Majority wants to re-refer this bill. I had planned on securing amendments and offering them tomorrow. However, I feel that the bill does have some good features. I can see where it is very restrictive but, at the same time, it has some advantages.

I would like for you to withdraw your motion to re-refer this bill until I have an opportunity to offer the amendments. Then, if you are not satisfied, you can kill the bill. I feel that it does have some very great advantages that could be properly utilized if the bill is amended.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman from Washington County that Senator Diehm, Chairman of the Committee on State Government, is always very cooperative in considering amendments. I am sure that if Senator Lane would get his amendments to Senator Diehm, they would receive full consideration.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs. KESSLER, DIEHM and RUTH as a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committeee of the House (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to House Bill No. 887.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, when I made my request, my friend, John Paget, was in the Senate Chambers. I hope he is here now because I want him to hear this.

Mr. President, I noticed in the Evening News, under a column entitled: "On Capitol Hill," by John Paget, that he stated that at the next Session of the Legislature, if both the House and Senate are controlled by the Democrats, the Reorganization Plans of the Governor will have a much better chance of being adopted. He pointed to the fact that we have only adopted five out of eight of the Reorganization Plans and, because of the Republicans being in control of the Senate and the Democrats in control of the House, it does not make for the adoption of these Reorganization Plans.

I want to call to John Paget's attention, and to any of you who read his column, the fact that the Republicans have only moved to disapprove two of the Reorganization Plans which have been sent over to us and that was done after hearings were held. Concerning the others that were disapproved, the motion to disapprove was made by the Democrats. I believe it was Reorganization Plan No. 7 which the Republicans were perfectly willing to adopt if the Democrats had not made the motion to disapprove it.

We certainly cannot adopt plans of reorganization before the Governor sends them over. We have only had eight plans sent to us so far. We have adopted five. The Republicans—if you want to call it that—have killed off two of them due to cause submitted to us by those who were involved. The Democrats have knocked off one. I do not, therefore, see where the Republicans have obstructed in any way the Governor's plans to reorganize the State Government. We have not received one in a long while. I forget how many months it has been since we had the last plan submitted to us. However, we are here waiting to receive any more plans for reorganization that the Governor intends to send over to us. I feel sure that if he sends over some, we will be happy to act upon them. If they are worthwhile and save any money, we will be glad to adopt them. So far, out of the eight plans that were sent us, not one has stated how much money would be saved, if any. That is certainly contrary to the Reorganization Act which we adopted.

Mr. President, I hope that the columnist will make satisfactory corrections in his next article.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes, for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Rules.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Rules, reported as amended, House Bill No. 2101, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the sixth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifty-six (Pamphlet Laws) (Act No. 381) entitled "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act" by defining or redefining certain words terms and procedural provisions in the act excluding certain personal property form the tax and changing provisions for assessment and collection of the tax and license fees.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KESSLER, at the request of the Committee on Rules, from the Committee on Finance, reported as amended House Bill No. 2096, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1889 (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' . . ." requiring additional reports and changing the due date of certain payments of capitol stock tax and franchise tax and further providing for the computation and payment of the tax by domestic corporations, joint stock associations, limited partnerships and companies.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KESSLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, House Bill No. 2096, which I just reported from the Committee on Finance, is the capital stock tax bill. It will be in print tomorrow, and I hope that nobody accuses us of having any gimmicks, sleepers or Mickey Finns in it. Everyone will have plenty of time to read it.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1956

The House met at 10:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Frank Mesakos, Pastor of St. John The Baptist Greek Catholic Church, Ambridge, Pa., guest Chaplain and guest of the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Hamilton, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God before Whom the generations of men pass in triumph or defeat and Who doth preside over the destinies of all mankind, grant that we may be inspired with a greater faith in the moral order of the universe, a greater faith in the power of righteousness, and above all, a greater faith in Thee.

We pray that when we are discouraged and tempted to yield to despair we may hear Thy voice awakening within us the glad assurance that Thy divine purposes can never be defeated. Inspire us with a stronger faith in Thee, give us a vision of that blessed time when justice and righteousness shall find a clearer expression in our social, industrial and political life, and when civilization shall be glorified with the spirit of good will and all nations of the earth shall walk together in the paths of peace.

Hear us in the Name of the Prince of Peace. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have received through the mail an invitation to a dinner to be held at the Farm Show Building in Harrisburg on May 23, 1956.

The letter states: quote:

For your convenience I am enclosing a reservation card and for every $100 voluntary contribution we will mail you an invitation to the dinner.

The letter is on Pennsylvania Democratic Committee stationery and the card is addressed to the Pennsylvania Democratic State Finance Committee.

First, I ask whether rent is being paid for the Farm Show Show Building by the Pennsylvania Democratic State Committee? If so, how much? If not, why not?

This same invitation has been sent to Republicians who must hold a license from the Commonwealth to do business. It will be interesting to learn what penalty will be visited upon them if they fail to make the $100 voluntary contribution.

While on this subject, in 1955 a certain gentleman traveled the length and breadth of this Commonwealth firing, throwing out and displacing Boards of Trustees of state institutions and other persons for some alleged or mythical political activity. Great lip service! Wonderful reform! Magnificent ideals! Courageous performance! What a knight in shining armor!

But Uncle Dominnick in yesterday's Philadelphia Inquirer tears the fluorescent sheep shawl from this political wolf and exposes him for his cheap reform fakery. He demands $25 on a voluntary basis for a Democratic dinner from 376 persons on the payroll of one of the institutions under his jurisdiction, Selinsgrove State School for mental defectives and epileptics. And if they do not kick in, then what?

I am now inviting any person at this school, or any other school in the state, who loses his job because of refusal to buy a ticket to one of these dinners, or make a contribution, to write and let me know or get in touch with me. Politics has no place in these institutions!

P. S.: I am not buying one of those invitations for $100, their hasty confusion forgot to check my political party nor am I attending the dinner, for you see someone in affiliation.

Mr. Speaker, while I am here I would like also to take up one other little subject. I think this relates to one of the fundamentals of our system of government. This is something that affects us as a House of Representatives, irrespective of our party affiliations. To me it is a fundamental issue.

An editorial in the April 1, 1956, issue of the Philadelphia Sunday Bulletin states:

> They (certain members of the Pennsylvania Legislature) are lawmakers only because of the workings of our political system.

Also:

> It may be that a Ward Leader will want the job himself instead of simply lining up a stooge.

Just who of the present Members of the Legislature are lawmakers only because of the workings of our political system? It does not say.

Just who of the present Members of the Legislature are stooges? There are no disclosures.

The editorial elected to make the blanket charge and thereby stigmatize every present Member of the Legislatur. I now call upon the Bulletin for a bill of particulars. In the vernacular of the street. either put up or shut up! To just which members do you refer?

Of those now running for the Legislature in the April Primaries (and if the Bulletin or any other paper does not know who they are, for their information there is a complete list for the entire state in the Election Bureau of the Secretary of the Commonwealth), just which ones are stooges and for whom? Now is the time to speak up, not after the election!

Just who of those running in the Primary are likely to be elected only because of the workings of our political system? Now is the time to speak up and say.

And while we are on the subject, with all of its faults do you know of a better system?

Here awaits one of the greatest public services and journalistic opportunities of the century. The Philadelphia Bulletin and all the Press of this state, if our system is so bad, just what system do you propose? In the meantime, name those who are the culprits of our present system. As a matter of journalistic honesty, it is your duty to say or stand convicted of the greatest mass guilt by accusation of our time.

Up to this date in this country and under our political system you have no right to condemn us individually nor as a group to the political ghetto without a bill of particulars, proof and conviction. Let's keep it American!

Inasmuch as nearly everyone reads the Bulletin, I challenge the Bulletin to print this reply in full.

Mr. GARLOCK. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Fulton will proceed.

Mr. GARLOCK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if the person sending the invitation signed his name to the invitation or was it just an anonymous invitation.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Here is the invitation and it is signed by a William D. Teefy, treasurer, and the envelope calls for the contribution to be mailed to the Democratic State Finance Committee of Pennsylvania, M. H. McCloskey, Chairman, 1328 Suburban Station Building, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania.

Mr. GARLOCK. I had reference to the gentleman who mailed you the invitation that you were speaking of.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Here is the envelope, it has marked on the outside of it, Democratic State Committee of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia 3, Pa., addressed to Hon. Edwin W. Tompkins, West Fourth St., Emporium, Pa.

Mr. GARLOCK. I think you gave a couple of quotes there that the person who sent you the invitation stated that he was not contributing $100, this, that, and the other thing. That is the person I was asking about, if that was an anonymous statement or if the person signed his name to that statement?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I did not quite understand the gentleman's question.

Mr. GARLOCK. I believe you said the person was not sending in the $100 and referred to being interested in what might happen to him, or this, that, or the other, that the $100 was not going to be sent in and you requested anyone to get in touch with you if they were forced to, or if they lost their job, and this or that.

Mr. TOMPKINS. In that connection I am speaking of the $25 dinner contribution which is being asked of employes at the Selinsgrove State School. I am stating here and now that if anybody at that State School loses their job because they refuse to pay that $25, I am asking them to get in touch with me.

Mr. GARLOCK. O. K. Another question, do you know of the previous administrations forcing donations out of these people who were employed in these institutions?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That has nothing to do with this issue. Whether previous administrations did the same thing has nothing to do with whether or not they have a right to continue to do it, or whether or not a man who has gone up and down this state and said, "There is no politics in these institutions, and I will allow none," now has the right to come out and put this club over the heads of these employes.

Mr. GARLOCK. Did you condone those practices before, or did you get on the floor of this House and object to them?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I had not heard that employes of state institutions had been subjected to demands for contributions in this manner before. I have heard of some employes on this Hill, yes, but not in state institutions of this kind.

Mr. GARLOCK. I do not believe when you visited some of the state institutions you had your ears open at that time, or I think you would have found that they were being pressured and contributions were being collected from them, and in some cases still are by the Republican Party.

Mr. TOMPKINS. May I inquire of the gentleman if he thinks that two wrongs make a right?

Mr. GARLOCK. No, I do not. I do not agree with that. But did the same two wrongs make a right in previous years?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Irrespective of that, is that any justification for the present practice to continue?

Mr. GARLOCK. I guess it was right for them but wrong for us. But I thank the gentleman.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GARLOCK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, along these lines I just want to call to the attention of the House that I know of these practices being used by a party other than our party yet today, although I will say I have to criticize our administration for allowing them to exist.

I do know of one road job which had about twelve holdover inspectors on it while it had one new inspector on it. The contractor comes along, who is also a contractor who has been doing business with the state for years—they come along and they tell our men who interfered and tried to see that the job was done right that if they want to stay on the job they better get their nose the "H" out of something that does not interest hem.

Those roads were taken over by the Highway Department back in November, and today they are requesting, Republican holdovers are making the request, that we use state money to go out and put maintenance on these same roads.

So I do understand on reliable information that the Republican party in these districts is forcing these same inspectors to contribute to the Republican war chest today.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. STEPHENS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in the interest of a more peaceful atmosphere in this House, I would suggest to the Democratic State Committee that they remove Mr. Tompkins' name from the mailing list.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Sometime ago there was cosponsored by myself and the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, a Resolution asking for an investigation of the selling of farm herds, poultry flocks and things of that nature from the farms connected with the state institutions. I am rather surprised that that Resolution has not been reported out of Committee.

It seems to me that when one man has the say of life or death over millions of dollars worth of orchards, farms, farm herds, poultry flocks, and so forth, which are used by our state welfare institution to help maintain the inmates of those institutions, and to furnish gainful employment and therapy employment for the inmates of those institutions, that it certainly does deserve a thorough investigation by the Members of this House.

I understand that after the resoluion was introduced the gentleman, "Doctor" Shapiro, was somewhat slowed up in his movement to get rid of these farm herds, but that now he has started all over again. In the meantime, I am reliably informed that fifteen acres of cherry trees have been wantonly destroyed at the Farview institution, that the herd up at Retreat in Luzerne County is no more, and that the poultry flock at Norristown has been ordered to be disposed of.

I know for certain that at one state institution farm of this kind the milk produced from the herd and used for the inmates of the institution to maintain them was supplied at a cost of between ten and twelve cents per quart. I also know as a matter of fact that to buy this same milk on the open market would cost between eighteen and nineteen cents a quart.

Now your arithmetic is as good as mine, no doubt, and you can easily see the extra financial burden which is going to be placed upon the taxpayers of this state. If that situation is allowed to exist and this "Doctor" Shapiro is going to be allowed to have his autocratic way, we will dispose of these flocks and herds which have been built up over a long period of years and are now in most places pedigreed herds and flocks.

I also know that an order went out just recently to destroy all the orchards at the Selinsgrove institution, peach trees, apple trees and cherry trees. I also know that the fruit of these orchards—they are among the best orchards in the state, by the way, and so classified by State College—was used for canning and for maintenance at the institution there and the surplus was given to other institutions.

Practically the only excuse I have been able to find why this is being done is because this kind of work, this farm husbandry and taking care of the flocks, and so forth, by inmates of these welfare institutions is not fit work for the inmates of these institutions. That is according only to the opinion of "Doctor" Shapiro, apparently it is not based on any medical testimony or any psychiatric testimony of any nature or kind.

To wantonly destroy these herds and flocks at such an immense cost to the taxpayers of the state, I think is certainly deserving of a thorough investigation by this Legislature. If we are going to sit down here and just hand over taxpayers' money willy-nilly and then let some man come along and by an executive order—and bear in mind this House voted to give this man full control over these institutions. It is my understanding that he recently told one Board of Trustees, "Well, just remember, boys, since the 1955 session you fellows here as Trustees do not any longer have any authority, I have the final say." That is the truth. You just mandated it right over to him. There is no limitation whatsoever on what he can or cannot do as regards these state institution farms.

I am still hoping that the Rules Committee will report this Resolution out so that we can get an investigation started. I do not care whether I am on it or not, the only thing I want is a thorough bipartisan investigation. I do not think it would take very long to find out that the action taken by "Doctor" Shapiro is certainly unwarranted.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman call the Secretary anything he likes, except call him a Doctor. He used to be a Senator, but he never was a Doctor.

The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. AUKER. I assure you, Mr. Speaker, that I am not using the word "Doctor" in complimentary terms. I do not know what the good man is, first he was a Republican and now he is a Democrat. So far as I am concerned, you fellows are welcome to him.

The only thing I want to say is that I do not think this man ought to be allowed to go along with these destructive policies. I do not know what is behind it. Is there something behind it that they can go out on the open market and buy all this farm produce, this milk, and butter, and eggs, at a greatly increased cost? For what purpose? Can I ask the question, is somebody going to get a rake-off? It smells. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to ask Mr. Auker one small question. I sat here about half-awake and listened to a long tirade.

Mr. Auker, who of the livestock dealers is your heart bleeding for? I mean, what association has a squawk here?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman I would sincerely say that I represent no interest whatsoever. Neither here nor in my private practice as a lawyer do I represent anyone who would have any interest whatsoever in the disposal or non-disposal of these state institution flocks and herds. I am speaking for the benefit of the taxpayers of Pennsylvania.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BELL. I rise to a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, is it proper for a Member of this House to cast uncomplimentary aspersions as to the purpose of another Member speaking on the floor?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would hold that so far no aspersions have leveled at anybody except some mysterious association.

The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I understand that in the years gone by, presumably under a Republican administration, certain livestock dealers have been accustomed to going to these farms where they raise this livestock and at a very nominal figure purchase small calves and different livestock of a pure-bred strain. They purchase these small, young animals at a very nominal figure, much cheaper, a much better animal than they can raise themselves. Is this true?

The SPEAKER. Has the gentleman finished his interrogation or is that a question?

Mr. MAXWELL. That is a question. I want to know if this is true. Have they previously been able to purchase these pure-bred animals, prize animals, at a very nominal figure? Is this true?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I would say I have not any knowledge of that whatsoever.

In further reply, I would that if there was such a condition it should have been investigated, it should not have been allowed. In further reply to the gentleman, I would say that even though that condition did exist, it has nothing to do with the Resolution about which I just spoke on the entire disposal of all these flocks and herds at these state farm institutions.

I understand these poultry flocks, and herds, swine herds, and so forth, were built up by and with the advice of our State Agricultural College and are now in excellent condition and it would take years, and years, and years to build them up to their efficiency as they exist today.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MAXWELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it is not very often I take the floor, but I just cannot sit here and have another Member of the House make statements which I believe are untrue. Mr. Shapiro is no particular friend of mine, I do not even know the gentleman, but from what I can understand the purpose back of Mr. Shapiro's movement in eliminating these different herds of livestock is that the state for years has been raising pure-bred livestock for the benefit of certain people in this state and not for the benefit of all of the citizens of this state, only for certain privileged individuals, and it was being paid for by the general public's money.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for the benefit of our good friend, Dr. Maxwell, I think he has been very ill-advised. I can talk from experience because I tried to buy a thoroughbred heifer calf from the Warren State Hospital and the price was so exorbitant that I could not afford to buy it. I had to go out in the open market and I bought one I thought was equally as good for half the money.

I believe that had there been such a deal going on I could have at least bought one at the price that I could buy one from some regular dealer.

So I think this is purely poppycock. I think he has been listening to some fairy tales. I think our good friend, or whatever you want to call him—and I will not refer to him as a "Doctor," but I will refer to him as a screwball I believe this conscientiously, that he is in much more in need of psychiatric treatment than are the people whom he is supervising.

Mr. BRETH. I speak for the silent Member in this argument—B-a-a-a.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Cities—Counties—First Class to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. SARRAF asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Ways and Means to meet during the session of the House.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 166, entitled:

An Act amending the "Local Tax Enabling Law * * *," temporarily excluding under certain conditions taxes imposed on real property transfers in certain school districts in determining tax limitations

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1153, entitled:

An Act amending the "Local Tax Enabling Law * * *," increasing the overall limit of tax revenues for school districts of the second third and fourth class and increasing the maximum tax on house trailers in school districts

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2089, entitled:

An Act to amend the preamble and section one of the act approved the twentieth day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Act No. 75-A) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the construction of armory facilities, under certain conditions" by providing that the Federal Government pay a portion of the cost of each facility.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2094, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) changing the provisions for the determination of projects in hardship cases

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2104, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 7, 1937 (P. L. 589) entitled as amended "An act providing for the taking over by the Commonwealth * * * of certain streets in cities of the first class as State highways * * * changing certain routes and adding a new route

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 572, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" authorizing issuance of special temporary permits for the retail sale of malt or brewed beverages at baseball parks under certain circumstances

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. VAUGHAN offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 433.1), page 5, lines 15 and 16, by striking out "with a seating capacity of twenty-five thousand (25,000) or more."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, these amendments permit ball clubs like Reading, Scranton, Harrisburg and the rest that are playing minor league baseball to also have the privilege of selling beer. I believe the beer bill as it is now drawn only includes Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

I think this should be a statewide bill. If it is good enough for Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, it should be good enough for Harrisburg, Reading, Scranton, Williamsport and the rest of the ball parks.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vaughan.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vaughan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VAUGHAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I was given a copy of Mr. Vaughan's amendments the other day, but I cannot find them. I would like to inquire whether his amendments would make the provisions of this bill apply to every ball park in this Commonwealth?

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, every enclosed ball park.

Mr. READINGER. Every enclosed ball park regardless of size, is that correct, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. VAUGHAN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Are the amendments restricted to commercial baseball organizations, or would it apply to a high school ball park that is enclosed, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. VAUGHAN. I can only answer that by asking you a question in return.

Mr. READINGER. I would be glad to answer, if I can.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Does the bill as it is apply to commercial clubs?

Mr. READINGER. I think it applies to commercial organizations which have 25,000, or more, seating capacity.

Mr. VAUGHAN. All this applies to is commercial organizations that have enclosed ball parks.

Mr. READINGER. Regardless of seating capacity?

Mr. VAUGHAN. That is correct.

Mr. READINGER. In other words, if the seating capacity were 200, they would still be eligible to get a license?

Mr. VAUGHAN. If it were 120, they would still be eligible to get that license.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I do not think these amendments are wise. There is a question as to whether the bill itself is wise, but surely these amendments do not add anything that will enhance the welfare of the Commonwealth, in my opinion.

I am not too familiar with baseball. Perhaps I should be, but I am not. I suppose we have what they call 'Little League Parks" where the children have their tournaments, or their baseball games, and so forth, and if I understand these amendments correctly, they would be allowed to sell beer there. Maybe they would not, but the amendments would authorize them to do so.

I think we would be much wiser to defeat these amendments and consider this bill as to whether it is good or bad for the Commonwealth in its present form, restricted to the two major ball parks in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to Mr. Readinger, the Little Leagues, so-called "Pony Leagues," and so forth, are not commercial setups at all. As he stated previously, it is a commercial bill for commercial ball parks.

Furthermore, the only thing I hear is that the ball clubs in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia are losing money and this is going to help to take them off the hook. If they are losing money, I wonder what these minor league ball clubs are doing. I know they need as much help as Pittsburgh and Philadelphia need.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is unable to decide.

Whereupon, a division was had, less than a majority having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second and third sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 933, Printer's No. 556, and

Senate Bill No. 972, Printer's No. 538

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. REIDENBACH offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, lines 5 and 6, by striking out "ten thousand dollars ($10,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof "twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 7, by inserting a bracket before "four" and after "$4,000)" and inserting immediately thereafter "five thousand dollars ($5,000)"; Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 1), page 2, lines 8 and 9, by inserting a bracket before "four" in lien 8 and after "($4,500)" in line 9 and inserting immediately thereafter "six thousand dollars ($6,000)."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. REIDENBACH offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 1, next to last line of title, by inserting after "mayor" "the controller, councilmen."

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1002, entitled:

An Act amending the act of January 8, 1952 (P. L. 1851) entitled "An act providing for the sentencing of persons convicted of certain crimes to an indeterminate sentence having a minimum of one day and a maximum of life in certain cases authorizing the criminal courts to impose such a sentence and certain temporary confinement in connection therewith requiring psychiatric examinations of such persons before the imposition of such a sentence conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Welfare and the Pennsylvania Board of Parole and providing for the parole and reparole or absolute discharge of persons so sentenced and the procedure relating thereto" regulating bail for persons charged with commission of sex crimes

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1057, entitled:

An Act amending the "Flood Control Law" of August 7, 1936 * * * authorizing the board to enter into contracts and agreements with Authorities created under any act of Assembly

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1774, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 20, 1915 (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" extending the time for claiming credit for service with a school district of the first class and increasing the time of service which may be claimed

APPROPRIATIONS

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1243, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" * * * providing for annual payments by the Commonwealth to school districts and vocational school districts on account of expenses for educational television broadcasts by nonprofit educational television stations and making an appropriation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, just coming into the House and some of these appropriation bills not being either approved or disapproved—I would assume most of them will be approved—I wonder if prior to the vote on each one of them the Majority Leader, or someone on the majority side, would be kind enough to just explain the bill in case any Member would like to vote against it or to ask that it be passed over.

These bills, for the sake of the Members on this side of the House, have not been cleared in our caucus and they are now on third reading. If there is no opposition to them after the explanation, we could support them. I am sure if there is any opposition the Majority Leader will pass them over.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. With the approval of the Majority and Minority Leaders, the Chair will pass over these appropriation bills until the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee is present on the floor of the House.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 980, Printer's No. 1673, and

House Bill No. 981, Printer's No. 1679,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. MOSCRIP. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Can someone advise me as to the last printer's number on House bills that we should have in our folder? I have a pile of bills on my desk, but I think some of these bills you are considering are not on the Members' desks. I think the last one was one of them. Can the Chair clarify it?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. What is the last Printer's No. on the Members' desks?

Mr. READINGER. The last Printer's No. is 1677.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I believe the bill that was just considered was Printer's No. 1679. I do not think we should consider anything that is not on the Members' desks.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. 1677 is the last printer's number on the Members' desks.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I thank the Chair.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. We will not consider any bills that are not in print.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1544, Printer's No. 1533,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1574, entitled:

An Act authorizing the City of Philadelphia to accept the conveyance under certain conditions of the site of Fort Mifflin

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 987, entitled.

An Act amending the act of May 1 1933 (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" further regulating the payment by cities and boroughs for certain improvements and facilities in portions of the township annexed by them.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, this Senate bill is a companion bill to another Senate bill, the number of which I do not know. But there are provisions in Senate Bill 987 which will not make sense unless the other bill is voted on at the same time.

I, therefore, would like to request the Chair to pass this bill over until the companion bill is on the calendar, or reported from Committee, so we will understand them and can read the two of them together.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would suggest to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, that the bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar so that his remarks will be in the record.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON SENATE BILL No. 833

Mrs. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 833, Printer's No. 327, entitled 'An act amending the act of May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103) entitled 'An act concerning townships of the second class and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto' authorizing townships to improve public streets or roads without petition and collect the costs thereof from owners of abutting properties," was defeated on final passage on April 4, 1956, be reconsidered.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the lady from Lehigh, Mrs. Markley vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mrs. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Davis vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mrs. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would suggest and recommend to the House that we now take a recess until 2:00 o'clock for the purpose of having lunch and that we do return at that time.

The Chairman of the Appropriations Committee will be here and we can get the explanations of the various appropriation bills which are on the calendar.

There are a great number of controversial bills which we are going to bring up this afternoon, so I certainly hope all of the Members will return here at the end of the recess.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. THOMAS from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported as amended, House Bill No. 2080, entitled:

An Act to amend the "Transfer Inheritance Tax Law" * * *, by providing for the allowance of deductions in certain cases and by clarifying the procedure for the determination of the allowability of deductions.

Mr. KRATZ from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 470, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" * * *, changing in certain cases the limitations as to width of vehicles and loads allowed on the highways.

Mr. THOMAS from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 820, entitled:

An Act amending the "Cigarette Tax Act" * * *, declaring the taxes to be a levy on the consumers and imposing duties on dealers.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Resolution (not printed) re Dr. Catharine Macfarlane.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Pursuant to the resolution adopted February 28, 1956, bills reported from Committee as committed were read the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 470, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" * * *, changing in certain cases the limitations as to width of vehicles and loads allowed on the highways.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 820, entitled:

An Act amending the "Cigarette Tax Act" * * *, declaring the taxes to be a levy on the consumers and imposing duties on dealers.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chairman now declares a recess until 2:00 o'clock. The Chair hears no objection.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

MR. HELM IN THE CHAIR.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WORLEY. RESOLUTION No. 167.

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1956.

The time is approaching when various communities adopt "Daylight Saving Time," which results in lack of uniformity and confusion among the citizenry of this Commonwealth.

Even though it might be desirable and in some instances economically expedient in some areas of the Commonwealth to adopt "Daylight Saving Time," it is submitted that confusion would be eliminated if all clocks and time pieces remained on "standard Time"; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives strongly urge all communities that adopt any standard of time other than that prescribed by law, not to change the actual time on clocks and time pieces.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION

Mr. STEPHENS offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. TOLL from the Committee on Cities—Counties First Class, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 633, entitled:

An Act repealing the last paragraph of section 5, act of May 23, 1874 (P. L. 230), entitled "An act dividing the cities of this state into three classes, regulating the passage of ordinances, providing for contracts for supplies and work for said cities, authorizing the increase of indebtedness, and the creating of a sinking fund to redeem the same, defining and punishing certain offenses in all of said cities, and providing for the incorporation and government of cities of the third class," which requires publication each year of a statement of all delinquent taxpayers in cities of the first class.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Pursuant to the resolution adopted February 28, 1956, bills reported from Committee as committed were read the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 633, entitled.

An Act repealing the last paragraph of section 5 act of May 23, 1874 (P. L. 230) entitled "An act dividing the cities of this state into three classes regulating the passage of ordinances providing for contracts for supplies and work for said cities authorizing the increase of indebtedness and the creation of a sinking fund to redeem the same defining and punishing certain offenses in all of said cities and providing for the incorporation and government of cities of the third class" which requires publication each year of a statement of all delinquent taxpayers in cities of the first class.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1243, entitled.

An Act amending the act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" providing for annual payments by the Commonwealth to school districts and vocational school districts on account of expenses for educational television broadcasts by non-profit educational television stations and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like as these bills are called up to have the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee explain them. I do not think the gentleman should do it in just one broad statement, but as these appropriation bills are called up I wish he would tell briefly just what each bill is going to do and how much money is needed, so the Members on this side know what they are voting on.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1243 provides $75 thousand for educational television. It provides for 50 per cent reimbursement and I believe the amount was reduced to 20 cents per pupil. The original bill called for $200 thousand and we reduced it in Committee to the figure of $75 thousand.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally??

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2069, entitled:

An Act authorizing the appointment of a House committee for the purpose of making a study and investigation and legislative recommendations relating to subsistence of surface soil in anthracite coal mining regions and the damages occurring as a result of such subsistence conferring powers and imposing duties on the committee and making an appropriation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MOODY. Mr. Speaker, I notice in the title of this bill the word is "subsistence" and it should be "subsidence." I would suggest the title be amended at the time the other amendments are offered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the gentleman, the amendments make that correction in the title.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, we will let House Bill 2069 go over until we have a chance to see whether the amount in the bill is sufficient to cover both anthracite and bituminous.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 2069, Printer's No. 1617,

was passed over at the request of Mr. POLEN.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2100, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the committee appointed by the House of Representatives and the Governor to study and investigate all phases of the operation * * * under which the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission is and has been functioning and operating

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2100 provides $25 thousand for the expenses of the committee appointed by this House to study and investigate all phases of the operation under which the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission is and has been functioning and operating.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, while we are not objecting to the bill, I think I might have to object to its being called up at this time.

We have $25 thousand in here for this investigation. It probably is an honest figure, I do not know, but I understand and I am only questioning this on the basis—and I may be wrong on my figures—that the Morganza investigation and the Laurelton investigation, the public hearings, studies and everything else, ran approximately $6,500. Am I right on that, or not?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Don't you think we could come to a little bit better agreement as to figures? I mean, is it going to take three times as much work to do this? It seems that the figure of $25 thousand is completely out of line with the past investigations and studies that we had.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, this matter was discussed with the Governor's office and the Attorney General's office, and it would seem that in this particular investigation there is going to be an audit made and the greater part of the expense, as I understand it, will be in connection with the audit.

As a matter of fact, the Members of the Committee originally requested $75 thousand, which I felt was excessive. I discussed the matter with the Governor personally and he told me he would concur in $25 thousand, which he thought could do the job. As I understand it, a good part of this will go for auditing.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. If the gentleman does not mind, I would like to pass this one over. Mr. Tompkins, the gentleman from Cameron, was going to debate the bill and he is not here at this time. Possibly in the meantime, if you could get us some figures as to how it is to be used, we probably would not even debate it. But we would like to have some more figures available, Mr. Polen.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it will be agreeable to pass the bill over at this time.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2102, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Treasurer for the purpose of paying salaries and wages of State officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses in the interim between the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and such time as the funds provided by the General Appropriation Act and other appropriation acts become available and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2102 is a stop-gap appropriation for $20 million. Sometime in April this amount will be needed, unless the general appropriation and other appropriation bills have passed the Senate. Of course, this amount will be deducted from the appropriations in the final bills.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me what the situation is as to raising this money? Do we have it, or will we have to have tax anticipation notes, or just what is the status?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the amount of $20 million is available from the taxes now on the books.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Can the gentleman tell me what has been the general situation with state employes, whether there has been a frequency of missed paydays or whether salaries have been kept current?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that all salaries have been kept current.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

I just wanted to get a comparison of this situation with that of our school appropriations and teachers' salaries.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 905, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire by gift ninety-three acres more or less of land with buildings thereon in the City of Pittsburgh Allegheny County for maintenance by the Department of Health as a sanitorium or hospital for the reception and treatment of indigent persons affected with tuberculosis and making an appropriation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 905 authorizes the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire by gift ninety-three acres of land, more or less, and the buildings thereon in the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, for maintenance by the Department of Health as a sanitorium or hospital. It provides for an appropriation $700,500 for the operation from January 1, 1957, to May 31, 1957. The bill originally introduced called for approximately $1,700,000 and had an earlier effective date, but was amended in Committee so it could be brought within the financial limitations of the money we thought we would have available.

Mr. WEIDNER. Senate Bill 905 provides that the Department of Property and Supplies acquire by gift 93 acres, more or less, with buildings thereon, in the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, for maintenance by the Department of Health as a sanitorium or hospital for the reception and treatment of indigent persons affected with tuberculosis, and making an appropriation.

This bill gives a full description as to the location of the land and property, and from what I understand, it is none other than what is known as the hospital at Leech Farm.

I am opposed to this legislation because it is nothing other than pure discrimination to all other similar institutions throughout the state that are being maintained through taxes by local citizens in the counties they are located.

For example, we in Berks County support and maintain our Tuberculosis Institution at the expense of $200 thousand per year by local taxation, and from what I am told all other institutions except Philadelphia are doing likewise.

I ask the Members of this House who have a similar institution in your county and supported entirely by your local taxpayers, is it fair that we shall continue to do so, while others ask to have this Commonwealth take over and maintain theirs at the expense of all taxpayers in the state? Remember, you are not only helping to pay for your institution, but you are also helping to pay for those taken over by and maintained by the state.

On May 4, 1955, I introduced House Bill 1121, in which I requested that the Secretary of Health shall cause to be paid out of the appropriation to each political subdivision or institution district an amount equivalent to one-half the actual annual cost, not to exceed $5.00 per patient per diem, to the political subdivision or institution district for the medical care and treatment rendered to and maintenance of all persons treated for pulmonary tuberculosis in hospitals, wings, or pavilions of hospitals and isolation wards of general hospitals of the respective political subdivisions or institution districts and for medical care purchased as aforesaid for their pulmonary tuberculosis patients during the preceding year.

This bill provided that $6 million, or as much thereof as may be necessary, be appropriated to the Department of Health for the use of all political subdivisions or institution district of the Commonwealth for the fiscal biennium beginning June 1, 1955.

A very short time after I introduced House Bill 1121 I was introduced to an Assistant City Solicitor of Pittsburgh, who asked me if I would have any objection to having another bill drawn up in which the request would be made for an amount of $7.31 per patient per diem instead of the $5.00 requested in House Bill No. 1121.

It seemed rather foolish to me to have another bill printed because the only change was in the amount from $5.00 to $7 31, which could have been inserted through an amendment to House Bill 1121, nevertheless, I agreed to go along and on May 24th, House Bill 1436 was introduced with the signatures of Dr. Sarraf, Mr. Kamyk and myself.

I do not think either one of these bills were ever considered in Committee, but now we have before us Senate Bill 905 which simply provides that we who are helping to support our local county tuberculosis institution 100 per cent are also asked to support the institution in Pittsburgh so as to satisfy a certain group.

Again let me say to you Members who are living in a county where a similar institution exists and where your people are supporting it entirely, how can you explain this to the people you represent if you vote favorably on this bill. This is nothing other than discrimination and all institutions of this kind should be treated alike.

I therefore ask every Member to vote "no" on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. WEIDNER, ESHLEMAN and WOOD. The roll was verified and was as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 871, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 22 1955 (Appropriation Acts No 29A) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Department of Public Instruction for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and making appropriations to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursements to school districts" increasing the amount of the appropriation for state eachers colleges.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 971 makes an appropriation of $1,500,000 to the Department of Public Instruction. The amount originally as passed by this House and the Senate was $15 million. This amends Act 29A by increasing that amount to $16,500,000 and makes an additional $1,500,000 available for the state teachers colleges. This additional appropriation is needed due to the greatly increased enrollment at the state teachers colleges.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to vote against the appropriation, but I think possibly this time is a good place to point out the position we are in in Pennsylvania as to all our state teachers colleges.

We are not getting nearly the percentage of graduates from these state teachers colleges we should get to teach in Pennsylvania. In other words, the problem has long been here. I think it is recognized generally, that a great many—I will not say a majority, but possibly as high as 30 or 35 per cent, and maybe higher—of our graduates of state teachers colleges for which the taxpayers of this state pay possibly half of their education do not teach in this state. The other states are gobbling them up at our expense because they pay, for one thing, bigger salaries.

I think it is a good place now to point this thing out. I think it is a subject for considerable study by somebody over the next two years to see if this problem cannot be solved. As it is now, we are pouring a lot of money down a rat hole because we are not getting the returns for the money expended.

The state colleges are necessary, I know that, but we are not getting the returns from them that we should have for the amount of money we are putting into them.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would concur in what the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, says. Quite a number of teachers who receive their education at the expense of the Commonwealth do not teach in Pennsylvania.

I would further concur that possibly our salary schedule has something to do with it, but I also point out that there are a number of people attending the state teachers colleges and using them for receiving a liberal arts education and do not teach in Pennsylvania or any other state.

I believe what he said should be studied. I suggest that such a study be made to determine if there is not some way whereby we can, when we educate these men and women who are attending the state teachers colleges, to see that they have an obligation either to teach in Pennsylvania or to pay for their tuition.

Nevertheless, Mr. Speaker, the amount of money is necessary at this time and I believe we should all vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 973, entitled:

An Act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth by the reduction of unemployment in certain areas of the Commonwealth determined to be critical economic areas providing for the establishment of industrial development projects in such areas creating The Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to allocate funds for and make secured loans to industrial development agencies for the payment of a part of the cost of industrial development projects in critical economic areas authorizing the Authority to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency or industrial development agency empowering the Authority to take title to sell convey and lease industrial development projects where necessary to protect loans made by the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority on industrial development projects providing that no debt of the Commonwealth its municipalities or powers granted by this act and providing for the examination political subdivisions shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the accounts and affairs of the Authority and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 973 creates the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority and makes an appropriation of $5 million.

In this House we passed the original industrial development authority bill, I believe, which called for $20 million. That bill was not considered in the Senate, and the bill we have before us, Senate Bill 973, is a bipartisan effort to bring about and create the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority to get more industry in Pennsylvania.

I believe the bill is sound and should be supported.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if moneys loaned under this bill by the state to municipalities to further the payment of establishing industries in any municipality does not have to be repaid to the state? Does that money come back to the state?

Mr. POLEN. Yes, that money comes back to the state, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Then this is just a loan by the state. Does it bear interest? I do not believe it bears interest?

Mr. POLEN. Yes, the loans would bear interest. This amount is the initial amount the state would use and appropriate to this authority to get the program going. It would be a continuing thing and it would turn over as the money was repaid and would continue the operation of the authority.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
